MIKE DONLIN. Pinch Hitter, Giants. Louis Heilbroner, now the president of the Central League, was manager of the St. Louis Cardinals for five at a time when Johnny McGraw and Mike Donlin became members of that team through a trade. Even at that time Mike was, decidedly "chesty", and his frequent clashes with the umpires caused him to be known as a umpires caused him to be known as a "bad boy". Suspensions caused Donlin to occupy the bench the greater part of the time, and finally this forced McGraw to confer with Heilbroher.

"Mr. Manager," said Johnny, "I think we could win more games if we could keep Mike off the bench. Can't you do something to stop him fighting with the umpires?" with the umpires? Heilbroner, who is about four feet, eleven inches tall, assumed as much dignity as possible and emphatically declared, "I'll stop him. I'll fine him the next time he is put out of the game by an umpire.'

That same afternoon as Umpire O'-Day walked to the Cardinal's playing bench to get the batting order, Donlin greeted him with:

CUPFUL OF GOLD PRESENTED How They Stand

Miss Lehman Celebrates 50th Anniver-sary of Connection as Teacher in Salem College.

SH-H-H-M-

(Special Star Telegram.) Winston-Salem, N. C., May 25 .- A notable incident in connection with the meeting of alumnae association of Salem Female College this afternoon was the honor conferred upon Miss Emma Lehman in celebration of her 50th year of continuous service as a teacher in the Salem Academy and College. The honor came in the form of a handsome loving cup filled with gold coins, contributed by for-mer students of the college now residing in many sections of the country. In addition to this was also presented a magnificently bound memorial volume which contained letters from contributors. The book is bound in a combination of leather and native wood and was inscribed in gold. This token of esteem was presented by Miss Mary Louise Strowd, of Chapel Hill, who was a member of the class of 1911. Miss Lehman taught six years in public schools before becoming a member of Salem College faculty. It is claimed her record is unequalled by any teacher in America.

Memorial gifts were presented to the memorial fund by Miss Carolyne Robinson, of New York, for the juniors; by Miss Olivia Miller, of North Carolina, for the sophomores; by Miss Elizabeth Butner, of North Caroina, for the freshman class. An interesting fact was presented in the announcement made that one-third of the class of 1878 were in attendance upon the meeting this afternoon. The annual literary address, which will mark the close of the 112th annual commencement of the college, will be delivered tomorrow by Dr. James Burrell, of New York.
