WAS PURCHASED THE EVERGLADE
Will Be Operated After Next Tuesday

Mr. J. T. Newman, proprietor of the Junction Restaurant, has purchased the Everglade Cafe from Mr. J. Fred Russ. The bill of sale having been filed for record yesterday, Mr. Newman will close the Everglade for repairs until next Tuesday, when it will be reopened as Newman's Cafe, after which time Mr. Newman will vacate his present location and serve the patrons of both establishments at his new stand.

As announced some time ago, the Bear Estate, owning the building in which the Junction is located, will erect thereon a handsome new business structure. Mr. J. Irving Bear, managing the estate, stated yesterday that work on the new structure will not be started until the latter part of August, as the Tidewater Power Company does not vacate the second floor, where it has its transportation offices, until that time. Mr. Bear, in the meantime, will probably rent the first floor for the months of June, July and the early part of August.

AFTER MANY DAYS
Old Sol Again Greets Wilmington With the Smile of Summer.

After many days of dreary rain, to which was added the unattractive Northeast wind that makes all the world seem sad and commonplace, old Sol again greeted Wilmingtonians yesterday with the cheery smile of summer and once again it was hot and everything assumed a bright and happy look.

Verily, summer is surely here this time, if the forecast of Weather Observer Peiger can be relied upon. It won't be long now until thousands will be seeking the beach and all the dreary days of the past will be forgotten while the joy, the gladness and the happiness of youth reigns supreme for a season.

THEATRICAL
Today the Bijou presents that great American Naval Review which was due for Tuesday, but did not arrive owing to a missed connection. The picture is the only one of its kind ever taken, showing the most imposing array of Uncle Sam's fighting ships ever assembled in an American port at one time. The picture is doubly inspiring, as first is shown the commander of the different divisions and then the divisions of battleships themselves as the President's yacht Mayflower steamed past them at anchor in New York harbor.
