DEATH OF MR. N. H. JONES. Lumberton Loses One of Its Oldest and Most Highly Esteemed Citizens.

(Special Star Correspondence.) Lumberton, N. C., June 6.—In the death of Mr. N. H. Jones, as reported in this morning's Star, Lumberton has lost one of its oldest and most highly esteemed citizens. Mr. Jones was born in Nansemond county, Virginia, near Suffolk, Sept. 8th, 1838. When quite a young man, he came to Robeson county, and on the 2nd of September, 1860, he married Miss Emily Rhodes. He served throughout the war between the states, at the close of which he returned to Robeson and in March, 1869, moved to Lumberton, where he has since resided. Upon his removal to Lumberton, Mr. Jones engaged in business and later was associated with the late Mr. A. C. Melke, under the firm name of Melke & Jones, which firm was one of the largest in Lumberton at that period.

After several years successful business the firm dissolved, each again entering into business alone. Mr. Jones continued in business until 1902, since which time he has lived a quiet, retired life, spending almost his entire time at his residence. Mr. Jones was of a quiet, retiring disposition and whom to know was to love him. He adhered strictly to his own affairs, never interfering with the affairs of others, and no one ever heard him speak ill of another. He was the last member of one of Virginia's oldest families, being survived in that State only by distant relatives.

The widow, one daughter, Mrs. Mollie Pope, and two sons, Messrs N. H. Jones and William Jones, survive him. The funeral will be conducted from the residence tomorrow at 10:30, by Rev. C. L. Greaves, pastor of the First Baptist church, of which Mr. Jones was for many years a faithful member, and the interment will be in Meadow Brook cemetery.

Mrs. J. C. Thompson, of Fork, S. C., who has been critically ill in the Thompson Hospital here for several days, died tonight. The remains will be carried to her home on the morning train.

Mr. Henry Hammond, 65 years old, died at his home near Allenton, today.

THEATRICAL

Always right up to the minute with the very latest there is in the way of timely features for their patrons, the Bijou announces for exhibition today that great four-act feature Universal production, "Court-Martialed," one of the most timely war and military dramas of the year.

"Court-Martialed" tells a thrilling and stirring tale of life in the French army on the field, and right at this time when one reads daily accounts of the bloody action across the waters, this mammoth four-act production should be especially appealing to everyone. And, too, it has been enacted by an all-star cast, including four of Universal's very strongest dramatists—Hubert Henley, Frances Nelson, Alben Hobbar and William Welsh; also Howard Crampton.

Y. M. C. A. AND THE GIANTS FIGHT TO TIE AT SUNSET

Register and Hamilton Work in Hard Fought Game

Game Between W. L. I. and Boys' Brigade Forfeited to Latter—Only Six W. L. I. Players on Ground in Uniform the Cause.

Well matched in every respect, the Giants and Y. M. C. A. teams of the City League, battled to an eight-inning tie at Sunset Park Saturday afternoon. The game was fast throughout, Register and Hamilton were in first-class shape and were given reasonably good support. The second game which was to have been played between the W. L. I. and Boys' Brigade was forfeited to the latter team when only six of the former appeared on the ground in uniform when play was called.

The first game was featured by the steady pitching of both Register and Hamilton, the throwing of Norman Sheppard and the batting of Morton for the Y. M. C. A., who gathered three singles out of four trips to the plate and closely pushed by Charlie Burnett, who got two out of three and allowed 9 hits, while Hamilton and allowed 8 hits, while Hamilton struck out 11 and allowed 8. An exhibition game was played in Philadelphia, among six of the eight clubs and shifts in the standing are frequent. Pittsburgh was not actually disclosed from the leadership during the week, although Chicago worked into a tie for first place through Monday's games and Kansas City caught up with the leaders on two other occasions, only to

MAJOR LEAGUE RACES ARE TIGHTENING UP

Both Chicago Teams Weakened During Week's Play.

Philadelphia Climbing in National Circuit While Detroit Pushing Chicago for First Place in the American League.

New York, June 6.—Tightening up of the races in the major leagues featured last week's play. Both the Chicago teams made poor work of it and each is threatened today by a rival for the lead. Philadelphia is close behind the Cubs, with Brooklyn chasing Philadelphia, while the White Sox are hanging on to the top by a few points over Detroit.

While the Boston Red Sox played the most consistent ball of the week the attention of fans in the American circuit was centered largely on the spectacular work of the Detroit and especially on that of Ty Cobb. Spectators declare Cobb is playing the game of his career. Not only is he leading the league in batting, in stolen bases and in runs scored, but in game after game he is doing something that pulls his club out a winner, frequently against odds. Also he and his teammates, seem to be working better together than in many past seasons. As a result the Tigers generally are counted among the most dangerous contenders for the pennant.

The White Sox are clinging to the lead with tenacious grip. They were close to being displaced early in the week, but rallied. Urban Faber helped along by winning his eighth straight game. In Boston now they are in the midst of a series with the Red Sox, with honors so far even.

New York is fast slipping out of the first division, the team having won only two of its last thirteen games. Washington can hardly be said to have improved and there has been no notable difference in the work of either St. Louis or Philadelphia. Cleveland has been picking up.

The National League continues to maintain much the prettier fight. So closely are the teams bunched that as the new playing period began Chicago, in the lead, was separated from the New Yorks at the bottom by only five games.

The most notable progress of the week was made by the Brooklyn who won five out of eight games. Chicago is in the throes of another old-time tussle with the Giants, but no question of leadership is involved. The Giants apparently are on the upgrade, while the Cubs have been slipping recently. Today, however, the batting eyes returned and they outslugged the Giants.

The Bostons failed to do anything to improve their standing, closing their home stay weekly, but coming out a winner today in Cincinnati. Philadelphia failed to take advantage of the Clubs' indifferent work, which explains why the Quakers are still in second place. St. Louis, Pittsburg and Cincinnati are close together with changes in their relative standing possible in the play of a day or two.

WILSON TO HAVE "WHITE WAY"

Joins the More Progressive Towns of the State in Decorative Feature.

(Special Star Correspondence.) Wilson, June 6.—Within the next month, Wilson will take a place among the most progressive of North Carolina municipalities. Nash street—the leading retail business street—is to be made a "White Way," and the Merchants' Association is responsible for the movement. Representatives of the General Electric Company appeared before a meeting of the citizens Friday night and explained the system of installing lights, and it was determined to add this feature to the other recent municipal improvements. Committees are now at work securing the money for the installation of the lights, and the board of commissioners has agreed to furnish the electric current. Each block will have a total of 8,000 candle power light, and these will be installed on ornamental posts along each side of the street, each block having eight 1,000 candle power lamps. The Merchants' Association proposes after completing the work on Nash street, to start the movement on Tarboro and Goldsboro streets.
