Convinced That Germany and America Have Misunderstood Each Other

DISCUSSES AMMUNITION

Says Majority of American People Disapprove Furnishing Munitions.

Berlin, June 29, (By Wireless to Sayville)-Dr. Anton Meyer-Gerhard, the attache of the German colonial office, who was sent from the United States to Berlin by the German ambassador, Count von Bernstorff, to explain the views of the United States regarding the Lusitania case, published an article in Der Tag today on "Germany and America," in which he says his experiences convinced him that the two countries misunderstood each other.

"It is true," says Dr. Meyer-Gernard, that the American press, with some laudable exceptions, especially German-American papers, have not the influence of the press upon public on road transpopinion is sometimes greatly over-estiwill be slower.

A popular vote would show a considerable majority against the practice. Germans must discriminate between business men accepting orders and the great mass of the American

"Equally there are Americans who condemn violation of Belgian neutrality and the sinking of the Lusitania and are unable to understand the German idea of the real conditions, while Germans are unable to understand how Americans could travel on an ammunition ship. The Lokal Anzeiger, which also printed the article, commenting editorially on it, said:

"The foregoing instructive and cheering remarks by Dr. Meyer-Gerhard show that the Imperial Government is on the right road with its treatment questions existing between us and he United States. It is o be wished also that those circles which heretofore have been inclined to make light of our differences with America as being itterly unimportant will let themselves be taught better by Dr. Meyer-Gerhard's words."

> Tenantry Especially.

Detroit, Mich., June 29 .- "Labor conditions in the South," and "Industrial Progress in New England," were the opics taken up today by the convention here of the Association of Governmental Labor Officials of the United States and Canada. M. L. Shipman, Labor Commissioner of North Carolina, discussed the labor situation in Southern states.

"Tenant labor in the South, taken as a whole, is not what may be called satisfactory," said Mr. Shipman. "The principal reason for this situation is the fact that the large supply of fresh land available makes the tenant farmer careless of fertilization and general improvement. Few farms in the South are cultivated to the full."
