PRESBYTERIAN HOSTS LEAVE FAYETTEVILLE

Final Session of Synod Devoted dress by the president, Mrs. T. A. to Committee Reports

Report On Young People's Work -Resolution of Thanks Is Adopted.

(Special Star Correspondence.) Fayetteville, Nov. 2 .- The night session which marked the adjournment of the 104th annual meeting of the North Carolina Synod last night was devoted for the most part to hearing and passing on reports from Synodical committees. Rev. J. G. Garth, chairman of the Synod's Committee on Young People's Work, outlined the year's activities of that body. He reence at Montreat, June 20-30, 1918; orin all churches; using the Christian Endeavor as a model wherever practicable, and the ultimate formation of States constitution. a young people's society for the entire Synod.

It is not every day that a city has an opportunity to play the host to so distinguished a body of men as a Presbyterian synod, or one whose personnel is marked by so fine a spirit, and the efforts of the townspeople to entertain their guests-were-well repaid. The people of Fayetteville will look forward to the day when it will come of fomenting another revolution their turn to entertain the Synod
