

BOYS OF 30TH DID THE "IMPOSSIBLE" Broke Line the Huns Claimed Couldn't Be Broken.

One Man Alone in the Carolina-Tennessee Outfit Took 96 Prisoners—Lieut. Daniel Writes of Great Victory.

By EMMETT BROWN. Goldsboro, Nov. 3.—"It was great and we are tired, but happy. We broke the line that all Germans claimed could not be broken, and the men from North Carolina, South Carolina and Tennessee did it with such dash and determination that a Boche prisoner told me that if all American fighters were like these that the Germans could not hold out longer. As a matter of fact, they are not holding up anywhere, but we did not know it," declares Lieut. Thome Daniel in a letter written to his parents in this city, in which he gives a vivid description of the recent great battle and the part taken in it by Goldsboro soldiers in France.

"At 3:30 a. m. Sept. 29, our artillery put down a creeping barrage," says Lieut. Daniel's letter. "We had assembled quite a big number of guns for this work, and it was some artillery show. To begin with, in the dawn of the early morning light, and exactly one hour, the men went over the top in perfect waves and held close to the creeping barrage. Soon the first line of the machine gunners came forward with a rush. Soon the second line and then the third. The men in the first waves fought down to the village of B— and soon cleared it. An hour later, by dash we were at the village of Hindenburg, defense systems taken by our men, and late in the afternoon we reached our objective, a depth of 2-1/2 miles.

"This fight will go down in history and will be remembered by the three of us. I can remember and honor their sons and brothers who fought and gloriously died on this field of battle. Never had I dreamed of such bravery—the place was alive with machine guns—thousands of them. Many of the men were cut off from their officers but this did not stop them, for they only knew one thing, to kill Huns, and kill Huns they did. They rushed machine gunners and machine gunners and machine gunners, all leaving nothing behind but dead Huns and battered guns.

"Capt. Zeno Hollowell, from home, and his company were shut off and for three hours were subject to a rain of machine gun bullets. Captain Hollowell was granted and rolled over, two of his comrades sprang up, caught him around the shoulders, and walked off to the aid station with him indifferent to the regular rain of bullets. Captain Hollowell was taken by a stretcher through a barbed wire and glassed and pierced by bullets but he was only slightly wounded.

"One man captured 96 prisoners by himself. Others rushed and captured machine guns by themselves. There was a stiff, hard fight for all and it was well fought. We just received warm congratulations from our division commander, General Lewis.

"We are taking a rest and it's rather like what Mark Twain said about pulling a tight fitting shoe off a sore foot. Australian and English boys of much experience, who passed over the top in the first wave, said that it looked impossible. The ground was rolling wooded hills, a vast field of wire and perfect trench systems. Jerry, so he thought, a line that would never be broken.

"I think when he provoked the United States into the war that the Yanks would be the ones to break it. Young Daniel and Marion Daniel were killed in this fight. They were killed by leading their men on. They were killed in the stiffest part of the fight. They were killed in the stiffest part of the fight. They were killed in the stiffest part of the fight.

"The most remarkable thing was the way I saw men with legs and arms of machine guns and smoking, and the least sign of rain on their faces. One 15-year-old lad from Fayetteville, who smuggled into our outfit a little package of dynamite, brought him in, and he said, 'I wanted to see a little of water is all I want.' I was talking to the surgeon the day after the fight. He told me that he had never seen a man with such grit—that there was not a groan from a single man. He stated also that one man was brought in with his arm and shoulder broken. He said, 'Doctor, tell me how I can get a chance? The doctor answered that he had a fighting chance. The man said, 'Oh! a fighting chance, I'll get well then.'

"Some of the poor Huns still believe that the Kaiser and God meet in heaven. One did Moses on the mountain. Prisoners say that there were no deaths. Some of the Huns were brought in with their arms and legs broken. One especially the machine gunners, others yelled 'Kamerad' and kept peeping out of a dug-out that had been shot, yelling 'Kamerad' like a bunch of swine and trembling with fear. This is now blowing, the sweetest of all music calls, and again I think of the boys who died for our noble cause; brave, valorous lads, they knew no fear and fell with their arms in their hands facing the enemy. They died happy.

"NAME OF HONOR HITS" FOR THE FIRST TEN STATES New York, Nov. 3.—John D. Rockefeller, chairman of the executive committee of the United War Work Campaign, announced today that "honor hits" in France would be named after the first 10 states which would contribute to the $170,500,000 which ends November 11.

BIG DROP IN COTTON

Past Week in New Orleans Market Was a Series of Declines—December $44 a Bale Lower.

New Orleans, Nov. 3.—The week just ended in the cotton market was a series of declines, prices on the closing session being 248 to 287 points under the final quotations of the preceding week. At the lowest levels December was about $44 a bale down from the high levels established toward the end of August. Persistent selling for short account on the theory that peace would be a bearish influence on the market was mainly responsible for the downward movement in values.

Weather conditions over the belt were unfavorable. It was stated that farmers were holding tight to a portion of their crops but the trade paid no attention to features of a bullish nature the bearish construction in Europe over-shadowing all other factors.

Many traders now consider that the recent cold weather has definitely put means toward the growing season which means a new season, probably be giving more consideration in the near future than ever. There are signs of concerted action in the south to support the market against continued aggressive trading on the bear side with peace news as a basis and market irregularities on the weak end which generally made it a point to state that the situation to a great extent depends upon the firmness of spot holders. It was noted that spot holders consistently refused to sell at a profit. On the close of the local market last week, middling spots were quoted at 29.50, while December stood at 26.14 cents a pound.

WHOLE HUN TRAINING CAMP SURRENDERED

Major Claude Prigden Writes a Relative in Kinston About the St. Mihiel Fighting.

Kinston, Nov. 3.—"We found a training camp and the whole outfit surrendered, general and all," states Maj. Claude Prigden, of Wilmington, in a letter to a relative here describing the St. Mihiel drive. "We captured about 20,000 and killed and wounded many. They ran like sheep before us. We hear they are talking peace. Well, I'm ready for it, but only in the 'right' way." Major Prigden states that he has souvenirs in the way of uniform trappings. "Oh, we did have a big victory," he declares. "We went so fast I lost my typewriter, then my clothes, and I was up with nothing but my bedding roll, and I thank the Lord I have that."

FIRST TROOPS ARRIVE AT CAMP BRAGG—100 U. S. GUARDS

Infantry Laid Will be Lifted Off at End of This Week.

Fayetteville, Nov. 3.—The vanguard of the troops to be stationed at Camp Bragg, and the 100 U. S. Guards, were force companies United States guards, and will go guard duty at the camp. The men number 100 and are under command of Captain Shaw. They come from Camp Greene.

The quartermaster placed on Cumberland county because of the influenza epidemic by the county board of health week, according to decision of the board board. After a review of the situation in the county, the county board considered it advisable to allow the churches to open on Sunday, November 10th, while the schools will be re-opened on Monday, the 11th. The ban on motion picture shows and other public gatherings will be lifted at the same time.

On October 8th, the day on which his sister died in this county, Mechanic William McLaughlin, of Company H, 14th Infantry, died of influenza. He died in action in France, according to information received from the War Department by the young man's family here. Miss Bettie McLaughlin, his sister, who was the first victim of the influenza epidemic in Fayetteville, died at her home here on the 8th of October.

AIRMAN MISTOOK RHIMOND FOR THE NATION'S CAPITAY

Richmond, Va., Nov. 3.—Mistaking this city for the nation's capital, Capt. L. F. Wright, flying from the Wright field, near Dayton, Ohio, to Washington, landed in Richmond Saturday afternoon to ascertain his whereabouts. A high wind blew him off his course to such an extent that when he reached Richmond, he descended in a vacant lot and made inquiries. He was entertained at a luncheon and then left on his way to Washington, leaving here shortly after 3 o'clock.

Captain Wright declared that with the state capital upon the hill and the James river running to the south of it, he had no doubt as to where he had reached his destination.

PEACE MAIN FACTOR

Stock Market Further Readjusts Values From War to Peace Basis—Weekly Review.

New York, Nov. 3.—Further readjustments of values from war to a peace basis was the outstanding feature last week in the securities market, the transition being attended with some unsettlement. The declining tendency in industrial war shares as a whole derived additional momentum from the reduction of the United States Steel extra dividend from 3 to 2 per cent, a condition due not so much to decreased earnings as to the enormous appropriations required to meet federal taxes and excess profits.

Trading was attended by less activity, the outcome of restrictions upon loans recommended by the local money committee, but this barrier was overcome to a degree later in the week when call loans fell to four per cent, the lowest rate in three months.

The effect of the money committee's suggestion that the financial institutions advance their margins on loans from twenty to thirty per cent and already apparent in a heavy contraction of broker's loans. This was made possible by the closing out of many speculative accounts, especially in stocks of non-investment character. Accompanying this movement was an inquiry instituted by the officials of the stock exchange to minimize activity in stocks controlled by pools.

With the approach of peace, leading financial interests are giving much thought to business which at the moment shows much hesitation, mainly in relation to the question of labor.

WILL DISCUSS DROP IN COTTON PRICES

Chairman Brown Calls Meeting to be Held at Atlanta Nov. 7.—Urges Large Attendance.

Atlanta, Ga., Nov. 3.—Following the recent request of Governor Manning of South Carolina that governors, bankers and merchants of all southern states meet in Atlanta to discuss the drop in cotton prices, J. J. Brown, chairman of the official advisory marketing board of the cotton states and Georgia commissioner of agriculture, issued a call today for the meeting to be held at the state capitol here November 7.

In urging a large attendance, Mr. Brown issued a statement saying "there has not been the slightest possibility of legitimate reason for the recent rapid decline in the price of cotton," and expressed a "firm conviction that manipulation of the cotton market by New York, Wall street and the highly centralized interests is solely and entirely responsible." The time has come, he added, to demand that congress investigate the situation.

SOUTHPORT ESCAPED LIGHTLY.

Not a Person Died There of Influenza. Menhaden Fishing Now.

Southport, Nov. 3.—This little city, probably, carries the record on the safety side in this matter for the "flu" which has wrought destruction in most communities. Not a Southporter has succumbed to this terrible plague, and in its worst there have only been mild forms of the disease. Dr. E. W. Bunting is given splendid praise for his handling of cases that might have developed from the mild to something serious. Then there has been the community health work which greatly helped. After a delay of about a month, the high school opened last week for the ensuing year. Mrs. L. J. Stevens is principal.

William Bunting, who has been here during the past month suffering from a part of the time with malarial fever, left today to resume business on the road. Mrs. Bunting is greatly improved in health, will remain here at Miss Kate Stewart's.

The fleet of menhaden fishing steamers are here, and ready to engage in the harvest of this most profitable industry. The three factories, below On, are prepared to handle the pogies in any number.

Dosher-St. George company are taking the shrimp, and in quantities, over five hundred bushels yesterday. At $10 per, this puts a lot of money into local circulation. This company had the business hard luck to have a car load of tins for their canning get astray, going first to Tennessee, before finally getting here, where the tins were needed.

MEAT CAUSE OF KIDNEY TROUBLE

Take Salts to Flush Kidneys If Back Hurts or Bladder Bothers. If you must have your meat every day, eat it, but flush your kidneys with salts occasionally, says a noted authority who tells us that meat forms uric acid which almost paralyzes the kidneys in their efforts to expel it from the blood. They become sluggish and weaken, then you suffer with a dull misery in the kidney region, sharp pains in the back or sick headache, dizziness, your stomach sour, tongue is coated and when the weather is bad you have rheumatic twinges. The urine gets cloudy, full of sediment, the chances often get sore and irritated, obliging you to seek relief two or three times during the night.

To neutralize these irritating acids, to cleanse the kidneys and flush out the body's urinous waste get four ounces of Jad Salts from any pharmacy here; take a tablespoonful in a glass of water before breakfast for a few days and your kidneys will then act fine. This famous salt is made from the acid of grapes and lemon juice, combined with lithia, and has been used for generations to flush and stimulate sluggish kidneys, also to neutralize the acids in urine, so it no longer irritates, thus ending bladder weakness. Jad Salts is inexpensive; cannot injure, and makes a delightful effervescent lithia-water drink.—adv.

THIS WOMAN SAVED FROM AN OPERATION

By taking Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound, One of Thousands of Such Cases.

Black River Falls, Wis.—"As Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound saved me from an operation, I cannot say enough in praise of it. I suffered from organic troubles and my side hurt me so I could scarcely get up from my bed, and I was unable to do my housework. I had the best doctors in Eau Claire and they wanted me to have an operation, but Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound cured me so I did not need the operation, and I am telling all my friends about it."—Mrs. A. W. Binzer, Black River Falls, Wis.

It is just such experiences as that of Mrs. Binzer that has made this famous root and herb remedy a household word from ocean to ocean. Any woman who suffers from inflammation, ulceration, displacements, backache, nervousness, irregularities or "the blues" should not rest until she has given it a trial, and for special advice write Lydia E. CONSTIPATION

And Sour Stomach Caused This Lady Much Suffering. Black-Draught Relieved. Mendonville, Ky.—Mrs. Pearl Patrick, of this place, writes: "I was very constipated, I had sour stomach and was so uncomfortable. I went to the doctor. He gave me some pills. They weakened me and seemed to tear up my digestion. They would gripe me and afterwards it seemed I was more constipated than before. I heard of Black-Draught and decided to try it. I found it just what I needed. It was an easy laxative, and not bad to swallow. My digestion soon improved. I got well of the sour stomach, my bowels soon seemed normal, no more griping, and I would take a dose now and then, and was in good shape. I cannot say too much for Black-Draught for it is the finest laxative one can use."

Thedford's Black-Draught has for many years been found of great value in the treatment of stomach, liver and bowel troubles. Easy to take, gentle and reliable in its action, leaving no bad after-effects, it has won the praise of thousands of people who have used it. NC-125
