The war work campaign is on the last lap. It is coming around the last curve in good shape, with the prospects of a splendid finish. Taking adrantage of its last war time opportunity patriotic colors to the top, in this nation-wide campaign and is leading all other sections in the generosity of her gifts, and is blazing the way for other ing the influenza handicap, the southwork tank ever all obstacles and is doing itself proud. The incentive is the interest the southern people feel in the boys in France, and their earnest desire to give them the best attention there is to be had. This is patriotism "back home," for the loved ones in the front. There are numbers of persons who have not yet given. They are urged to keep the ball rolling and swell the total to the farthest limit.

The money is urgently needed, every cent of it. The seven organizations, which it is for, is more helpful anw than ever before during the war. And, they will accomplish better results. Come up smiling with a good wad, and keep the boys in France smiling, in order that they may have a broad laugh when they reach home.

Only 500 of the 596 counties in the seven states of the department had reported up to midnight Saturday night. Every one of these seven states should now make a dash to put itself in the lead. It can be done if the people will arouse and seize this last opround. Knock the ball over the fence.
