CIVILIANS OF BRUGES WANT

Bruges, Nov. 22 .- (By the Associated | HAIG'S OFFICIAL REPORT Press.)-The civil population of Bruges is much more bitter toward the Germans than the soldiers who have fought them for more than four years. Terms of bitter hate and a demand of revenge come from the civilians alone: the soldiers grin soberly.

The correspondent entered a cigar store where an old lady sold him a villainous cheroot, a relic of German occupation. She launched into a violent denunciation of the invaders.

"The war must not end like this," she declared. "We must go into Germany. We must make them suffer and expiate their crimes." On the day of departure, she said the Germans had robbed her store of $500 worth of the best cigars and cigarettes. On the Grand Place, in the shadow of the famous belfry, an irate citizen was declaiming with many gesticulations against the invaders.

NEW PLAN FOR DIVIDING EXPRESS COMPANY REVENUES

Washington, Nov. 22 .- The American Railway Express company and Director General McAdoo, it was announced today, have concluded a new agreement by which the express company now under management of the railroad administration, will receive 49 3-4 per cent. of all express operating revenues and the railroads 50 1-4 per cent. so meet the time.

For just this purpose women all over the land, in every walk of life, have used for over half a century the time-honored and famous remedy, Mother's Friend. It is prepared to give the mother-to-be that direct help she needs. The muscles, nerves, tendons and cords are made and kept soft and elastic. Thus strain is avoided, and as a result nervousness, nausea, bearing-down and stretching pain are avoided.

The abdominal muscles expand easily and gently when baby is born. Naturally, pain is less and the hours are fewer. The system is prepared and the crisis is one of much less danger.

Mr. McAdoo receives $12,000 a year as secretary of the treasury, the uniform salary of cabinet members, and nothing as director-general of railroads. His family expenses are known to have been heavy in the last few taken almost no part in the little capital society that remained. Repeatedly the secretary has refer-

In fixing the salaries of his assistants in the railroad adminstration he allowed heads of divisons $25,000 a year and even the minor assistants received $12,000, or $15,000 Secretary McAdoo is the fourth member of the cabinet to resign. William J. Bryan, the president's secretary of state, at the beginning of his administration, was the first and Lindley M. Garrison, secretary of war, was he second. James C. Aside from those three changes the president's cabinet stands the same as t did six years ago and his friends say he has taken a great deal of pride opening of his second term the president asked all the members to remain.

> The rise of Mr. McAdoo to a place of influence in the administration which many have declared was second only to the president, was very fast. As a southern lawyer who had been interested in transportation schemes in southern cities he went to New York and accomplished the then almost unbelievable feat of successfully tunneling the Hudson river for electric trains. One of the first men to suggest the scheme-if not actually the first-was adjudged a lunatic and he lived to see the project an accomplishment. His name has been forgotten in the success of the achievement.

It is no reflection on Mr. McAdoo to say that his name was not then so early included, but it soon became so. I knew that only your high and exacting sense of duty had kept you here until the immediate tasks of the war should be over. But I am none the less distressed. I shall not allow our intimate personal relations to deprive me of the pleasure of saying that in my judgment the country has never had an abler, a more resourceful and yet prudent; a more uniformly efficient secretary of the treasury. "For the distinguished, disinterested and altogether admirable service you have rendered the country in both posts and especially for the way in which you have guided the treasury through all the perplexities and problems of transitional financial conditions and of the financing of a war which has been without precedent alike in kind and in scope, I thank you with a sense of gratitude that comes from the very bottom of my heart.
