WARFIELD EXPLAINS RAILROAD PROGRAM

What Securities Organization Will Be Held in Columbus, O., Wants Done.

Additional Statement by S. Davies Warfield In Explanation of Steps Railroad Security Owners Have Taken So Far

(Special Star Telegram.)

New York, Nov. 25 .- The action taken by the National Association of Owners of Railroad Eccurities in naming prominent lawyers from various sections of the country as advisory counsel, headed by ex-Senator Elihu Root, and the statement in connection therewith issued by S. Davies Warfield, president of the association, has created interest throughout the country among railroad security owners, shippers and the general public.

In response to many inquiries by telegram, letter and otherwise, coming from the press, from shippers, from individuals and security holders, in number impossible to make reply otherwise, than by public statement. Mr. Warfield deems it necessary to make this additional statement, as tollows: "The railroads must be returned under plans which shall:

"1. Protect alike the shipper, the traveling public, labor and the security owner.

"2. Provide adequate means for governmental regulation including supervision of railroad security issues. The Interstate Commerce commission is the authorized agency to which this will be likely entrusted. Legislation by the congress is necessarily required for the direction of that commission, if continued by the congress as the regulating body.

"3. Provide for the retention of such methods of administration as may have been found to be effective during federal control, such as joint use of important terminals, but increases rather than diminish the advantage to be secured from individual initiative. To concentrate to the extent of WORK IS GOING RIGHT its destruction and to limit reasonable competition essential to constant and continuing improvement of service, will retard business, industrial and agricultural growth essential during re-construction and thereafter. It is not difficult to limit the extent to which this shall go.

"4. Provide for taking care of the obligations to the government of each trol. The railroads can not be returned with their credit impaired. If it is, it will be costly to the shipper and to the public. The higher their credit, the cheaper can money be secured by them for purposes of hauling freight and passengers. The contract made by Director-General Burleson with the telephone company provides that its obligations to the government shall be paid in 20 years in yearly installments. Loans made by the government to the railroads are made on call.

"In reply to the question whether the association has matured its plans and what will now be done, it may be stated that plans have been discussed but not matured. Such plans as may be worked out will be submitted to the committees of the association. This association through its membership, directly and indirectly, by institutional and individual membership, represents five billion of the outstanding 17 billion dollars of securities of the rail-It represents through such membership 30 million people of the country of the 50 million, nearly onehalf of the total population, who own or are interested in railroad securities. Its management is vested in an advisory committee of 150 members from 67 cities and 36 states, an executive committee of 33 members, an active sub-executive committee of nine members, a financial committee of 70 named from 34 cities and 30 states, a general committee of 15 representing 10 states, many of this latter committee being shippers. There are five vice-presidents, one from each of the following cities: San Francisco, Chi-Galveston, Texas,; Atlanta, Georgia, and Newark, New Jersey. Any plan that may be developed will be finally acted upon by the above committees, originating with the sub-executive committee is consultation with the advisory counsel of the association, who will play an important part in these proceedings, and other counsel. What will be done will be also in consultation with accredited representatives of the shippers, such as the committee of nine recently named at the convention held in Cincinnati, of the national industrial traffic league, which represents trade bodies and individual and associations of shippers, to the extent of upwards of 300,000. It should be reefficiency, protect the various interests "This association of the faith of the

EIGHTEEN PERISHED IN WRECK OF SHIP

American Steamer Dumaru Foundered When Lighting Exploded Her Cargo Of Gasoline.

Washington, Nov. 25 .- Eighteen men from the American steamer Dumaru lost their lives after the vessel was wrecked near Guam last month by lightning exploding her cargo of gasoline. 'The navy department announced today that 16 of the men died of exposure and starvation in an open boat and that two others were drowned when the boat with 14 survivors was making a landing at San Jose L'Oriente, Philippine Islands, November 9. None of the 16 men lost were from the south.

The department also announced that the message gave the name of "Frank Bolin, naval ensign," as among the lost, but that as there is no such name in the naval register of officers, it was assumed that this was a mistake in transmission and a duplication of the name of Frank Bolin, deck boy. Advices from Guam at the time the Dumaru went down said Ensign A. C. Holmes, U. S. N., was a passenger on the vessel and the department has received no further word from him. With the exception of Ensign Holmes all of the 47 persons on the ship now have been accounted for. beyond insistence on the part of of- afterward.
