

SOCIAL and PERSONAL

PEACE.
Peace, peace is here!
Her white robes floating far, Outblown by all the winds of happiness—Her wide arms spread In benedictions of joy Above a panting, breathless, war-worn, conquering world
And lifted high
In grateful worshippings
To him
Who guides the sun and walks upon the stars.

Stoop down, triumphant Peace, and lay thy hand Upon the sorrowing, Thou hast no words, But point above, where newer stars now shine
That never shone before,
And never whom we grieve And their dear memories A never glory floods the universe—The light of Liberty on land and sea.

Peace, peace is here!
She stands triumphant on the mountain heights, Fall Daughter of the Gods, her floating robes Outblown by all the winds of happiness.
And on her forehead,
Like a diadem,
Is writ,
In letters lambent as an altar flame, "There shall be no more war!"

CHILE SHOULD OBSERVE CONDITIONS OF TREATY

Trouble Between Chile and Peru Appears to Have Blown Over But Old Contract is Unfulfilled.

Santiago, Nov. 27.—The complaint of the Peruvian minister of foreign affairs that the demonstrations against Peruvians at Iquique were countenanced by the authorities is denied by the Chilean foreign minister. This denial has reassured commercial and social circles.
The newspapers are of the unanimous belief that everything can be arranged by the fulfillment of the Treaty of Ancon, signed in 1883. In official circles the opinion prevails that arbitration would be the best means to bring about the fulfillment of this treaty.

Under the treaty of Ancon Chile was to retain possession of the provinces of Tacna and Arica, belonging to the Peruvian Department of Moquegua, for a period of ten years, and then "submit to popular vote whether those territories are to belong to Chile or Peru."

At the expiration of the period (1893) Chile failed to comply with the agreement and retained forcible possession of the territory.

said he was moving his car away from had been parked, when the other car struck it. In the car with Mr. Barnes was his wife, but both escaped without ing charged with illicit distilling of whiskey, was discharged for want of evidence, O. D. Godwin, upon the statement of whom the arrest was made, testified yesterday that Walter Pigford was not the man implicated, but it was another man by the name of "Ten-Day Sale" who was beginning to small opportunity to get good shoes at

THEATRICAL

"The Love Mill," which Andreas Dippe produced at the Forty-Eighth street theatre, New York, last season will play in this city for a matinee and night engagement at the Academy of Music today. This is the biggest musical hit of the year and is full of special features that make it universal in appeal. It is in two splendid acts with a rush and whirl of action that is little short of cyclonic and a dazzling array of beauty both in the scenic effects and in the costumes of the pretty girls who are so numerous that it is scarcely possible to count them.

The song hits of Andreas Dippe's latest musical show are "When You Feel a Little Longing," "Follow Manna's Advice," "Watch The Things You Eat," "In the State of Matrimony," "Why Can't It All Be A Dream," "The Love Mill," and the puzzle song "Q-T-U-C-I-M-4-U."

Grand
One of O. Henry's famous short stories, "Brick Dust Row," gives Alice Joyce one of the most delightful roles in her screen career in "Everybody's Girl," the Vitagraph Blue Ribbon feature, which will be the attraction at the Grand today.

Alice Joyce—Henry—one of the most delightful and finished pictures ever put out by Vitagraph.

Miss Joyce never was more lovely, more appealing or more natural than in this picture, the romance of that little hat trimmer. It is a "happy" picture throughout and one that will delight all who see it, young and old, men and women.
Miss Joyce is "everybody's girl," so far as millions of motion picture fans are concerned, for everybody loves her and in popularity and as a box-office attraction, she is second to none. It is a happy title, for it gives opportunity to play this great star as "Everybody's Girl" roles, which are her most appealing ones, the healthy, happy love story of an every-day American girl in a great city, who lived alone, earned her own living and figured out for herself all life's problems, including the greatest of all—a young girl—Love. No need of recalling Miss Joyce's past performances, for she is too big an institution for that. Concentrate on the girl, the title, the delightful theme, and the author.

Bijou.
The Bijou today offers another one of those big bargain bills—six reels for a dime and every reel jammed full of action, interest and strong story development. The topliner for the day is a big five-reel Triangle drama, entitled "Wild Life," a thrilling and stirring melodramatic production starring the talented and well known delinquent of western films, William Desmond, and the pretty Josie Sedgwick. It is a story with a strong and tense story, a romantic drama with plenty of thrills and will entertain you for an hour and a quarter.

The latest issue of the Official Allied War Review, showing the great drive of the American and allied armies during the closing week of the war, is another big offering today.
These official government pictures are used at the Bijou directly by the United States government and should be seen by every one interested in the great war.

Bijou Monday
The Bijou theatre announces that it has booked Vitagraph's newest and greatest serial, "A Fight for Millions," and will show the first episode on Monday, December 2, at 10 o'clock.
William Dunham, "the strong man of the Fighting Trail" and the dashing hero of "The Fighting Trail" and "Vengeance and the Woman," will again be seen as the hero, with Edith Johnson as the heroine, and Joe Ryan, "Shoe string" of "The Fighting Trail," as the leading "heavy."

As in the other Vitagraph serials, there is plenty of action in "A Fight for Millions" and a great deal of delicious riding by Vitagraph's famous cowboys. The story was written by Albert E. Smith, president of the Vitagraph company; and Cyrus Townsend Brady, noted as one of the leading arranged in the country. "Vengeance—and the Woman" and "The Woman in the Web."

"The Bird of Paradise" Life in the Hawaiian Islands is the feature of "The Bird of Paradise," the latest of Richard Walton Tully's play that will be seen at the Academy of Music Wednesday night, December 4.

This charming story of Uncle Sam's possessions has created favorable complaint wherever it has been played.
Dealing as it does with the subject of whether a woman can hold a man's love or whether there is something tranger than that to hold this love, is the whole subject of the play. Luana, the pretty Hawaiian girl, discovers at the end that she is wrong in thinking that it is all that a man craves and finding out that her American husband is really tired of her and wishes to go back to his people, she turns to her people again, and appears there offering herself as a human sacrifice in order to save them from destruction.

—Friends of Walker Meares, who has been quite ill at his home, 712 Market street, will learn with regret that his condition yesterday was reported not quite so well. Miss Meares is also suffering with an infected eye.

Sheriff Gets Tax List.
The list of persons subject to special school tax in Winter Park and the amounts due has been turned over to sheriff George Jackson for collection.
The special tax was voted in the election last May and at that time there was bitter opposition to the measure by some of the citizens of the park and it is understood that they will start injunction proceedings in an effort to avoid the payment. The law says that this tax shall be collected in the same manner as state and county taxes.

Sheriff Gets Tax List.
The list of persons subject to special
amounts due has been turned over to
sheriff George Jackson for collection.
The special tax was voted in the elec-
was bitter opposition to the measure
this tax shall be collected in the same manner as state and county taxes.
