THE SENTINEL

By Annie Johnson Flint. The morning is the gate of day, But ere you enter there, Save what can give the countersign; The Father's will for you.

When you have reached the end of day, Where night and sleep await, Set there the sentinel again, To bar the evening gate.

If we are sure, this sentinel guards the gate of each day and night, we can be sure that our pleasures will be such as Christ would approve.

Young Christians are often in doubt as to whether certain pastimes are sinful or not. If they will only stop to think if it is something which would do harm to another; if it lowers their own spirituality; or if it is something which Christ would approve they can easily determine from this test whether they can indulge in it without committing sin.

There are so many sources of pleasure; so many varied pleasures, so many doubtful pleasures. It is not wise for us to be sure of those which appeal only to our senses. If our senses are selfish there is no doubt but that the pleasures we seek will make us miserable and probably everyone around us; but if we seek unselfishly our own and other's pleasure there is no doubt about our own and other's happiness.

All men are seeking pleasure and the kind of pleasure sought depends on the nature and taste of the man who is seeking it. Some through the sense of appetite, others in making money, some find their highest pleasure in seeking fame, still others find it in the gayeties of life, but if we can invite and be sure of the presence of Jesus in these pursuits of pleasure we can be sure of their becoming a blessing to us and to others.

This topic carries us a long way back in the Bible history of God's dealing with his children in regard to dancing, and we find when the people had forgotten God, had left Him out of their plan for pleasure and had begun to worship the golden calf and eat and drink and dance, that God in His righteous anger cut them off by the thousands. If, when we dance, we can look up with the spirit's eye into the face of Christ and see His smile of approval we may be sure that dancing is no sin. If we can not think of our Savior and feel His presence while we are dancing we had better stop and not do what is wrong. Is it that we have no fellowship with Him, or is it that He has withdrawn His presence while we indulge in a doubtful pleasure?

We also have a warning in this topic about idle pleasures. Pleasures which are not perhaps in themselves sinful but just idle; doing nobody any good—negative pleasures—the kind which take us from doing us the worthy deed, the kindly service for a neighbor; the idle pleasures which weaken our own nature by indulgence.

Those who find pleasure in ministering to human needs have found the secret of the deep-seated joy which makes life worth living and crowns death with the reward "at my right hand there are pleasures forever more."

Johnson, pastor—Sunday school at 10 a. m.; preaching at 11 o'clock, subject, "Consecration;" night service at 7:30, subject, "The Saviour's Great Desire," followed by communion. Earnest Workers meeting Wednesday afternoon at 2:30; prayer meeting Wednesday night at 7:30. Public is cordially invited to attend all these services. Special welcome is extended shipbuilders and all strangers in the city. We hope you may find helpful and worthy friendship, cheer, comfort and inspiration.

GIRLS! DRAW A MOIST CLOTH THROUGH HAIR, DOUBLE ITS BEAUTY

Immediately?—Yes! Certainly!—that's the joy of it. Your hair becomes light, wavy, fluffy, abundant and appears soft, lustrous and beautiful as a young girl's after a Danderine hair cleanser. Just try this—moisten a cloth with a little Danderine and carefully draw it through your hair, taking one small strand at a time. This will cleanse the hair of dust, dirt or excessive oil, and in just a few moments you will have doubled the beauty of your hair. A light surprise awaits those whose hair has been neglected or is scratched, faded, dry, brittle or thin. Besides beautifying the hair, Danderine also solves every particle of dandruff, cleanses, purifies and invigorates the scalp, forever stopping itching and falling hair, but what will please you most will be after a few weeks use, when you see new hair—fine and downy at first—yes—but really new hair growing all over the scalp. If you care for prettiness, soft hair, and lots of it, surely get a small bottle of Knowlton's Danderine from any drug store or toilet counter for a few cents—adv.
