Later months were influenced by the March strength during the earlier trading, but reacted quite sharply, with later fluctuations extremely irregular. The close was firm at an advance of 116 points on March, while May and later months were net 30 points higher to 30 points lower. New crop positions were relatively easy owing to prospects for better weather.

General Motors was again the star performer, rising from its early low of 371 to 401 in the final hour and closing within easy range of its maximum at a net gain of 26 points. Stutz Motor rose 20 points to the new high record of 245, and Crucible Steel and Baldwin Locomotive, at advances of 5 to 2 points, respectively, comprised the other most active and by other motors and allied special-pects for better weather.

The market opened firm at an advance of 125 points on March and of to 20 points on the later months. There was some scattered selling on the weather outlook, but the strength of March stimulated covering by May and July shorts, and there was also trade buying to fix prices. Occasional strength was displayed by other motors and allied specialties, also equipments, tobaccos and miscellaneous shares, but this was neutralized by pressure against oils, coppers, léathers and minor issues of no especial description.

Considerable criticism was leveled against the further operations of pools in the more speculative shares. This feeling, together with the unsettled state of foreign exchange, combined to encourage selling pressure.
