MAY DAY WARNING ASSAILED BEFORE RAILROAD BOARD

Citizens' Conference In Session Denounced As Propaganda Designed To Poison Minds Against Labor Unions

Washington, May 6 .- Attorney General Palmer's warning of threatened May-day violence, and announcement of steps taken to prevent it, were assailed before the railroad labor board increase Approved For Negro today by Timothy Healy, president of the Brotherhood of Stationary Firemen by the California primaries, and that and Ollers, as a part of what he characterized as "a desperate propaganda against labor."

Such propaganda, Mr. Healy said, was started within less than twentyfour hours after the signing of the armistice, and was designed "to poison the minds of the people to such an extent that the profiteers could still further increase prices and place the e on labor.

While not naming the attorney general directly. Mr. Healy told the board that the "crusade" of a "high government official" against radicals was 'undoubtedly for the purpose of aiding in the campaign of certain employers of the country to secure laws establishing involuntary servitude. He referred to sedition laws proposed in and said that while framed "ostensibly to eradicate bolshevism. Wism and anarchism." have tied labor "hand and foot."

The attorney general's warning of May-day violence and murder of federal and state officials was characteras "the most flagrant instance of this most despicable crusade to inflame the people against the workers." "But the plans of the intriguers who sought to add further stigma to labor went wrong," said Mr. Healy, adding that May-day passed off as peacefully as any other day of the year. Railroaders Present Demande Mr. Healy concluded with the statement that "if government officials and congress had given as much attention to limiting the profits of profiteers as hey did to pounding and hounding wage earners the cost of living would have decreased to figures within rea-ment, Bert M. Jewell, president of the way department of the American wage demands of the railroad shop workers. He furnished statistics on the increase in the cost of living and asked the board to grant such an advance in pay as would enable the shop men to live at the accepted American Probably Will Direct Counter Movement From Temporary Capital At Vera Cruz.

Mexico City, May 6.—Refusal to abandon the presidency in the face of the menace of rebellion featured a manifesto issued yesterday on the occasion of the national holiday by President Carranza.

The president announced that he would fight to a finish to put down the rebellion and that he would not turn over the presidency to any one except a legally elected successor.

He enunciated the principle of the elimination of the coup d'etat from Mexican politics, asserting that the presidency must not be a prize for military leaders

Washington, May 6 .- Concentration by Carranza of troops at Mexico City caused rebel representatives here and some American army officers to believe today it might indicate the president's determination to gather about him a force sufficiently strong to enable him The obvious reason for such concentration, it was explained, would be defense of the capital, but, according to be expected to employ the same taction he did when Villa gained the ascendancy in 1914, and again set up his capital at Vera Cruz.

Carranza to Move Capital. Revolutionary agents here agreed it would be possible for Carranza to utilize a comparatively small force of loyal troops for a stand somewhere outside the capital, and that it might even be possible for him to force his way to his old temporary capital at Vera Cruz and from there direct a counter move-take with him to Vera Cruz or to some other point the officials of the supreme court, and a considerable quantity of supplies and money, but observers asserted his position then would be no stronger than that of Villa, or any other leader conducting independent operations. The possible success of such tactics, they declared, depended wholly upon a radical change in popular opinion. Information based on news contained in the Mexico City newspapers of a recent date indicated that Carranza was preparing to send General Murgula south into the state of Puebla at the head d a considerable force to attack r the command of General Pablo Gonzalez, who recently the revolt.
