LARGE CROWD HEARS LECTURE

Discussion Of Merchandising Given

Practically every one of Wilmington's prominent retail merchants attended the illustrated lecture, "Troubles of a Retail Merchant, and How to Prevent Them," given at the courthouse last night by W. H. Farley. Several thousand feet of motion pictures were run off showing how failure is almost inevitable where a merchant operates his business under the old slip-shod methods; where no service was given and no effort made to please a customer. Following this picture one was shown of an up-to-date retail business house, where all modern methods were used and everything possible was done to please the purchaser and make him feel that he would be welcomed back again. While the pictures were being run Mr. Farley gave a practical lecture on many of the interesting points. He was heard with unusual attention by the large gathering. In illustrating one of his points, following a statement by him that opportunity knocks at a man's door more than once, Mr. Farley took from his purse a one-dollar federal reserve note and asked if there was any one in the audience who would give him eighty cents for it. Only one of many stirred and he went forward and gave to Mr. Farley the eighty cents and received a perfectly good one-dollar bill. The illustrated lecture was given by Mr. Farley under the auspices of the Merchants' association. It was arranged by Cyrus Hogue, Esq., secretary of the association.

GEORGE TIENCKEN ALONE RESCUED FROM DROWNING

Was Saved By Life Guard And Others With Boat.

H. M. Tiencken, who was yesterday reported as narrowly escaping drowning in the surf in front of Lumina, stated last night that it was his brother, George, alone, and not he who was rescued by a life guard and a boat. It seems that George Tiencken swam out a little too far and was caught in an under-current and carried out nearly half a mile when he was reached by Life Guard Smith from Lumina. The current being so strong the life guard was not able to bring Mr. Tiencken, so a boat was manned by volunteers, including H. M. Tiencken, and the life guard and George Tiencken were both brought ashore.

BATH HOUSE OPENS
R. M. Kermon, proprietor of the Union bath houses, just north of Lumina, on Wrightsville beach, will open for the season. Mr. Kermon announces that he will have a life guard on duty in front of his bath houses during bathing hours.

JOHN G. SHAW CLAIMS FIVE THOUSAND VOTES

This Would Place Him In Second Primary.

(Special to The Star.)
Fayetteville, June 4.—In a pre-election statement tonight, John G. Shaw, one of the three candidates for the democratic nomination in the Sixth congressional district, claimed that he will poll approximately 5,000 votes in tomorrow's primary. This would place him in the second primary. "The condition throughout the district seems very favorable," said Mr. Shaw, who has made an extensive canvass. Robeson, he predicted, will cast a vote of approximately 6,000, of which he expects to get not less than forty per cent; New Hanover perhaps 3,200, of which he claims forty per cent, and Cumberland 2,000, of which he will get eighty per cent. In the other counties, Mr. Shaw expects to receive fifteen per cent of Bladen's 1500; twenty-five per cent of Brunswick's 900, and twelve per cent of Columbus' 2500.

GARDNER MEN CLAIM HIS NOMINATION TODAY

Summary Of County Estimates Is Given Out.

(Special to The Star.)
Shelby, June 4.—Gardner headquarters issued a statement tonight that telegraphic reports from a large number of county managers had been received. The statement says: "Since 3 o'clock this afternoon telegrams from managers of Gardner's campaign have been received from forty-one counties. These are in every section of the state. According to the estimates made by the county managers or these counties, Gardner's vote tomorrow will be over fifty per cent, the total vote in twenty-nine counties between thirty and forty per cent, in ten, and only one county estimates vote less than thirty per cent. According to all reports the nomination of Max Gardner in the first primary is expected."

PREVOST FOUND GUILTY.
Mount Clemens, Mich., June 4.—Lloyd Prevost was found guilty of the murder of J. Stanley Brown by a jury in circuit court here tonight. The jury was out approximately three hours. The verdict returned was "guilty of murder in the first degree."

FOUR NEW BUBONIC CASES IN VERA CRUZ

Buildings On Municipal Dock Burned By Officials.

Vera Cruz, June 4.—Four new cases of bubonic plague were discovered here today. Three of the victims were soldiers and the fourth was an aged laundress. The woman died after being taken to the detention hospital. One of the plague patients who was taken to the hospital a few days ago died today. Two others who have been at the institution are reported to be recovering. Buildings on the municipal dock and several structures nearby were burned today by the authorities in an effort to eliminate possible centers of infection there.

SOLONS WORK HARD IN CLOSING HOURS

Washington, June 4.—Both senate and house held long sessions again tonight in a final effort to clean up a congestion of minor legislation and one or two important bills before adjournment at 4 p. m. tomorrow. The senate approved the conference report on the merchant marine bill as amended to meet house objections and then ground out a number of private pension measures. Between times it went into executive session to confirm the nominations of about 500 postmasters. Some six hundred others remain to be acted upon tomorrow. The house during the day sent the merchant marine bill back to conference for amendment and took up the measure as revised again tonight with the hope of getting it to the President tomorrow in time for his consideration before the sixty-sixth congress ended this, its second session. While the house was busy with the merchant marine conference report, it received President Wilson's veto of the bill to establish a national budget system. Leaders said an attempt would be made to pass the measure over the veto but they were not prepared to forecast the fate of the measure should the attempt fail. All of the big annual supply measures except one had been completed before the night session ended. The one remaining is the rivers and harbors bill, and since it still was deadlocked in conference, leaders had about given up hope of its passage. House conferees held out for the $12,000,000 fixed by the house, while the senate managers apparently were equally insistent that the senate total of $10,000,000 be retained.

For Lieutenant Governor F. C. Harding

of Pitt County

- A good debater, a strong campaigner, an experienced parliamentarian.
- A man experienced in legislation, a student of government and a member of the state senate.
- A man of unquestioned integrity, broad education and high ideals.
- He measures up to the highest standards of private life and public citizenship and is able to meet the requirements of a presiding officer of the state senate, which demands a man of wisdom, firmness and character.
