NEGRO IS MADE WHITE'S EQUAL IN LABOR UNION

American Federation of Labor Today Wipes Out The "Color Line."

SOUTHERN DELEGATES PUT UP BITTER FIGHT Blacks Charge "Taxation Without Representation" And Carry Point.

Montreal, June 10.—The American Federation of Labor today wiped out the "color line" and warned its affiliated international unions that negro workers must be given full and equal membership with white men.

"RACE WAR" The federation's action came at the end of a stormy session, which nearly resulted in a "race war" between delegates from the southern states and the negroes and their sympathizers.

Rejecting the recommendation of its organizing committee the federation for the first time in history threatened the autonomy of an affiliated union by requesting the brotherhood of railway clerks to give the negro freight handlers, express and station employees full membership and eliminate from its constitution the words "white only."

The committee's report of "non-concurrence" on the ground that the federation had no power to interfere with the constitution of an affiliated union immediately drew the fire of the negro delegates and those of several northern states, chiefly Illinois and New York.

There was a sharp exchange of oratory in which the negroes charged "slavery without representation" and "discrimination" to which their opponents replied with accusations and denials by negro workers of the whites in past labor disputes.

Indignation of the negro delegates was aroused several times during the debate when speakers referred to them as "nigger" freight handlers and their objection to such remarks was sustained by the acting chairman, James D. Pugh. They charged that the use of the word "nigger" was a slander to the race.

Frank Morrison, secretary of the American Federation of Labor made an unsuccessful attempt to halt the debate by explaining that arrangements were under way to get all unions to take up negro members.

Representatives of the brotherhood of railway clerks declared they were taking care of the negro question and giving just attention to negro grievances. They asked the convention to decide the matter in their hands for definite disposition.

Color Line. Several motions were made on the floor to demand that the railway clerks abolish the "color line" in its constitution or forfeit their charter in the event the color line is abolished.

An appeal to the workers to desert the federation and align with the one big union, spread broad cast through the city today, asserted that craft unionism was "dead." The circular addressed to "all fellow workers" and warned them that the "satellites of craft-unionism" were in their midst.

It was a bitter fight, the American Federation of Labor by the one big union organization in Canada.

SOUTHERN DELEGATES DEMAND RECOGNITION Ex-Senator Butler Speaks At Mass Meeting In Hotel Lobby.

Chicago, June 10.—A mass meeting of southern delegates, staged in a hotel lobby, with some 300 attending, was held last night in the interest of demanding recognition of the south on the republican national ticket.

Virginia and North Carolina both have vice-presidential candidates in the field and speakers from other southern states advised that they unite on one man or the other and that the southern delegations then all join in support of the man so named.

A committee representing all southern delegations was appointed to canvass the situation and report to a second mass meeting tonight.

Among speakers were Col. Henry W. Anderson and Representative Siemp of Virginia and former Senator Butler, of North Carolina.

PRESIDENT CABRERA IS CONFINED IN PRISON Washington, June 10.—Former President Estrada Cabrera is now confined in the police prison at Guatemala City, the state department was today advised by the American legation there.

In reply to the department's inquiry regarding the former president, the legation said the Guatemalan authorities had explained that the ex-president had been moved to the prison as a precaution against possible mob attack.

He is allowed such comfort as he desires and his meals are supplied by his family.

REPUBLICANS TO CHOOSE PRESIDENTIAL CANDIDATE BEFORE ADJOURNING TODAY

Meeting Yesterday Afternoon Riotous—Negro Elected Delegate—Uncle Joe Cannon Speaks—Calls Heard For "Teddy"

Coliseum, Chicago, June 10.—When the convention reconvenes tomorrow morning, it will be under an agreement to nominate a presidential candidate before it ends its session. All the nominating speeches are to be delivered, all the seconding speeches will be limited to two for each nominee and to five minutes each. Under that agreement the convention must finish its balloting before it adjourns tomorrow night, leaving the nomination of a vice-president over until Saturday.

Adopt Platform. Rescuing the party by eleventh-hour compromise from a threatened split on the league of nations issue, the republican national convention today adopted a platform and then adjourned to nominate a candidate tomorrow.

Harmony on the league issue was reached after many hours of heated negotiation revolving about the subject of a resolution to limit the number of nominating speeches to five minutes each. Two secondings were required and several were given. The convention liked the idea and adopted it with a few scattering noes.

Uncle Joe There. Chairman Lodge announced that the resolutions committee was on its way to report and the crowd demanded to be entertained in the meantime. There were more shouts for "Uncle Joe Cannon." And Senator Lodge, after explaining that Uncle Joe had asked to be excused, suddenly produced the other speaker, looking fresh, hale and hearty on the speaker's runway. The movie men turned on the lights and Chicago, June 10.—Following is the text of the league of nations plank adopted by the republican convention today as a part of the report of the resolutions committee for more than a century, and it ignored the universal sentiments of America for generations past in favor of international law and arbitration and it rested the hope of the future upon mere expediency and negotiation.

Rape Wilson. The unfortunate insistence of the President upon having his own way without any change and without any regard to the opinion of a majority of the senate, which shares with him in the treaty making power, and the President's demand that the treaty faithfully be approved, created a situation in which senators were required to vote upon their consciences and their oaths according to their judgment upon the treaty, without the aid of the commands of a dictator in a matter where the authority under the constitution were theirs and not his.

The senators performed their duty faithfully. We approve their conduct and honor their courage and fidelity and we pledge the coming republican administration to such agreement with the other nations of the world as shall stand for the full duty of America to civilization and humanity in accordance with American ideals, and without surrendering the right of the American people to exercise its judgment and its power in favor of justice and peace. INDIANS DISPROVE SUFRAGE LEADER CARRANZA SUICIDE Investigation Shows Hut Where Crime Occurred, Bullet Riddled.

Tlaxcala, Mexico, June 10.—(By The Associated Press)—Indian residents of Tlaxcala, Mexico, where President Carranza met his death on the morning of May 21, scout the theory that he committed suicide and declare that no real defense was made of the president.

No Investigation. No official investigation has been made here into the death of Carranza, which was reported by the Associated Press correspondent, who was the first newspaper man to visit the scene, pointed out the hut which they said had been assigned to the president by General Rodolfo Herrero who has been charged with responsibility for the death of the late executive. It is built of fragile material and is located far from the quarters of the soldiers whose duty it was to protect him.

The Indians asserted that were some houses available to which the president might have been assigned. Murdered. Investigation by the correspondent showed five bullet holes through the thin wooden wall of the hut, in which Carranza was shot. One bullet is reported to have struck him in the leg and, according to belief here, when he sat up he was hit by the other four.

Thirty bullet wounds were counted in various parts of the hut. Near the door is one which is said to mark the spot where Carranza's guard was killed. Although the hut had been used as the mayor's office before Carranza's arrival, it was furnished only with a table, and the bare ground was its floor. On the ground is a cross mark, indicating the spot where Carranza's body lay. A candle has been placed beside this cross and it is kept lighted by Senora Virginia Vargas de Luna whose 15-year-old son was killed by a stray bullet during the attack.

President Carranza reached Tlaxcala at about 3:30 o'clock on the afternoon of May 21, and he is kept in the hut where his home part of his escort were quartered.

New York, June 10.—Means of halting cancellation of orders by retail men's furnishings dealers, said to have formed the nationwide economy movement inaugurated as part of an effort to reduce the cost of living, was discussed at the eighth annual meeting here today of the national wholesaler's furnishings association.

The manufacturers decided they would refuse to accept return of merchandise or cancellation of orders unless retailers showed that such action was the result of delay or other conditions that are the fault of the manufacturer.

Arthur M. Reis was re-elected president of the association. Charles E. Merton and K. Meyer were chosen vice-presidents.

Baby Snatcher Sends Another Bold Message

Second Letter Arrives From Savannah—Threatens Father and Infant—Says Child Is "Well At Present."

Norristown, Pa., June 10.—Hopes of getting into communication with the kidnappers of thirteen-month-old Blakeley Coughlin revived today with the arrival of a second letter from Savannah, Ga.

It was received by George H. Coughlin at his home outside of Norristown in the first mail. The letter is dated June 7. The writing is identical with that of a letter received from Savannah four days ago.

No attempt is made to disguise the handwriting in either letter. The spelling and punctuation indicate the writer has deliberately feigned ignorance of his own name.

"As in the first letter no attempt is made to establish the identity of the kidnaper. The writer merely says he has Blakeley and the baby is well. The letter follows:

"When you are convinced about the right party having your child then I will deal with you, if it isn't too late. The child is well at present.

"I can hear your wife sobbing. She has my sympathy. But I am into it now and don't intend to be caught at my own game. I don't need the child, but I do need the money (the word money is heavily underlined). So this is a warning to be very careful for I am not asleep.

"You will never get your child until I have gotten the money and saved myself."

LEAGUE PLANK RAPS WILSON FOR IGNORING SENATORIAL OPINIONS

Republicans Declare They Stand For Preservation Of World's Peace—Applauds Senate For "Faithful Duty"

Chicago, Ill., June 10.—Following is the text of the league of nations plank adopted by the republican convention today as a part of the report of the resolutions committee for more than a century, and it ignored the universal sentiments of America for generations past in favor of international law and arbitration and it rested the hope of the future upon mere expediency and negotiation.

WOOD IS LEADING; HIS NOMINATION 'LIKELIEST THING'

Eleventh Hour Strikes With His Strength Over Fire Unimpaired.

TEMPORARY ECLIPSE ONLY ATMOSPHERE No Combination in Sight That Brings Another Up To His Level.

By Mark Sullivan. Chicago, Ill., June 10.—Tomorrow the balloting begins. As to the probable result, one positive thing can be said; the candidates all stand in exactly the same relation to each other that they stood six months ago.

Wood is in the lead, markedly in the lead. He has always been in the lead. With the exception of possibly a week or two in January or February, there has never been a time when Wood hasn't lead the rest.

Again, there was a day or two last week when Wood seemed to have slipped behind Lowden, but in the judgment of your correspondent, that was merely local atmosphere. Chicago is Lowden's town and the more important local papers favor him. That is all the temporary eclipse of Wood meant. As soon as the delegates began to arrive and as soon as their opponents began to make the race of the atmosphere Wood was again where he always has been, emphatically in the lead.

Wood's lead has increased from day to day; today he is far ahead of Lowden and everybody else than at any previous time. I think he is gaining a small number of delegates from day to day. Certainly he has been gaining every twenty-four hours, if not in the number of delegates, at least in the not less important element of compactness, loyalty and prestige.

Always strongest. There is not now and never has been any reason for Wood's certain defeat. Wood may not win; no one can predict that he will win, but he is and always has been in the strongest position. At the opening of the balloting all the others are in the same relation to him that they always have been. Lowden decidedly second, Johnson a poor third, and the rest of the field so big and so mixed that there isn't any use of distinguishing among them.

In this campaign the obvious has happened at every turning. There have been threatened surprises, threatened sensations, threatened overturns. None of them has happened.

Of all the existing events not one of them has had a permanent effect on the relation of the candidates to each other. The expected and the predicted has happened every time. The event this morning is a marked example of that. The normal thing, the expected thing, was that the cards should be against ratification. For forty-eight hours here it looked as if that was going to be upset, but it wasn't upset, in the end the expected happened.

All this momentum of the usual points to Wood. Wood may be defeated, if he is, that will be the first instance, in this entire campaign, beginning the first of last January, when anything will have happened which was not the obvious result of the cards as they lie.

Obstacles Overcome. Wood's campaign has kept on gaining under heartbreaking handicaps. It has surmounted assaults and misadventures which nearly everyone thought would wreck it. There had to be a huge momentum in the Wood movement to get Wood's nomination as the natural outcome. He can be defeated, but it is not likely that he will be. He has more momentum than it is for him to win. The nomination of Wood is the likeliest thing to happen. Any other outcome can only be accomplished by his opponent's reaching a point of weakness that charges had been preferred against him by the New York stock exchange of which he is a member, as a result of the tangle arising over the removal of Stutz shares from the exchange last March.

In making public a copy of these charges, Mr. Ryan declared them "ridiculous on their face." He in turn charged the exchange officials with "defiance on public opinion and automatic disregard of the public interest" and again asserted that the Stutz investigation was in the nature of a "packed jury."

The correspondence includes a letter from E. W. Cox, secretary of the exchange, stating that Mr. Ryan, in the opinion of the governing committee of that institution "has been guilty of conduct and proceedings incongruous with just and equitable principles of trade."

TWO OUT OF FOUR HAVE BUBONIC PLAGUE. Vera Cruz, June 10.—Of four suspects examined during the last two days, two were found to be suffering with bubonic plague. One of the ten persons confined on quarantine island, has died of the disease. One recovery is reported and the other eight were found not to be affected.

An American destroyer arrived from New Orleans today with enough serum for 5,500 injections, and other medical serum for 3,000 injections prepared in Mexico City, has also arrived. It is planned to begin vaccination today.
