

SHAMROCK IV WON FIRST VICTORY IN YACHTING REGATTA

Resolute Forced Out Of Running By Accident To Her Rigging.

MUST WIN TWO MORE EVENTS TO GET CUP

Challenger Victorious In Face Of What Appeared Certain Defeat.

Sandy Hook, N. J., July 15.—Great Britain gained her first to hold in forty-nine years on the Americans today when Sir Thomas Lipton's challenger Shamrock IV, won the first race of the 1920 regatta after the defender, Resolute, had been forced out of the running by an accident to her rigging.

The green challenger must win two more races of a possible maximum of four, if she is to achieve the Thomas Cup. Resolute, which has been in possession of the New York Yacht Club since 1851. The second race will start at noon on Saturday.

Shamrock's victory was in the face of what had seemed certain defeat. Resolute had taken the lead at the start and held it by an ever-widening margin until, as she swooped within a mile of the turning mark fifteen miles from the start, when the great vessel of pleasure craft saw her great enemy bellying canvass, flutter and begin to sink down her mast. She had napped her throat halyards, and a second later the jaws of her gaff were battered beyond repair.

Resolute Crippled Capt. Charles Francis Adams, II, sent two men aloft to repair the damage while the stricken vessel limped to the finish, as it was within five minutes around the Shamrock IV. A few moments later, however, the men descended, reported the extent of the damage and Captain Adams gave the order that furl the Resolute's main and gave the race to Shamrock IV. When the Resolute was seen to be in trouble a tug bearing Sir Thomas Lipton's yacht, the Victoria, from which Sir Thomas was following the progress of his challenger. Many yachtsmen believed Sir Thomas was ordering Shamrock IV to fail to cross the finish line, making it no race. A statement he issued later said this was his initial impulse, but that he had been persuaded by his companions to permit the yacht to finish, as it was felt that construction and sturdiness of the vessel should be taken into account in determining the issue as well as comparative speed in the rival crews.

Crafts Follow Yacht More than 100 craft, ranging in size from an ocean liner to tiny power boats that were almost lost in the maze, followed the contenders over the thirty-mile course that crossed the weathered, yellow Ambrose lightship and took them fifteen miles southwest by south along the New Jersey coast and back to the New York Yacht Club.

Shamrock IV was given a mighty ovation of screaming whistles and flags as she flashed across the line at 4 minutes, 26 seconds after 4. She had completed the course in 4 hours, 26 minutes and 26 seconds. The weather was anything but favorable for a yacht race, the sky was overcast and what little breeze stirring was fitful.

Not Lipton's Way Aboard Steam Yacht Victoria, July 15.—Sir Thomas Lipton, owner of the challenger, declared that while technically he won the first race, he does not want that kind of a victory. "It is not Tom Lipton's way," he declared.

ROOSEVELT BELIEVES IN GREAT FUTURE FOR U. S.

Resources Of Nation Have Only Been Scratched, He Says.

New York, July 15.—Full development of the nation's resources, intelligent use of the ballot and unwavering faith that this country is "going up" were named by Franklin D. Roosevelt, the democratic vice presidential nominee, as the factors that will bring the nation to the benefit of this country, in an address at the New York Yacht Club.

Mr. Roosevelt declared a conservative national policy was not wanted by those who had a conception of America's untouched natural wealth. "We have only scratched the surface of our resources," he said, "and we have never had a better time to develop and expand and advance up to date."

Mr. Roosevelt expressed the belief that the people of the United States had had to see and hear the men who had been nominated on the national ticket. He characterized his coming campaign tour as "an inspired opportunity to get acquainted with my fellow Americans."

"This privilege," he said, "would have a beneficial effect upon his American."

Platform To Be Cox's Guide In Wide Campaign

Acceptance Speech Will Be Confined To Party Principles, Governor Says.

Columbus, Ohio, July 15.—Governor James M. Cox, democratic presidential nominee, spent most of today attending to executive duties at the state house preparatory to his departure tomorrow for Washington, where he will confer Sunday with President Wilson.

Prior to leaving late in the afternoon, the governor will receive eight leaders of the national women's party, who are to present arguments that he urge the Tennessee legislature to ratify immediately the federal suffrage amendment, in order that women may vote in November.

Governor Cox indicated today that his speech of acceptance may be entirely silent on the prohibition question. When asked whether prohibition would have a place in it, the governor stated that it was the custom to confine the speech to the party platform. The platform is silent on prohibition. Returning delegates from the San Francisco convention and other party leaders with whom the presidential nominee has discussed campaign plans are said by Governor Cox to be strongly in favor of establishing three headquarters in New York, central at Chicago and western at San Francisco.

The governor received a letter from Governor Comwell, West Virginia, from the West Virginia legislature that that state is in the doubtful column and advised him to "take it out with the republicans."

The governor's curiosity to know who was the Pennsylvania delegate who persisted in voting for him practically all through the San Francisco convention while almost the entire state delegation voted for Palmer was satisfied when V. R. Davis, Lancaster, Pa., called and claimed credit for being the single Cox supporter.

Washington, July 15.—Governor Cox, democratic candidate for president, will arrive in Washington shortly after noon Saturday, it was stated tonight by Judge Timothy T. Ansberry, at whose home the Ohio governor will be a guest while in the capital.

Judge Ansberry said that as yet no formal conference had been arranged for the nominees, other than that with President Wilson Sunday morning. In a telephone conversation with Judge Ansberry, Cox expressed a desire to attend church services here Sunday morning, unless the conference at the white house should interfere.

Harding Says No Inroads Will Be Made

Marion, Ohio, July 15.—Perfect confidence that the third party will make inroads into the republican camp, was expressed today by Senator Harding, the republican candidate for president.

He expressed gratification that Senator La Follette had declined to be a candidate of the third party, and added that he believed "few republicans are interested in the third party movement."

Senator Harding's comment was made during a pause in a hard day's work on his speech of acceptance, which he is to deliver at a banquet here today at the formal notification ceremonies here.

Dr. Simmons was measurably reconciled to the Allies' solution. Tension is greatly relaxed at German headquarters. FARMER-LABOR NOMINEE TOUR COUNTRY IN CAMPAIGN FORTY-EIGHTERS RIDICULED

H. P. Christensen, Party Leader, Says He Will Make Vigorous Fight—Liberals Decline Fusion Movement and Adjourn After Wrangle

Chicago, July 15.—Harley P. Christensen, nominee of the farmer-labor party for president, will make a campaign tour of the country from coast to coast and from border to border, he announced today.

Mr. Christensen said he intended to leave tonight for his home at Salt Lake City, and that as soon as the national campaign committee formulated plans that were now being considered, he would have further announcements. Until then, he said he thought the statement he had made at the committee of 48 meeting this morning, covered the matter fully.

Mr. Christensen told the committee of 48, that although he had favored Senator La Follette as a candidate, now that the farmer-labor party had drafted him he would be faithful to the working men who nominated him and driven away by what they described as a "class name."

The appeals went unheeded and the title already approved by the labor and farmer groups went through with a whimper. With LaFollette removed as potential candidate for the presidential nomination, no well organized boom was left. As a result of the delegates were soon provided with an assortment from which to choose. The list of names placed in nomination included, besides Christensen:

Agree on Christensen. Dudley Field Malone, New York; Eugene V. Debs, the socialist nominee; Henry Ford, Detroit; Louis F. Post, assistant secretary of labor; Governor Ezra L. Frator, North Dakota; J. A. Adams, Hull House, and several others. After one ballot the convention voted to eliminate all excepting Christensen and Malone, the two leaders, and Frator was nominated on the second ballot.

When vice-presidential candidates were called for the convention was swamped with a list of twenty or more, but name after name was withdrawn, either by the candidates in person or by friends, until only three were left—Max S. Hayes, Carrie Chapman Catt, suffragist leader, and Lester Barlow, leader of the World war veterans. Hayes received all accepting about a dozen votes, and the nomination was made unanimous and at 4 o'clock the convention adjourned sine die.

Changes Political Party. The new party's presidential nominee is a native of the west. He was born at Weston, Idaho, 49 years ago. From early life on the farm, he was the eldest of five children, ploughed away at an education until he graduated in law at Cornell university. He since has spent most of his time in Salt Lake City.

Prior to 1912 Christensen was ranked as a "Dolliver" republican but allied himself with the Bull Moose in that year. The death of that party set him adrift and, he said, he "slid into the stall and voted for Wilson in 1916."
