GREENVILLE, S. C., Jan. 5.—Saying that there is no moral difference between the man who stabs another in the back and a "blind tiger," Judge George E. TODAY'S ATTRACTIONS
Royal—Lionel Barrymore in "The Master Mind."
Grand—Will Rogers in "Cupid, the Cowpuncher."
Bijou—Douglas Fairbanks in "Flirting With Fate."
Victoria—Bill Leitch's "Teddy Bear Girls."

ROYAL
Could a man hate the way "The Master Mind" does and come through clear? Could he employ a beautiful and innocent girl in a revenge plot—blacken her reputation and then marry her to his bitterest enemy for the sole purpose of ruining him? Could he control a band of crooks and blackmailers, move them like pawns to fit his relentless purpose? Could he force through such a plot by pure will power—by psychic force and himself elude detection?
Such is the theme of Lionel Barrymore's initial First National production, "The Master Mind," filmed from Daniel G. Carter's powerful stage success, and which opens at the Royal today for three spectacular days of intense entertainment. It is the first of a notable series of exceptional photodramas to be released by First National, and has all of the reputation of past First National attractions to back it up. It is a soul-stirring sensation—a thunderbolt of tenderness—a typhoon of emotions—a cyclone of terrific punches, showing that man's mind—the grave is not its goal; man's strength—revenge is its sure goal; man's love—demands excessive tolls; man's hope—demands saving of his soul. These tremendous truths will crash upon you as you sit spellbound watching this terrific thunderbolt unfold on the Royal screen.

GRAND
Will Rogers, the Broadway stage sensation whose entry on the screen has been received with acclaim by every theater in the United States, comes back to the Grand for an engagement opening today in the greatest of all the great pictures he has produced to date—"Cupid, the Cowpuncher," a picture of such magnitude that the world's largest theater, The Capitol, of New York city, played it for a long run, and came out in a straightforward statement that it was the biggest success of the season.
"Cupid, the Cowpuncher," is such a picture as will make you friendly with the whole world; it will make you love your enemies, so warm will it make the cockles of her heart, and will send you home with a feeling that all is well with the world, with no weighty problems or mysteries to solve after you have retired for the night.
The sunshine of the Rogers personality floods every foot of "Cupid, the Cowpuncher." He makes his entrance with the jump, and exits the same way. There's a romance, so pure, so simple and straightforward, so appealing that you'll feel young again—if you're not, and there are thrills that will keep you awake throughout. Appearing with Rogers is pretty Helene Chadwick, the brilliant star of "Scratch My Back."

BIJOU
Today again the Bijou comes forward with their "Royal Thursday" super-treat for their patrons. Again this week, the fascinating personality of Douglas Fairbanks will charm, entertain and thrill as few of the gifted stars of the silver sheet can do. Again today will patrons of the Bijou get the biggest money's worth of entertainment for the smallest price.

Douglas Fairbanks, in "Flirting With Fate," does some of the greatest screen impersonation work of his entire brilliant career, and the picture is rated among the greatest triumphs of the screen in its class.
Dainty, beautiful Jewel Carmen is co-starred with Fairbanks, making it a double star combination that would be hard to beat. Miss Carmen is now being starred alone in big Metro productions, and this alone would make the picture one of the treats of the season.

ANOTHER GRIFFITH PRODUCTION
Playgoers who have been privileged to see D. W. Griffith's great spectacles, "The Birth of a Nation" and "Hearts of the World," will be interested in the announcement that his colossal production, "The Fall of Babylon," has just been secured for a special engagement at the Royal theater to open Thursday of next week.
From all accounts the magnitude of this super-spectacle is the most staggering and startling achievement Mr. Griffith has thus far brought into being, with more than 125,000 men and women in one scene of splendor that shows all the color, life and abandonment of a bacchanalian feast. The cast of players, too, is typical of a Griffith company, including such established favorites as Constance Talmadge, George Fawcett, Mildred Harris (Mrs. Charles Chaplin), Tully Marshall, Pauline Stark, Seena Owen, Alma Rubens, Kate Bruce, Alfred Paget and Elmo Lincoln.

LOCAL NOTICE TO MARINERS
South Carolina—Charleston harbor and approach—Main channel—north jetty gas and bell buoy, 6, temporarily moved December 31, 1920, 200 yards (SW by W 3/8 W) from its present charted position, to mark the wreck of the schooner Kornas, lying on the north side of main channel opposite the outer end of north jetty. The wreck is 75 yards from the buoy. Immediate steps are being taken by the United States district engineer for the removal of the wreck. Upon removal the buoy will be replaced in its charted position of which due notice will be given.
