

TWO
NEW BERN-BALTIMORE
BOAT EVERY FIVE DAYS

William A. French of New Bern
Makes Generous Gift to Masonic Institutions

(Special to The Star)
NEW BERN, Jan. 11.—Following a telegram from the New York canal section of inland waterways, war department, Friday night, which stated that the federal boat line connecting New Bern and Baltimore would be run on a five-day schedule, a boat to leave Baltimore every five days, M. D. Stevenson, manager here, received last night a fuller letter explaining in detail the plan.

The first one of these boats left Baltimore yesterday and another will follow in five days. The operation of the shipper here is asked to make the line a success, as the war department, it is explained, is trying to convince the country that the money spent on inland waterways in North Carolina is well spent. The boat left here late yesterday afternoon loaded to the limit and better co-operation from the Baltimore end is expected.

J. C. Boyette, of Baltimore, arrested here a few days ago for transporting Miss Martha Hansen into this state contrary to the Mann act, is well known in Baltimore. Business details reaching here says that he is an expert ship-building mechanic, that he has worked in a private yard there, built the Marion, which is still tied up at a local dock, that he is known to the yachtsmen, and left Baltimore to go to Florida. Whose child Boyette has with him is unknown. It has developed recently that Boyette has had some marital troubles and fell in love with this girl.

A generous deed rumored around the city lately, was done during the last meeting of the Sudan temple when Past Potentate William French of Wilmington, placed upon the records of Masonry a gift that will live in the memory of all who know him.

At a business meeting of the temple a motion was brought before the session to have the recorder reimburse Mr. French with $1000 for various expenditures he had personally incurred in attending to certain business details of his work as potentate. Upon its passage by unanimous vote, Mr. French thanked his fellow Masons, telling the recorder that he accepted and directed him to give half of the total to the Masonic orphanage at Oxford, and the other $500 to the home for aged and infirm Masons at Greensboro.

The Morning News said: "Mr. French's action, coming from a heart that is absolutely unselfish, showed a characteristic well known to his friends and is a distinct indication of the 'manner of men' that compose Masonry. We cannot say too much for 'Billie' French."

At a mass meeting last night, held at the direct demand of the women of this city, the proposed city manager form of city government was taken up, both sides being well presented. Larry I. Moore presented the city manager and Mr. R. A. Nunn the present government. The questions were referred to the officials of the city through the mayor and board of aldermen, unanswered for some time and carried by both newspapers daily were finally answered in a fashion. The old times of falling into a small minority, even Mr. Nunn admitting that the women were in favor of the change. It seems probable that Nunn's resignation in the election shall be held, will go strongly for the city manager. The experiences of Norfolk and many other towns have been cited and the papers have been keeping before the people the wretched state of affairs of the local city government, which has been gradually going deeper into debt each year. The nearest town to New Bern having this form of government is Morehead City, a town of about 3000.

ANNUAL MEET TODAY
The annual meeting and election of officers of the Wilmington Chapter of Red Cross will be held at 11 o'clock this morning in the offices of the local organization located at room No. 325, custom house building. Besides electing officers to serve during the ensuing year, reports of the work undertaken in 1920 will also be made.

KNITTING MILL MEN TO GATHER IN CHARLOTTE
Bishop John C. Kilgo is Out of Danger—Navy Office Closed

(Special to The Star)
CHARLOTTE, Jan. 11.—About 100 knitting mill men from cities throughout the south are expected to be at the attendance here Wednesday at a meeting of two divisions of the National Association of Underwear Manufacturers' association, and, under the group meeting plan, those to be discussed are the problems of employes will be discussed.

The call for the meeting was issued by the secretary of the national association, and, under the group meeting plan, those to be discussed are the problems of employes will be discussed in the southeastern and southwestern divisions.

J. F. Taylor of Kingston is president of the southeastern division and E. L. Miller, Jr., of Chattanooga, Tenn., is president of the southwestern division. Telegrams today report Bishop Kilgo as out of danger, but nervous. He is at the Union Protestant hospital in Baltimore. He was operated on Monday.

After an existence here for 10 years, the doors of the Charlotte navy recruiting station are closed and all the furniture and office supplies are being packed for shipment elsewhere. Chief Quartermaster A. W. Wilson, who has been in charge for more than a year, is awaiting instructions. Full enlistments in the navy and the naval training school are understood to be responsible for the closing.

Representative Will Neal of Marion practically lost all interest in his efforts to wipe out the primary law when he received from a constituent in McDowell today a five-page single spaced typewritten prayer to repeal the Volstead act.

THEATRICAL

ROYAL—"THE FORBIDDEN WOMAN"

"The Forbidden Woman," Equity pictures second big Clara Kimball Young picture, was completed on the Pacific coast several weeks ago and was exhibited before an audience consisting almost entirely of people of the motion picture industry, and the consensus of opinion was that the picture—big in the every sense of the word—big in the story—big in its manner of telling, and big in the work of Clara Kimball Young and the players who support her. Later reviews of the picture by New York and major city critics are unanimous in their approval of the play.

The story is from the pen of Lenore J. Coffee, a Los Angeles newspaper woman, and involves the career of a brilliant, beautiful artist in a rare Parisian story.

It might well be said that no actress on stage or screen surpasses Clara Kimball Young in brilliancy of characterization, beauty and histrionic powers. Miss Young includes such notable as Conway Tearle, acknowledged the most finished lover on the American stage; Kathryn Adams, known and admired by millions; W. H. Leland, the "star" favorite; Jiquel Laneo, Milla Davenport, Stanton Williams, and John MacKinnon, all indicating that audiences everywhere will receive a special treat.

GRAND
Jack Pickford's premier screen achievement "The Little Shepherd of Kingdom Come" from the popular classic by John Fox, Jr., opened to one of the largest audiences of the season at the Grand yesterday. There is hardly a man or woman, boy or girl who is not so familiar with the "Little Shepherd." The book has been read in the class-rooms of school and university; it has penetrated to the remotest farm house and the most luxurious boulevard apartment.

A consummate artistry is displayed by Jack Pickford in the interpretation of the mountain-boy role which is given him in this picture. Not only in the big scenes, but in the most delicate moments when he is called upon to register the naive bits of humor which spring from the simplicity of his nature does he show a mastery of screen technique.

BIJOU
The current attraction at the Bijou, which will undoubtedly bring one of the biggest crowds of the season, is the latest chapter of that whirlwind Rocky mountain serial "Ruth of the Rockies," in which is starred fascinating dare-devil Ruth Roland, with an all-star supporting cast that makes it the greatest serial of the year from point of thrills and action.

"Ruth of the Rockies" is gaining speed with each additional episode that is screened, and no patron of the Bijou should miss a single chapter. There will be another Ambrose comedy also on today's bill.

Tomorrow William S. Hart comes to the Bijou in "Wolves of the Sea," another one of those big Paramount-Artcraft super-special productions.

NEW GRIFFITH PRODUCTION
"The Fall of Babylon" is the title of the new D. W. Griffith production that again brings this dramatic genius to the fore as the peer of all producers of mammoth spectacles. Those who have been privileged to see Griffith's "The Birth of a Nation" and "Hearts of the World" will welcome the announcement that "The Fall of Babylon" will be shown here at the Royal opening tomorrow.

One of the largest and most notable companies ever assembled by Mr. Griffith will act the principal parts, the foremost players including Constance Talmadge, Pauline Starke, George Eastcott, Mildred Harris, Pauline Stark, Seena Owen, Alma Rubens, Kate Bruce, Alfred Paget, Elmo Lincoln and Ruth Darling. More than 125,000 men and women appear in the spectacle.

MILLIONS OF TOBACCO ARE STILL IN GROWERS' HANDS
KINSTON, Jan. 11.—The tobacco market here reopened today for a long draws out post-Christmas season. Usually the holidays find nearly all of the crop in this section marketed, but 1920 closed with a large part of the crop production still in the barns. Millions of pounds remain to be sold.

Planters who have marketed slowly in the hope that prices would improve in certain little hope that the reopening will find the situation better than in December. The fact that years of over-production have filled storage warehouses to the brim has become too evident to them, and king tobacco will be a sick monarch in this part of the bright belt until the growers are convinced of a greater demand.

HAVE DARK HAIR AND LOOK YOUNG
Don't stay gray. Nobody can tell when you darken gray, faded hair with Sage Tea and Sulphur.

Grandmother kept her hair beautifully darkened, glossy and attractive with a brew of Sage Tea and Sulphur. Whenever her hair took on that dull, faded or streaked appearance, this simple mixture was applied with wonderful effect. By asking at any drug store for "Wych's Sage and Sulphur Compound" you will get a large bottle of this old-time recipe. Improved by the addition of other ingredients, all ready to use at very little cost. This simple mixture can be depended upon to restore natural color and beauty to the hair.

A well-known downtown druggist says everybody uses Wych's Sage and Sulphur Compound now because it darkens so naturally and evenly that nobody can tell it has been applied. It's so easy to use, too. You simply dampen a comb or soft brush and draw it through your hair, taking one strand at a time. By morning the gray hair disappears and another application or two, if it is restored to its natural color and looks glossy, soft and beautiful.

JACKSONVILLE, Fla., Jan. 11.—The steamer Rochester reported by wireless this afternoon that she had picked up two negro fishermen from Miami, who had been adrift in an open boat since January 4. No further details were learned.

RICHARD FURMAN LOCATED

(Special to The Star)
GREENVILLE, S. C., Jan. 11.—Richard Furman, 21-year-old sophomore student of Furman university who was reported yesterday to have been missing since he left the college, December 23, has been located. His mother, who lives in Sumter county, has received definite information that her son enlisted in the navy at the Columbia recruiting office before Christmas and was sent at once to a recruiting station in the north, according to telegraphic advices from Sumter today.

WOMAN THINKS SHE IS PRIVILEGED TO TALK

"If anyone ever had a miserable stomach I surely had. It was growing worse, too, all the time. Had severe pains and attacks every ten days or two weeks and had to call a doctor, who could only relieve me for short while. Two years ago last February I took a treatment of May's Wonderful Remedy and I have not had a spell of pain or misery since. My friends just wonder that I am looking so well. I feel I am privileged to talk about it." It is a simple, harmless preparation that removes the catarrhal mucus from the intestinal tract and allays the inflammation which causes practically all stomach liver and intestinal ailments, including appendicitis. One dose will convince or money refunded. R. R. Bellamy and druggists everywhere.

A PATHETIC APPEAL
What Is Your Money to You In the Face of Such Misery

Dear Harriet:—I am very sorry that I could not write to you sooner. I lost my little book in which the addresses were in. I hunted everywhere until I found it. Dear Harriet, don't be angry that I didn't write quickly. Oh, how I miss Cranford and the school! Here I don't do anything. Oh, how I wish I could go back to America! Here they don't leave anyone go out to America, until they get a ship-card from Washington. Dear Harriet, how I long to hear from my friends in Cranford. I didn't get a letter from anyone since I am here. Think out in your head how lonesome and bad it is for me. Not a word from my friends. We reached home safely, thank God. I long for America and Cranford. It is terrible bad here. There was a war here in this spot where we live. Great cannon, machine guns, and all sorts of things were here. Shrapnel and shells were flying in the air. The war here was before we came here. Oh, how I wish some one would send me a ship-card from Washington so I could go out. Dear Harriet, if you see my father please tell him to take us back. Tell him you received a letter from me in which I wrote it is very bad here. Tell him to please take us back or we will die here.

Are you on the honor roll, and Betty, too? What news have you got to write to me? Must close my letter now because it is growing dark and we have nothing to burn. We go to bed as soon as it is dark. It is dark here at 5 o'clock. It is snowing here and all the waters are frozen. There is skating here. Will close my letter, sending you and the family our best regards and wishes. Also give my best regards to my class-mates and all the teachers. Good-bye!

What a contrast that little girl is finding as she thinks of the comforts and peace she knew in America, and compares it with the cold and hunger and devastation all around her in the spot where she now lives! What a contrast between our happy homes, with all their abundance, and the suffering of millions of little children over there, who are, in many cases, "living in dugouts, unfurnished except for a pile of straw in one corner, on which all the family sleeps in a heap huddled together for warmth," or "roaming the country like wild animals," or "dying in the streets," or homeless orphans, "wandering from door to door or town to town" in search for food and someone to love them and give them shelter! Their cry must be heard by thousands more in this land of fatness if the tragedy of their suffering and death is not to be an everlasting reproach to America. And we still believe that it will be heard and answered.

There was a whole-souled abandon in the act of a farmer in West Point, Ill., for example, who converted his entire wheat crop into cash and sent every dollar of it to feed the starving children. This is the letter: "A few weeks since I sent you a $100 contribution for the Child Feeding Fund. Now I am enclosing another contribution ($880.04) and I want to tell you about it. I am a farmer and this is the proceeds of this year's wheat crop. I put this wheat in the bin at threshing time when it was worth $2.50 per bushel, expecting to get a bigger price for it. But when wheat dropped, I says to myself, 'Well, I'm left this time.' So the more I got to thinking about this Child-Feeding Drive, I says to myself, 'I'll win out on the wheat deal after all, for I'll just cash it in and send the proceeds to feed starving children, and by so doing, I will realize the highest price I ever received for wheat, if it is only $1.70 per bushel.' I will close, hoping that you may be fully successful in raising the $23,000,000."

No deductions for expenses. For every dollar you give, two dollars will be furnished in labor, transportation and local food supplies by the communities assisted. Make checks payable to European Relief and send to MEARES HARRISS, City Chairman.
