Shipping Board Chairman for Business-Like Marketing

WASHINGTON, Jan. 14.—In commenting on reports that the shipping board is contemplating a reduction in the price of government merchant vessels, Chairman Benson declared tonight that the board has taken the position that the ships will be disposed of in an orderly and business-like manner, in accordance with the provisions of the new shipping act.

The act provides, he explained, for the ultimate turning over of the government owned merchant marine to private ownership but in a manner consistent with sound business policy. Sale of the fleet, he said, if it is continued, could not be regarded as good business administration.

Meanwhile, the chairman said, the board is trying to reduce to a minimum the extent of government control over the fleet and leave as much as possible of the conduct of the shipping industry of the country to the operators. This is being accomplished, he said, by the Margaret Hawkins, Miss Mary Hadley Connor and Miss Hadley Woodard.
