There was evidence of export buying during the early part of the session and this to-gether with reports of green bugs from Oklahoma staiffened the market. The leading longs were sellers on the bulges though trade was not large at any time during the day. Country offerings were not large and there was better demand for actual stuff in the southwest. Large elevator interests were reported as buyers in Kansas City market. Ultimately the short side looks best but at present with senti-ment mostly bearish and market probably short, we can easily get sharp rallies and when they come we favor

Corn showed srtength and resistance was noticeably in evidence to any attempt to force lower prices. What weakness developed was credited to sympathy of lower wheat prices. Cash market was higher, but there was very litle trade as the weather prevented 7814 little trade as the weather prevented free inspection. The Monday receipts 92 will be large, some are looking for a will be large, would only favor sales will be large, some are fooking for a thousand cars. Would only favor sales when the bulges come.
Oats sympathized with wheat and corn and the trade was of a local character. The cash market held firm throughout the session and on the dips the buying power increased and we would prefer awaiting rally from this level before making sales.
