MEMBERS OF GIRL RESERVES JOIN THRIFT CLUB HERE
All the girl reserves of the Y. W. C. A. met together Friday afternoon in the gymnasium for an interesting program in observance of national thrift week. The meeting was presided over by Barbara Senior, president of the Pi Epsilon Pi club. The girl reserves were: Madeline Kellum, president of the T. M. T. M. club; Ed in prayer; Virginia Cathell explained why we have thrift week at this time and what it should mean. A short play, "Let's Make a Budget" followed, in which Wilmer Kuck, Idalee Crocker, Elizabeth Brady and Wilhamina Shutt took part. The theme of the play was the importance of making an intelligent plan of how you are going to spend your money and then keeping an account of how you really spend it. The fact that all our money is a trust and we are responsible for spending it wisely was emphasized. After the play Miss Jackson took the names of all who would like to join a thrift club, thereby promising to save something next month. Thirty-four girls gave their names and many of them promised to keep an account also. Then followed some very interesting stunts after which refreshments were served. The clubs will meet at the regular times this week. The Pi Epsilon Pi's are planning an interesting program on "Our Dear Enemies."

Evanson-Kaminsky
A pretty wedding was solemnized Tuesday night in the Bnai Israel synagogue, when Miss Beatrice Evanson became the bride of Mr. Morris Kaminsky, the ceremony being performed by Rabbi Cohen. After the marriage the wedding party repaired to the club rooms of the Harmony circle, where they enjoyed a reception and dinner.

The bride is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. H. Evanson, 715 Castle street. The bride party entered to the strains of a wedding march played by Grainger's orchestra. Miss Sadye Kaminsky served as maid of honor; Charles Kaminsky acted as best man. The bridesmaids wore Misses Belle Kosh, Annie May Lowenstein and Gertrude Neworth. The flower girls were Misses Kaminsky and Jaffe.

The bride wore a handsome gown of beaded chiffon over Duchess satin; she carried a bouquet of white roses. The bridesmaids were attired in apricot satin, and they carried bouquets of roses.

The groomsmen were Messrs. Sam Sonnenberg, Abe Goldstein and S. M. Robenstein. The following acted as ushers: J. Miller, I. Miller; and the canopy holders were Eugene Neworth, Jack Goldstein, Irvin Goldberg and Sam Schatz.

SMALL LOSS BY FOREST FIRE IN WYOMING'S TIMBER LANDS
LARAMIE, Wyo., Jan. 22.—Only 97 fires occurred in the Medicine Bow national forest, comprising a large area of timbered land in Albany and Carbon counties, Wyoming, according to report of the supervisor made public here. Only one of these was destructive, burning about 20 acres of merchantable timber.

One of the fires was started by the carelessness of the campers, one from lightning and the remaining 95 from sparks from locomotives on a nearby railroad. Many of the minor blazes were discovered in their incipient stage and stamped out by the vigilant fire patrol maintained by the forest service and the railroad men riding on motor cars just ahead and just behind trains running over the railroad. The 1920 fire loss was unusually small.

FIND COFFIN EMPTY IN A MORGUE IN CORK, IRE.
CORK, Jan. 22.—Some idea of the way that the military are hoaxed in Ireland can be judged from the following:
The military officers visited Cork city morgue, where they had been informed that the body of a young man found drowned lay, for the purpose of holding a military inquiry.

Having obtained the keys of the mortuary the officers entered and searched the coffin in a reverential manner.
On raising the lid they found the coffin empty.

COLLEGE RATS ARE SMART
WELLESLEY, Mass., Jan. 22.—Culture is so widely spread in Wellesley that even the rats are learned. At least, they are so well educated to be caught in the ordinary traps. Numbers of Wellesley residents have been trying to trap the rats in the vicinity of Brook street, only to find their traps set at night, carefully hidden from sight in the morning by neat little mounds of earth, and in some cases buried so effectively that even those who set them could not find them again.

KRUPP'S BIG DIVIDEND
BERLIN, Jan. 22.—Krupp's balance sheet, which has just been issued, shows the complete "icabod" of German militarism, but a marvelous increase in the fields in which great German firms hope to develop their "future." The balance sheet shows that, while last year there was no profit, this year the gross profit is over two and a half million dollars, and the net profit just under one and a half million. No dividend has been declared, everything being used for reserves and benevolent funds.

GAS WELLS AT DAYTON, OHIO
DAYTON, O., Jan. 22.—Drilling on the Wampler farm, a few miles north of here, J. E. Barnes struck a flow of gas at 150 feet which, when lighted, blazed up ten feet. Several water-soaked taupaulins were used in putting out the blaze. Another well in the neighborhood struck several years ago, is of sufficient strength to supply one household. The new well has a six inch opening. Other farmers are contemplating sinking holes.

ONE OF SIX NEGROES DIES
NOEPOLK, Jan. 22.—One out of six negro children born here in 1920 died, while 20 out of 21 white infants survived, according to mortality statistics announced today by Health Commissioner Schenck.

SECOND HANSON-ELLIS BOUT NEXT THURSDAY
Both Wrestlers Desire Time for Recuperation.
The second of the Hanson-Ellis series of matches for the championship of the south and a purse of $1,000, which has been placed in the hands of Starkey and Kerr, will be wrestled on the Academy mat Thursday night of this week, January 27. Change from Tuesday night was made at the urgent insistence of both Hanson and Ellis who want every possible moment of elapsed time in order that they may be in the very best of condition. The first of the series of bouts was wrestled Friday night and Ellis was returned a winner after almost three hours of the most grueling work fans ever looked on.
Both men expect to be in perfect condition by Thursday night. So very much depends on the outcome of the second bout that neither is willing to take chances. Hanson can lose the entire series on this night while the worst Ellis can do is see things evened up. The "Kid" is confident of a win, but realizes that he will have to be in perfect condition.

CALIFORNIA BAKED POTATOES
Wash and bake six medium-sized potatoes at 500 degrees F. for three-quarters of an hour, or until the potatoes are done. Cut in halves lengthwise, scoop out the potato, and mash, adding about one-half cupful of hot milk, one and one-half teaspoonfuls of salt, one-eighth teaspoonful of pepper, and one-half cupful of finely chopped walnuts. Refill the potato shells and brush over the top with melted butter. Two tablespoonfuls will be sufficient for the six potatoes. Sprinkle with paprika and brown in a hot oven.—February Good Housekeeping.

BANANAS—TROPICAL STYLE
Peel eight bananas, cut in halves lengthwise and arrange in a greased baking dish. Add one cupful of sugar to one-half cupful of hot water and bring to the boiling point. Add six tablespoonfuls of chopped raisins, one-third cupful of chopped almonds, and two tablespoonfuls of lemon juice, and pour over the bananas. Bake in a moderate oven until the bananas are tender.—February Good Housekeeping.

STOCKED ON STOLEN GOODS
PARIS, Jan. 22.—Fired of working for others and eager to have a shop all on his own account, Marcel Lotic, a young man of 24, without any money conceived the idea of first burglarizing shops belonging to others and then set up his own business. He thought selling boots at reduced prices would assure a good income. He thereupon robbed a boot shop. Unluckily he stole odd boots and those he grabbed happened to be boots for the right foot only. Undismayed Lotic opened a shop where he advertised the sale of boots for one-legged men. This brought about his downfall and now he mediates on the sort of shop he will open when he gets his narrow cell in the Sante prison.

Competitors and Competition
Occasionally an enthusiastic advertiser disclaims any competition, as far as he is concerned. We feel a certain regret for him. We often wonder how folks can discover his worth without comparison.
The best test to our mind of competence is through competition. Without it, we could set no standards, determine no values.
The Bon Marche stores, like any other good organization, welcomes competition. Not only does it stimulate greater efforts on the part of our corps of buyers in their efforts to satisfy a critical clientele, but it as well assures our patrons that our best efforts and every advantage at our command is used to deserve their patronage.
