WILMINGTON'S METHOD IN RELIEF CAMPAIGN

How European Fund Was Secured by Chairman Harriss

(Special to The Star)

ABERDEEN, Feb. 4.—There is material in the office of Chairman Henry A. Page of the European relief council by which some startling contrasts could be made. Not contrasts of the generosity of the people in one section of the state over those of another, for no one section is more generous than another, but of the possibilities of good leadership and organizing ability.

We have in mind the recent campaign held in Wilmington under the leadership of Messrs. Harris and Page for the starving children of Europe. When the proceeds of this drive, which by the way, are still coming in, passed $3,000, and Wilmington had made an enviable showing before the drive was organized, Mr. Page asked Mr. Harris for a resume of the methods used by his committee. In his letter Mr. Harris seeks to place credit on someone else as in fact the actual execution of the plans no doubt belongs, but the executive committees and the sub-committees, the special chairmen and the captains, the shipyard quard and the railroad department, the advertising manager and the superintendent of education, the Rotary and the Kiwanis clubs, the school teachers and the societies, with a certain thing to do and to be responsible for—all this takes executive ability, and Mr. Harris had it.

There are men in other sections of the state who are interested in the same way and who have the ability, but who have not yet had the impulse to act. There are people also who have exercised every effort in behalf of this great charity, but without an organization, and, as hard as it is to say it, without much success. On the other hand, wherever there has been good system there has been good results, as seen in the cases of Goldsboro and Greensboro.

Every citizen of North Carolina should feel it his or her duty to take upon themselves the responsibility of seeking out the person in their locality who is best fitted to take charge of a campaign for funds for the starving children of Europe, and since time means everything now, get this person to agree to conducting a campaign for this charity.

THINKS IT WISE TO GET WHAT GERMANY OWES U. S.

WASHINGTON, Feb. 4.—It would seem "wise" to collect now the $254,000,000 balance owed by Germany to the United States for the expenses of the American army of occupation, "in view of the obligations to other nations Germany is now expected to assume," Representative Slemp, Republican, Virginia, a member of the house appropriations committee, said in a letter to Secretary Houston.

Mr. Slemp also wrote that he "wondered" if America could collect for more than 7,500 troops, "the number according to General Pershing's testimony it was argued by President Wilson we should keep in Germany." The American forces on the Rhine are said at present to number over 12,000 men.

The house committee was informed recently by war department officials that the cost of these forces to December 31 was over $270,000,000 of which Germany had paid a little over $35,000,000.

GREENVILLE CAPITAL AND LABOR HOLD CONFERENCES

(Special to The Star)

GREENVILLE, S. C., Feb. 4.—The first of a series of "capital and labor get-together meetings" was held last night in the local labor temple, at which representatives of both sides discussed problems of wages, unemployment and kindred topics with a view to bringing a better understanding between them. The meetings are to be held at regular intervals under the auspices of the trades and labor council here, and are calculated by leaders to promote a better spirit among all. "In few cities," said Congressman-elect J. J. McSwain at last night's meeting, "will be found labor and capital which works together in this commendable manner."
