Judge and Solicitor Had Been (Don Marquis in The New York Sun) Detained By Duplin Murder Trial

(Special to The Star)

CLINTON, Feb. 10 .- The term court scheduled to bagit here Monday opened only yesterday. Judge Bond and Solicitor Powers having been detained Monday and Tuesday through failure to complete the trial of a murder case in Duplan court last week. Judge Bond's charge to the jury was a most impressive one. 'In fact, the charges to the juries during the last year or two have been exceedingly valuable lessons in chvics and good citizenship for the throngs that attend the first day sessions of the court. and Judge Bond's charge, if anything, exceeded the best of the others in Particularly strong was his plea for respect for the law and his condemnation of the mob spirit. Citing the Goldsboro affair as an illustration, he "There wasn't a man, in the crowd that wanted to protect society. There is in no lynching mob lany man whose desire is to uphold the law. On the contrary, such a mob is composed of outlaws and cut-throats. There is neither manhood nor bravery in being one of a hundred armed men who butcher a defenseless victim. I do not mean to reflect upon the good people of Wayne county; it is a great county. but in it and in all counties are bad

The receipts of the Clinton postoffice have for quite a while been sufficiently large to justify the inauguration of a free delivery service, but there having been no poptlar demand for such a service, it has mever been authorized by the postoffice departsigned, asking the postal authorities to institute the service.

Do you know that the old women who bite the holes in the Swiss cheeses have had their jaws frozen this year in the severest winter that Switzerland has ever experienced?

They all need surgical operations and need them quickly if they are to go on with their work. The sum of 250 million dollars is needed if these women are to be saved. Let no American worthy of the name refuse to contribute to this cause. Mortgage the house at once, sell the car, and put aside the money you have saved for the children's clothes. . . .

Do not be sordid. The eyes of the world are on America in connection with this cause.

A Worthy Cause Tens of thousands of cats are wandering the streets these cold days with their fur just full of electricity. Stroke the fur of any of these stray cats, and you will hear the electricity crackle. Announcing— The Modes of Spring!

SPRING in all the joyousness of new life and bright days is reflected in the dashing newness of our latest arrivals in Frocks, Wraps, Suits, Blouses, Skirts, Hats.

The young Miss and the Woman of mature years will find not quite full assortments, as yet, but a gratifyingly select number of the newest modes in each line, suited to their individual requirements:

February—the Great Month of SILKS!

For many years "Miller & Rhoads Silks" have been famous thruout the South-for their style, no less than for their excellence of

In order to secure the most fashionable of these new fabrics for the development of dress plans for the coming season, also to obtain advantage of the new lower prices, the Store should be visited as early this month as practicable.

The New 1921 Silks, likewise Woolen Dress Goods, Dress Trimmings, Etc., are now ready for inspection, in very large and satisfying varieties.

You are Invited to Visit Richmond!

MERCHANDISE of all kinds - especially Silks, Weolen and Cotton fabrics - is rapidly finding a very reasonable and consistent price level; so much so, in fact, that it is now questionable whether these lines will go any lower for sometime, if at all.

However, we do not think it is practical to issue a Catalog this season, as all lines have not, as yet, been adjusted. For this reason we urge parrons to visit the Store as often as possible and take advantage of the changed price conditions as they manifest themselves from week to week.

We are always glad to send samples of all yard goods, and prices of any merchandise in which one may be interested.
