UP IN MABEL'S ROOM

The following criticism of "Up in Mabel's Room" which comes to the Academy of Music tonight was clipped from the Atlanta Journal of February 11: "Up in Mabel's Room" styled as a frivolous farce of feminine foibles and at times farcical, but whether one way or the other it was extremely pleasing to those who witnessed the first performance of the clever comedy at the Atlanta Monday evening.

"Up in Mabel's Room" was one of the very first of the so-called "bed-room" farces, of which there have been many, yet despite the fact that it has been running for a number of years the cleverness of the Collision-Harbach piece has not been dimmed. The cast is good, as a whole, and there were no noticeable defects in the technical side of the comedy. There was a naturalness and feeling about the part which brought one to the realization that possibly this wasn't a play after all but perhaps there was some mistake and these people were really undergoing the trials and tribulations they portrayed."

Tickets are now selling at the Wilmington Talking Machine company.

ROYAL

At the Royal beginning today will be presented one of the most meritorious photoplays of the season. The picture in question is Allan Dwan's production of William Allan White's powerful epic of American life, "In the Heart of a Fool." It is presented as the first National attraction by the Playhouse Photoplay corporation.

to nature. In fact they might be your own family or your neighbor. And this is one of the reasons that it has made such a strong appeal to motion picture patrons everywhere it has been shown. It has an excellent cast including James Kirkwood, Anna Q. Nilsson, Mary Thurman, Philo McCullough, Ward Crane, John Burton, Margaret Campbell, Percy Challenger, Arthur Hoyt, Kate Toncray, Emmet King and Maryland Morse.

GRAND

There's no chance for the throngs who admire the delightful personality of that fascinating star Olive Thomas to have another disappointment at the Grand today. "The Flapper" her greatest picture, which missed out recently, is already here and has already been given a private showing.

"The Flapper" presents Miss Thomas in one of the most delightful screen roles that it was ever her opportunity to enact. She was the typical flapper, she ran away from home to go to school but soon returned with more "flattering" ideas that you ever heard of. The small town had never seen such a thing in all its history. She even read "Snappy Stories." But she was glad to get back after all, the story throughout gives you an intimate glimpse of her best work, a picture that will even more greatly endear her to the thousands of her admirers all over the country. It will be shown at the Grand for one day—today only.

BIJOU

Today the Bijou will again have to exert its every means to find seats for the throngs who are racing in to see Eddie Polo in the greatest serial he has ever made for Universal, "The King of the Circus." This serial, as it draws nearer to a finish is getting more exciting and more intensely interesting each week, and today's chapter is said to be the greatest thriller yet.

Tomorrow the Bijou should have the largest crowds in its entire history for it presents none other than "America's Sweetheart" in the first of a series of a big two reel featurettes, the first one being "A Beast at Bay." These are the pictures that made Mary Pickford famous and present her in the roles for which she was born, the roles in which she is seen at her very best.

ROYAL WEDNESDAY

The first of the five-reel feature comedies in which Roscoe Arbuckle, the famous heavyweight star, is to appear, by arrangement with Joseph M. Schenck, is "The Life of the Party," adapted from Irvin S. Cobb's story of the same name. The picture will be shown at the Royal theater Wednesday and Thursday.

The story reveals the adventures and love affairs of an affable young lawyer, Aikerson Leary, in his efforts to break the milk trust. Leary's powerful adversaries attempt to ruin his reputation by sending a notorious "vamp" to blackmail him, but he not only succeeds in withstanding her charms, but beats out the corporation's candidate for mayor at the polls. Mr. Arbuckle's part includes Frank Campeau, Flora Daniel and Wilfred Greenwood. Walter Woods adapted the story to the screen and Joseph Henabery directed. It is a Paramount production.

GRAND TUESDAY

A picture that gives Elsie Ferguson unusual opportunities to display her talents is on view at the Grand tomorrow. It is called "Counterfeit" and presents the star as a southern girl of excellent family who is influenced by the impetuous state of her affairs and the offer of a large reward by the secret service to undertake the task of rounding up a band of counterfeiters. Not only does the story bring out Miss Ferguson's surpassing ability as an emotional actress, but also in the scenes in the homes of Newport society enhances her reputation as "the best dressed actress on the screen." A delightful love story and some pleasant comedy have been blended into the plot. David Powell has the leading male role and the cast also includes Charles Gerard and Helene Montrose. The story was directed by George Fitzmaurice.

BIJOU WEDNESDAY

Thousands of miles were traveled by the all-star company producing "Fighting Fate," the latest Vitaphone chapter play, in order to get settings and atmosphere proper and suitable for the backgrounds of the thrilling and dramatic happenings which feature the fifteen episodes of the drama.

The scenes are laid in various parts of the United States and Mexico, and in each case, the films were "shot" as near to the real location as was expedient. The large cast traveled about Southern California for months, William Duncan, the star and director, being always on the watch for bits of striking natural beauty or unusual formations which could be utilized in the plot of the play. The company even made a foray into Mexico for some desert and city scenes.

"Fighting Fate" opens its engagement at the Bijou Wednesday.

Facts on Income Tax

Deductions for contributions form an important item in the returns of many taxpayers. Contributions during the year to corporate organizations conducting charitable work, to societies for the prevention of cruelty to children or animals and to the special fund for vocational rehabilitation are allowable deductions if the aggregate amount does not exceed 15 per cent of the taxpayer's net income computed without the benefit of this deduction.

For example, a taxpayer whose net income for 1920 amounted to $20,000 may have contributed to the Young Men's Christian association $1,000, to the Young Women's Christian association $1,000, toward the construction of a new church $1,000, and to the associated charities of a city $500, a total of $3,500. Fifteen per cent of the taxpayer's total net income amounts to $3,000. Therefore, only this amount may be claimed as a deduction and the balance of such contributions must be considered as a gift.

Contributions to a hospital or like institution, the net earnings of which inure to private stockholders are not allowable deductions.

Frequently a deduction is claimed for a contribution to a needy family or individual charity. Such deductions are not allowed, contributions of this kind being considered a gift. Donations to churches are deductible including missionary funds, church building funds, pew rents, church assessments and church dues.

Deductions for contributions are allowed only for the year in which the contributions were made. Promises of future contributions should not be considered by the taxpayer in filing his return.

PE-RU-NA

READ HER LETTER—IT WILL DO YOU GOOD

"Pe-ru-na has been a godsend to me. I feel safe in saying that it saved my life. I was all run down and miserable when I commenced taking Pe-ru-na, but am on the road to recovery now. I cannot thank you too much."

Mrs. CHARLES ANSPACHER, B. F. D. No. 7, Lagrange, Indiana.

A letter like this brings hope and the promise of health to every sick and suffering woman. Perhaps you know what it means to have your daily duties a misery, every movement an effort, stomach deranged, pains in the head, back and loins most of the time, nerves raw and quivering—not a moment day or night free from suffering. Do as Mrs. Anspacher did. Take Pe-ru-na. Don't wait but start right away.
