

MONKEY WRENCHES DAILY ARE THROWN IN RALEIGH

Ward and Bailey and Connor and Daniels Have Tossed One of These Machinery-Wrecking Tools Into the Legislative Wheels—Of All the Wrenches Hurlled That of Bailey Is Most Effective

Morning Star Bureau, Warborough Hotel.
By R. E. POWELL
 RALEIGH, Feb. 14.—Monkey wrenches of different kinds are daily being thrown into the legislative machinery of the Old North State and a prospect is that this same session, so promising with the bedding of insurgency, may yet begeth something to progress in the ranks of the militia of war within the ranks of the militia are a half dozen or more instances that make such a prediction worth printing.

James H. Bailey, has thrown a monkey wrench into the fifty million dollar road issue for roads.

J. W. Bailey, his law partner and his son-in-law, has thrown a monkey wrench into the taxation program.

Henry C. Connor, Jr., of Wilson, has thrown a monkey wrench into the machinery of the treasury department.

Thomas Daniels is about to throw a monkey wrench into the well organized fight for an eight per cent interest law.

Thomas Dixon, changing his mind, is coming down here Thursday to throw a monkey wrench into the censorship bill of the ladies.

Labor leaders have thrown all kinds of monkey wrenches into the work of the compensation program.

Of all these monkey wrenches, the one that Collector Bailey is swinging about are perhaps the more effective. He opened up his views for the members of the finance committee of the house and senate and in a talk with the newspapermen today he said some more reforms for the legislature.

Mr. Bailey would go after the corporation commission. He would reorganize that body and go a little further than the governor. The general assembly might well, in his opinion, take the taxation and revenue policy over to the commissioner Staxwell, albert he and Staxwell are as wide apart as the two poles. Going further, he would establish the department of banking and put a big one a year even if the state was willing to pay him but half that amount.

One Public Service Man
 Doing these things he would be nothing to do but watch the freight rate fights and regulate the public service corporations. For this job Mr. Bailey would have a public service commissioner, or railroad commissioner, and one well versed in freight rates. The man could be found in the corporation commission's office now. W. G. Womble is the rate wizard of the commission and no one knows his value.

"If the corporation commission will give less study to ways and means of taxing our people and more to stopping the tax laid upon us in freight rate discriminations, the corporation commission's tax problems will all be resolved in the rapid increase of our wealth," Mr. Bailey says.

"North Carolina labors in the hands of ruinous freight rate discriminations. The Virginia cities and other cities have grown rich at our expense," he added.

Mr. Bailey started out to prove that the state is not as wealthy as the University of North Carolina says it is. On the other hand he says that the taxable income of the state is only one-third of the average for the United States. He figures have amazed the people because the state last year paid the federal government $169,000,000 in income, excess profits and stamps taxes.

The bulk of this was the state tax. Mr. Bailey explains, and it was paid by consumers in all parts of the country. The same is true of the excess profits tax, the bulk of which was paid by milk selling the goods in North Carolina all over the world.

The fact is, according to Mr. Bailey, that the state is frightfully poor. His arraignment of figures might be alarming but for his known opposition to taxation questions. They are creating an enormous amount of talk and are engaging the serious attention of Varner and Doughton, chairman of the senate and house finance committees.

Road Advocates Condemn
 Conceding a strong reaction to the road bill, its advocates today declare that the divergent groups cannot organize in their fight and for that reason the opposition will be negligible. The Pon statement and the condition of the bond market has been most alarming. The bonds can be sold for 112 per cent, but the governor wants them marketed for four, certainly not more than 112.

There will be no fight from the executive if the financiers of the state agree to selling them at 112-2. There will be a fight from the guardians of the treasury and the Connor broadside at Treasurer Lacy will strengthen the position a few members have taken. Connor says the state must pay its obligations, it not "as you go" it must prepare to pay them sometime without spending so much money for interest.

Again there appears strong and bitter opposition to an eight per cent interest law but this general assembly is willing to pass the Woltz contract bill unless the folks back home come to Raleigh and do some plain talking. The banking committee of the two houses that the business health of the state needs such a remedy to ward off stagnation.

The banking committee, it is charged, is stacked with bankers save the minority members. This appears to be true but no one blames Governor

PLAYMAKERS SCORE AGAIN

University Students Write and Act Three Plays
 (Special to The Star)
 CHAPEL HILL, Feb. 14.—Three new original one-act plays, each dealing intimately with North Carolina life, were presented Friday and Saturday nights by the Carolina Playmakers of the university at their playhouse in Chapel Hill.

Two of the plays were by Paul Greene, of Lillington. "The Miser," a monotone tragedy of farm life in Harnett county, and "The Old Man of Edenton," a melodrama of witchcraft which will be eaten in Palestine by orthodox Jews during the observance of the Passover holidays was baked in Cincinnati. Several hundred thousand tons of it will form the cargo of the Kodimo which will be the first vessel to sail direct from New York to the Holy Land. The ship will depart tomorrow. In connection with the baking of the matzo and its shipment Rabbi G. Wolf Margolis, of New York, president of the American assembly of orthodox rabbis, came to this city and put his official religious approval on the unleavened bread. While the matzo was being baked Rabbi J. M. Levin had the religious supervision over the process and saw that all the rules of the ancient Hebrews were observed.

of body showed close appreciation of the type of woman who wears her life out on lonely farms and ends so frequently in insane asylums.

The three plays were directed by Prof. George McKie, Douglass MacMillan, of Wilmington, and Miss Elizabeth Lay, and all the scenery, costumes, wigs, lighting, make-up and properties were handled by the playmakers. Prof. Frederick H. Koch, director, had general oversight.

"There's a Difference—Ask Those Who Know"

Easy to Make This Pine Cough Remedy

Thousands of families order by the prompt, inexpensive, and saves about $2.

You know that pine is used in nearly all prescriptions and remedies for coughs. The reason is that pine contains several peculiar elements that have a remarkable effect in soothing and healing the membranes of the throat and chest. Pine is famous for this purpose.

Pine cough syrups are combinations of pine and syrup. The "syrup" part is usually plain sugar syrup.

To make the best pine cough remedy that money can buy, put 2 1/2 ounces of Pinex in a pint bottle, and fill up with home-made sugar syrup. Or you can use clarified molasses, honey, or corn syrup, instead of sugar syrup. Either way, you make a full pint—more than you can buy ready-made for three times the money. It is pure, good and very pleasant—children take it eagerly.

You can feel this take hold of a cough or cold in a way that means business. The cough may be dry, hoarse and tight, or may be persistently loose from the formation of phlegm. The cause is the same—infamed membranes—and this Pinex and Syrup combination will stop it—usually in 24 hours or less. Splendid, too, for bronchial asthma, hoarseness, or any ordinary throat ailment.

Pinex is a highly concentrated compound of genuine Norway pine extract, and is famous the world over for its prompt effect upon coughs.

Beware of substitutes. Ask your druggist for "2 1/2 ounces of Pinex" with directions, and don't accept anything else. Guaranteed to give absolute satisfaction or money refunded. The Pinex Co., Ft. Wayne, Ind.
