Intermediate Schools of State Showing Decreased Interest This Year

(Special to The Star) CHAPEL HILL, Feb. 17 .- Widesweeping plans concerning debating and athletic activities in hundreds of North Carolina high schools have been announced at the University of North Carolina. Secretary E. R. Rankin, of the high school debating union, announced that the time for the triangular high school 12:12 p.

debates had been decided on April 1, and that the further eliminating contests at Chapel Hill for the championship of the state and the Aycock Memorial cup would take place two weeks later, April 14 and 15. The number, of high schools entered in the debating contest this year has mounted to 238, covering 90 of the 100 counties. Buncombe, Gaston, Guilford, and Pitt counties have eight schools each; Moore and Robeson counties have seven schools each entered; Wayne and Johnston have six each, and Alamance, Duplin, Mecklenburg, Rockingham, and Wake have five each.

These 238 schools, each with affirmative and negative teams, will fight out among themselves the question of collective bargaining, and those schools winning both sides of the contest wil send their teams to Chapel Hill for the further elimination contests.

Mr. Rankin has announced also that 39 high schools have entered teams in the seventh annual basketbal championship series, 19 teams from the eastern part of the state and 20 from the west. The eastern teams are Elizabeth City, Greenville, Fremont, Wilson, Durham, Benson, Cary, Clayton, Belhaven, Wilmington, New Bern, Chape Hill. Philadelphus, Red Oaks, Raleigh Stem, Roxboro, and Mason's Cross. From the west the teams are Burlington, Statesville, Jamestown. Siles City. Matthews, Mooresville, Candler Asheville, Leaksville, Dixie, Charlotte Badin, Concord, Belmont, Greensboro Reidsville, Winston-Salem, Startow: and Biltmore.

Managers from the 19 eastern teams Shreveport ... rain 44 St. Louis ... clear 36 Washington ... cldy 66 range dates for elimination games to Wilmington pt. cldy 77 . 57 decide the eastern championship. Details for the western championship

April 11-16, the ninth annual interscholastic track meet will be held and tournament. The week will be given over almost entirely to high school activities and many other events are being plannned in celebration of the event.

Last year the debating championship was won by Asheville, the basketball championship by Wilmington, the tennis tournament by Wilson in both past seven years.
