MARION LEGION POST IS NAMED AFTER LOCAL BOYS

(Special to The Star) MARION, S. C., Feb. 18.—At a meeting of the local American legion post decision was made to call the post "Crawford-Monroe" in honor of Marion Crawford and Eugene Monroe, two Marion boys who died on the battle field overseas. Col. J. M. Johnson who had just returned from the state meeting in Columbia made a report of the proceedings there. He declared that he came back to Marion with increased enthusiasm and the determination to devote even more time to legion activities. Plans for banquet on Washington's birthday took definite shape at the meeting. It was agreed shades should be present. Plates for more than a half hundred were spoken for. A club room for the local post was discussed and committee to report the night of the banquet was appointed to investigate this matter.
