KING GEORGE AND JAN CHRISTIAN SMUTS THE LEADERS IN MOVEMENT

would disturb the atmosphere and make the attainment of peace difficult.

"As soon as we hear Mr. de Valera is prepared to enter into conference with the British government and to give instructions to those under his control to cease from all acts of violence, we should give instructions to the troops and police to suspend active operations against those who were engaged in this unfortunate conflict. General MacReady's presence at the conference has additional significance because it has been decided that the "militarist party" in Ireland has been strongly opposing the negotiations and any idea of a truce.

No report of the proceedings of Mr. de Valera's conference with the southern Unionists has yet been issued, but it is believed that the principal topics discussed was a truce and that Eamon Duggan, a Sinn Fein member of parliament who was released from Mount Joy prison only a few days ago, acted as intermediary between the conference and the Sinn Fein leaders.

Smuts May be Chairman
Opinion still inclines to the idea that General Smuts, owing to the important part he has taken in the preliminary negotiations, will be the best chairman of the London conference, even if Mr. Lloyd George presides during the later stages, as would be almost inevitable if constitutional questions were under discussion.
Another matter that has been widely discussed today, arising out of the visit of the secretary for war, Sir Laming Worthington Evans, to the king yesterday, was the possibility that the military evacuation of Ireland is under consideration. This, it is recalled, has been advocated by many prominent statesmen, including Viscount Grey, former secretary for foreign affairs.
In view of General MacReady's attendance at the Dublin conference, it is believed not impossible that such development is actually under advisement.

CONVICT IS WOUNDED AS HE ATTEMPTS TO ESCAPE

William Tyre, white, serving a term on the roads of New Hanover county, was shot and painfully wounded yesterday afternoon about 2 o'clock by Guard Hardison when he attempted to make an escape. Superintendent Bryner, in charge of the stockade, arrested yesterday afternoon that it was the second attempt to escape made by Tyre, the first having been successful. The man was recaptured then, however, after only a brief period of liberty.
Shot from the gun of the guard took effect in the back and in one of Tyre's arms, but the wounds were not regarded as serious, even though the man was taken to the hospital to have his wounds dressed.
The men were at work yesterday afternoon when Tyre made his first attempt to gain freedom. The command of the guard to halt was not obeyed and the shot followed. The convict was hurried to the hospital for attention, where it was found his wounds were painful but not serious. The man is about 25 years old and is serving a sentence of one year on the roads.

PLANT TO PASTEURIZE MILK TO OPEN AUG. 10

Edward Hartenberg Goes to Philadelphia to Get Experience

Announcement was made yesterday that Edward Hartenberg, prominent Wilmington dairyman, will have ready for business about August 10 a modern milk pasteurizing plant on Dawson street, between Sixth and Seventh streets. The industry, the first of its kind for the city, will represent an outlay of approximately $25,000.
Mr. Hartenberg will leave today for Philadelphia to visit the big and modern pasteurizing plants in that city, to gain a general idea of their operation. He will return soon to supervise the installation of the up-to-date machinery for his plant, which equipment he has contracted for.
Several days ago Mr. Hartenberg had a conference here with a representative of the Creamery Packing company, Chicago, manufacturers of such machinery as he was contemplating buying, and he practically decided then to embark on this new undertaking. It was not until yesterday, however, that a definite announcement on the subject was made.
Dr. J. H. Hamilton, county health commissioner, is much interested in milk pasteurization, and has endorsed the several movements in the past which have contemplated the installation of a pasteurizing plant in Wilmington. As the public well knows, the process makes milk absolutely free from harmful bacilli without robbing it of any of its food properties.
It is expected that Mr. Hartenberg, in addition to pasteurizing his own milk, will invite other dairymen in this section to purify their supplies at his plant.

ABOUT 70 MEN PLACED IN JOBS SINCE JULY 1

Manager Bellamy Harris Makes Fine Start in Employment Office

What is considered a most remarkable record has been made by the Wilmington employment office since it was established the first day of the present month.

Late yesterday the bureau had placed in jobs in the seven business days it has been in operation between 65 and 70 men, including members of both the white and negro races. This announcement was made to a Star man by Bellamy Harris, manager of the office, who found time to trade a few words with the reporter between callers. Many in the waiting hours of the afternoon, and Manager Harris had been a busy man all day long. He was justly proud of the showing the office had made, which showing was some three or four times as good as had been expected as a starter.

"We haven't our telephone in yet, and are consequently handicapped in communicating with prospective employers," Harris, who added that the unemployment situation, he hoped, would be considerably relieved as soon as the office got to functioning smoothly. To the average person, considering the start that has been made, it appears as if the present pace is maintained most of the idle hands now in the city will soon be put to work, if their owners so will.
The employment office has a long list already of men wanting various kinds of work, from common day labor to skilled trades, and Wilmington business houses and industries needing additional or new help can probably all get their wants supplied by advising Mr. Harris of them.
The office is located on the first floor of the custom house, near the Market street entrance.

DEATH OF PROMINENT WOMAN
AT WRIGHTSVILLE YESTERDAY
Many friends here and elsewhere in the state will be grieved to learn of the death of Miss Loretta Stokley at her home at Wrightsville Sound last night yesterday. She was well and favorably known throughout the section.

For many years she was a faithful member of the First Baptist church, this city, and her life was regarded by friends as a beautiful sacrifice for an invalid sister who, in addition to the aged mother and a young brother, survive.
The funeral services will be conducted from the First Baptist church today, Rev. John Jeter Hurt, the pastor, officiating. Interment will be made in Oakdale cemetery. The honorary pallbearers will be Dr. A. H. Harris, Dr. Houston Moore, Dr. A. M. Baldwin and J. N. Huske. Active: W. H. Stokley, J. A. Oldham, W. D. Stokley, W. W. Huggins, R. I. Stokley and Fitzhugh Gibson, all nephews of the deceased.

ROYAL LAST TIMES TODAY

One of the most extraordinary stories ever projected on the screen in the super-drama, "Passion," which will appear at the Royal the last times today. The performance offered by Pola Negri, the famous Continental star, in this stellar role of such unique qualities is said to be one of the finest characterizations ever achieved by any actress and it is recorded that whole audiences have arisen to their feet and cheered her artistic triumphs.

GRAND
Petite and dainty as ever, Marguerite Clark made her first appearance in an independent production at the Grand yesterday before large and fascinated audiences. "Scrambled Wives" is the title of Miss Clark's first starring vehicle for release through First National, and it is without doubt 100 per cent ahead of anything she has previously done on the screen. It can be seen again today.

BIJOU
Another one of those great First National comedy screens is to be seen at the Bijou today. "The Skipper's Narrow Escape" based on the famous Fountaine Fox cartoon comedies, is the title and it's fully as laughable as "Wet and Warmer," the comedy sensation seen there last Saturday. All of the Carpentier-Demsey fight that the law allows to be shown will be seen in International News at the Bijou today, and there will also be another one of those all-star Universal western thrillers.

VICTORIA
For the last times, today and tonight Charles Worrell's Virginia Beauties will be seen at the Victoria theater in the big musical comedy bill which was inaugurated with yesterday afternoon's matinee. It's a good show, worth any one's time. Eileen Sedgwick fascinated large audiences yesterday in the opening chapter of "The Diamond Queen," her latest Universal serial hit.

RICHMOND MERCHANT DEAD
RICHMOND, Va., July 8.—Grief over the death of his wife, who passed out May 31, is reported to have caused a general breakdown in the health of Ellis Mitteloderfer, 73, prominent merchant, who died today in a local hospital. He had been ill one week.
