The Country Faith
Here in the country's heart
Where the grass is green,
Life is the same sweet life
As it e'er hath been.

Trust in a God still lives,
And the bell at morn
Floats with a thought of God
O'er the rising corn.

God comes down in the rain,
And the crop grows tall—
This is the country faith,
And the best of all!

EXCURSION UP RIVER TO THE LOCKS AND DAM TODAY

The first river excursion ever made to the locks on the Cape Fear, 29 miles above the city, will be made today on the steamer Mercur, the master of that boat announced yesterday. The trip is a beautiful one and will doubtless prove very popular during the remainder of the summer, since numerous citizens have never cruised on the Cape Fear above the city.

The Mercur will leave the dock at the foot of Orange street promptly at 9 o'clock this morning and plans are to have her return at 6 o'clock. Those making the trip are advised to carry lunches with them but for the convenience of those who may not care to do this, sandwiches and sodas will be sold on the boat.

The routing of the Mercur up the river to the locks will not interfere with the schedule of the Wilmington to Carolina Beach and Southport, it was announced last night.

An Unchanged Policy
Merchandising conditions during the past year have been extraordinary. A demand for lower priced goods, which reached the proportions of a tidal wave has swept the country. Interior merchandise—seconds—run of the mill—rejects—returns—imperfect goods have been thrown on the market and quickly consumed by this almost frantic desire for cheap goods.

The BON MARCHE buyers are instructed to secure the best value possible and to pass them along to their patrons, but at the same time to maintain the high standards of quality instituted by this concern and in no instance have they permitted the excitement of the moment or the noise of the multitude to sway them from the well-defined policy of quality first.
