

THE MARKET BASKET

Johnny, a young man of six busy years, strode on his independent way to school on the opening day.

He didn't know a game of football from a tennis match, but he had his books in one hand and a lunch in the other, and that day was to mark the beginning of little Johnny's education.

At recess, when they gathered to eat their lunches, Johnny very eagerly displayed his to the crowd and told them that when he grew up to be a man he wanted to be a baker and "bake bread just like mother buys at the ROYAL BAKERY."

And once you eat ROYAL BREAD you'll not wonder at little Johnny's wanting to devote his time to the making of a duplicate of such a good bread.

NEW YORK, Sept. 23.—Splendid pitching by Waite Hoyt and strong hitting by "Babe" Ruth and Walter Pipp, enabled New York to win the first of an all-important four-game series with Cleveland today, 4 to 2. Hoyt was in trouble in only one inning, the fourth, when Cleveland scored its two runs on Gardner's single, Sewell's triple and a wild pitch. In the last five innings Cleveland got only 3 men on bases.

Coveleskie pitched well for Cleveland but met with his usual poor luck against the Yankees, who have defeated him five times in six games this season. New York also clinched the year's series from Cleveland, today's victory being their twelfth as against seven for the Indians. Ruth emerged from a batting slump, knocking three doubles and drawing a base on balls in four times up. He scored after each of his three hits, though he pulled up lame after running to second on his third two bagger. Pipp also was a strong factor in New York's victory as he drove in three of New York's runs.

New York scored its first run in the fourth on doubles by Ruth and Pipp and took the lead with two runs in the sixth on Ruth's double and singles by Meusel and Pipp. Ruth scored again in the eighth on his third two bagger. Meusel's sacrifice and Pipp's sacrifice fly. The fielding on both sides was sharp and clean, Ward excelling with several infield plays.

RETURNS FROM BRYN MAWR TO JOB IN SOAP FACTORY KANSAS CITY, Kan., Sept. 23.—After putting in two months at Bryn Mawr College, this summer, Miss Louise Beauchamp of this city is back at the soap factory where she is a forewoman.

THE previous education this Kansas girl had enjoyed halted abruptly at the eighth grade. She then went to work in the factory wrapping cakes of soap. She continued at its several years, until she was chosen to go to Bryn Mawr with all expenses paid.

This was of an experiment, conducted by the college authorities, women labor leaders and alumnae this year for the first time. Eighty factory workers in various parts of the country were given scholarships, and had every advantage of college life and education at this well known Pennsylvania institution. Then they went back to the work they had left.

"Of course, I didn't get an education in eight weeks—a person couldn't be expected to," the Kansas City girl said. "But I did enjoy it, certainly, and I think I got a good deal out of it. I tried to get all I could."

Miss Beauchamp came back fired with ambition to do something to lend a helping hand to her fellow workers and better their condition in every way possible, she says.

"How would you set about to do it, if you had a free hand?" inquired a visitor.

"I'd unionize them," she replied promptly, "and work for better hours and better pay."

Miss Beauchamp says she does not expect to return to Bryn Mawr or any other college for further work. She says that, as far as her plans are now, she will go ahead with the old job, trying to make something more out of it, by aid of her summer's experience, and trying to help other girls make their own jobs better.
