

Dainty requires less shortening

THE better baking it produces is not the only reason for using Valier's Dainty Flour. Dainty is economical. It costs more per sack than ordinary flour, but it requires less shortening because of its high quality. Moreover, Dainty is reliable—you won't have needless, costly failures with it.

Milled from nothing but the white centers of carefully selected soft winter wheat, Valier's Dainty Flour has unusual baking qualities. It's like cream from rich, Jersey milk—all quality.

Order a sack of Dainty from your grocer today. You'll be surprised at the better baking you can do with it.

WILDERNESS FIELD IS OCCUPIED BY MARINES

Famous Civil War Battleground Held Last Night by Soldiers of the Sea

FREDERICKSBURG, Va., Sept. 29.—Encamped tonight on the heights north of Wilderness creek, with outposts covering practically the same vantage points as those engaged in the battle of Chancellorsville and other desperate struggles of the '60's, the marine expeditionary force was ready to meet the top tomorrow morning against an imaginary foe in the first sham engagement of their extended maneuver.

The plans for tomorrow's exercises call for a spectacular exhibition of infantry, artillery and airplanes. The marines will have as spectators about 20 members of congress, several army and navy officers of high rank, Maj. Gen. John A. Lejeune, marine commandant; Brig.-Gen. Wendell Neville, who commanded the marine brigade in France, and others.

Today's hike of nearly 20 miles from Fredericksburg, where the men spent the night, to the Wilderness ruin, was a long and dusty one, and proved a severe test of the physical fitness of the men after their two rainy nights in the field.

A brigadier-general carrying a 60-pound pack and a rifle, hiking 18 miles a day, was witnessed on today's march from Fredericksburg. Brig.-Gen. Smedley, D. Butler, who has won two congressional medals of honor and distinguished himself in France by converting a Breast from a mud-hole into a fine camp, was the general, the pack and rifle being borrowed from a private who had begun to show the effects of the long hike. The general shouldered the pack and rifle of the sick man, and set off down the road, gathering up parties of stragglers as he went.

It was not until nearly 7 o'clock that the general reached the camp, after hiking the whole distance, but he brought with him every straggler.

TRINITY COLLEGE OBSERVES BENEFACTOR'S DAY OCTOBER 3

(Special to The Star) DURHAM, Sept. 29.—Gifts which have been made to Trinity college during the past year will be announced by Dr. W. P. Few, president of the institution, at exercises to be held on the occasion of the celebration of Benefactor's day October 3.

The exercises will be held in the assembly hall of Southgate Memorial building at 8 o'clock p. m. The celebration of Benefactor's day is in keeping with a policy instituted several years ago. The college will give a holiday in connection with the celebration.

In the morning the board of trustees and the alumni council will hold meetings. At noon the trustees, alumni, and faculty will have luncheon in the dining hall of the Southgate building. Short speeches will be made at this time. Generally this annual luncheon turns out to be an inspirational service looking to a greater Trinity.

THEATRICAL

VICTORIA
Cecil B. DeMille, perhaps the foremost motion picture producer in the country, if not the world, displayed his genius at its best in his latest Paramount picture, "The Affairs of Anatol," which will close its engagement at the Victoria tomorrow. From every standpoint—investive, its all-star cast, sumptuousness of settings, brilliancy of directorial execution, richness of costumes, quality of story and general artistry, this picture marks a distinct epoch in screen production of the decade.

The story, written by Jennie Macpherson, and suggested by the famous play by Arthur Schnitzler, deals with an impressionable young man of wealth who finds time to interest himself in the affairs of others and who learns by practical experience that it pays best to attend to one's own affairs and let others do the same.

GRAND
Charles Ray's master film, "The Old Swimmin' Hole," from James Whitcomb Riley's immortal poem, opens at the Grand today and will play two days with a special reduced price matinee tomorrow for children.

In "The Old Swimmin' Hole," presented by Arthur S. Kane as a First National attraction, Charles Ray, that master of rustic roles, imparts a naturalness to that of Ezra, the mischievous boy, which makes you forget that you are a spectator. It lifts you out of yourself so completely that once again you are re-enacting the scenes of your childhood and are wending your way through the meadows of memory. Seldom does a picture so delight one.
