Sorosis Meeting.

At a meeting of the civic department of North Carolina Sorosis Tuesday afternoon, a committee was appointed to secure the names of volunteers who will teach in three of the city schools at night. It was planned to hold classes two nights a week, in the Del Harnett school, the Cornelius Harnett school and the one at the corner of Third and Second streets. The object of these schools is to enable working people to obtain an education they could not get during working hours. Some years ago Sorosis conducted moonlight schools, and it is with much pride that the organization receives letters of appreciation from men who are now capable of earning better wages, men who are giving good service to employers. Any member of Sorosis willing to devote a few hours a week to this good work, or any one not a member who would assist in the work is cordially invited to submit his or her name to any member of the following committee on night schools: Mrs. Herbert McClammy, Mrs. J. C. Williams, Mrs. Guy Bishop, Mrs. W. A. Graham, Mrs. R. F. Campbell and Mrs. George E. Leftwich.

Friends will regret to learn of the serious condition of J. D. Sidbury, who is ill with influenza at his home, 1929 South Fifth avenue.

Sorosis Cook Book.

The civic department of Sorosis will soon publish a Sorosis cook book, containing recipes submitted by members of the club. Each member is requested to mail two recipes to the chairman of the civic department by January 15. The book will be sold for the benefit of the club.

Once Friend of Kaiser; Now Conducts Toy Shop

SEATTLE, Jan. 11.—Alvo von Alvensleben, son of one of the proudest families of Prussia, who had millions a few years ago and who was reported to be the personal friend and agent of the kaiser, today is running a little toy store here.

After remaining in obscurity since his release from Fort Douglas, Utah, where he was interned, Von Alvensleben suddenly made his appearance in Seattle and, advertised by the newspaper stories about his spectacular past, is doing a rushing business.

Von Alvensleben's career rivals anything in fiction. Born in a family identified with the German nobility since 1756, he was brought up in the military caste and was an officer in the German army.

Defies Tradition
He defied tradition, resigned his commission and came to this country in 1904. After working as a common laborer around Vancouver, B. C., two years, he made a "stake" and plunged into land speculations. He made millions.

For years he was the social leader of Vancouver. He had a mansion that rivaled old world castles. He was attended by huge retinues of servants. He operated a whole fleet of expensive automobiles. He supported a stable of polo ponies.

Then came the war. Von Alvensleben came to the United States, but ugly rumors followed him and wrecked his business. The story was generally printed that he was slated to be governor-general of Canada—if the kaiser won. And he was certainly intimate with the German embassy.

Interned Three Years
Von Alvensleben was interned and kept in captivity three years. He lost what remained of his fortune—either through confiscation or because of unpaid taxes.

Finally released, he had just $51—but he went into business at once as an exporter and importer and was successful in a modest way.

He was still a plunger. He put his entire capital into a cargo of German Christmas goods. He would have realized handsomely—if the shipment hadn't been delayed—arriving too late for Christmas.

DISCARD THOSE TERRIBLE SICK HEADACHES

Violent, sick headaches, are a symptom of some disorder, and in nine cases out of ten, the cause is auto-intoxication. This is an accumulation of toxins or body poisons. They tell you they are there by dizziness, nausea and pain.

First of all, you would relieve the pain, and the greatest means of combating pain is aspirin. It is not a narcotic drug, but if taken alone, it very often affects the digestion.

To prevent this, the new genuine aspirin has added to it a mild digestant that overcomes the objections to ordinary aspirin. Within ten minutes the pain has disappeared.

Now for the cause. TINGLES' LAXO ASPIRIN assures permanent relief by attacking the cause. A gentle laxative is included with the aspirin and digestant. This thoroughly cleanses the body of waste and brings about instant, absolute relief.

Physicians recommend it because it safely, sanely brings immediate relief. Remember to ask for TINGLES' LAXO ASPIRIN with the three points:

- It's absorbed easily
- It relieves pain quickly
- It's a gentle laxative
