"Therefore, we, in the spirit of our motto, hereby pledge ourselves individually and collectively to do our utmost to make the community chest campaign a success and a credit to our city," is part of a resolution adopted yesterday by the Lions' club, at the regular meeting in Efrid's dining room. The club, upon motion of K. O. Burgwin, adopted resolutions for the appointment of a committee of five Lions, who will cooperate with similar committees from other organizations, for the purpose of financing and staging the Southeastern fair this year. LOCAL INSURANCE COMPANY REPORTS PROGRESSIVE YEAR

Annual Meeting of Carolina Insurance Company Held Here Yesterday.

The thirty-third annual meeting of the Carolina Insurance company, which was conducted Tuesday afternoon in the company's offices in the Marchison building, was featured by reports of progress submitted by H. C. McQueen, president, and M. S. Willard, secretary and treasurer.

Officers elected follow: H. C. McQueen, president; R. A. Parsley, vice president, and M. S. Willard, secretary and treasurer. Directors elected follow: Sol Sternberger, Donald MacLae, John D. Bellamy, Jr., Eugene M. Beery and the officers.

Although the report of Secretary Willard showed that the losses paid out by the company last year were greater than for any like period in the history of the organization, the company made a substantial financial gain, notwithstanding the New Bern conflagration, which caused a loss to the company of $21,000.

President McQueen submitted a verbal report for the year, stating that he was pleased with the status of the company, as reflected in Secretary Willard's written report.

The Carolina Insurance company, a North Carolina corporation, has paid out over $700,000 in insurance claims and last year it paid out about $28,000 through fire losses. It has resources totaling $180,000, with a capital stock of $50,000, and a surplus of $81,500.

Eugene M. Beery, assistant secretary, stated yesterday afternoon that he was optimistic regarding prospects for the current year.

Photoplay of Flag For Hemenway Students

The picture, "Hats Off," will be shown in the Hemenway auditorium tonight at 7:30 o'clock, and all Hemenway pupils and parents are invited to attend.

All Hemenway pupils should see this picture, as it is the first one of a series of educational pictures which will be shown this year.

Silver, essential in photography, is estimated to be used to the extent of 15,000,000 ounces yearly in the moving picture industry.

Wilmington Girls Pretty, But They Paint Terribly, Declares Danish Journalist Here on Visit

"Wilmington girls are very pretty, and they have a good painted complexion," exclaimed Svend Borzen Urdall, a splendid-looking Dane, 22 years old, after strolling up Front street yesterday afternoon, when he first set foot on American soil and eyed American girls for the first time.

Mr. Urdall is a student of the University of Copenhagen, and is a member of the crew of the Danish steamer, Neva, which arrived in 1921 ten days overdue Wednesday, after a thrilling 37-day voyage, which was marred by a storm lasting a month. This was the first ocean voyage of the young Dane, and to say that he was sea sick would be only to say that he saw, the sea.

"The girls here are all painted," he told a reporter, and when asked how they compared with the girls of his own country, his blue eyes sparkled, as he said in a proud manner, "In Denmark the girls have the same rosy cheeks, but they are natural, not painted."

"Do they have bobbed hair in Denmark?" he was asked.

"Yes, many of the girls at home have bobbed hair, but not so much as over here," he said. "The American girls

Gertie's Garter Pleases An Immense Crowd

Two Hundred Turned Away; To Be Repeated Today.

Wilmington theatre goers are taking "Gertie's Garter" by storm, judging from the unusually large audience attending the performances of this farce-comedy, which, through popular demand, will be reproduced by the Picture Stock company at the Academy of Music tonight at 8:10 o'clock.

More than 200 patrons were turned away last night, because all the reserved seats down stairs were sold out. However, Manager Robert M. Kermon stated after the show last night, that he would stage "Gertie's Garter" again tonight, so that everybody will have the opportunity to witness this laughter making show.

Roars of laughter were lifted from every row in the house during the show, for patrons found it impossible to suppress the laughs, so funny were the many situations, some compromising, and everybody in attendance enjoyed the performance.

The matinee performance yesterday afternoon was also largely attended, and it is certain that there will be an unusually large crowd present for the final performance of "Getting Gertie's Garter."

are well formed, but not so well proportioned as the Danish girls," he said, and his two American interviewers promptly denied his claim, but having never been to Denmark, the Americans could only deny.

Mr. Urdall is a pleasant conversationalist, speaks excellent English with, of course, the Danish accent, but he is also somewhat of a linguist. In that he can speak German, French and Italian. He is experienced in the newspaper game, having contributed to several Copenhagen journals, and is at present corresponding for them, giving them some ideas of his first impressions of America.

His father is a native of Denmark, and is Norwegian consul at Aarhus, Denmark, the home of the young man, and through association with his father young Urdall has corresponded for newspapers in Italy, France and Belgium, confining his writings chiefly to diplomatic news.

He reported that his first observations of American life have convinced him that customs over here are widely different from those in his homeland. "There are fewer drunkards over here than at home, but, nevertheless, I am opposed to prohibition," he said.

The young student is traveling for his health, it was learned aboard the Neva, but Mr. Urdall simply explained this by saying, "As I have nothing to do at home at this time, I decided to take a chance and come out and see the world."

Wilmington is a very beautiful town, but it has no music halls," he said, explaining that in Denmark there are numerous halls where the folks gather during the afternoon and evenings. "I witnessed 'Adam and Eve' at the theatre this afternoon," he said, and on being informed that it was "Gertie's Garter," not "Adam and Eve," showing, he exclaimed: "Oh, yes."

There was a nice fellow named Bob, who was temporarily out of a job; but he does not look solemn. For the help wanted column gave him chances that made his heart throb.
