Mr. and Mrs. C. W. Leighton have returned from New York city, where they have been spending the past several days.

Mrs. William Parsley returns today from Charlotte, where she has been visiting Mr. and Mrs. W. M. Parsley, the former her son, for the past ten days.

Stockton-Bergman
The following invitations have been received in the city:

Mr. and Mrs. Frederick E. Stockton announce the approaching marriage of their daughter, Ethel Frances, to Julius S. Bergman, Jr., February 8, Greensboro, North Carolina. At home, March 1, Winston-Salem.

Murray-Balls
At the home of the bride, in a ceremony characterized by charming simplicity, Miss Cora Murray, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. David Murray, became the bride of Mr. Thomas Balls, Monday morning at 7:30 o'clock, in the presence of several relatives and friends, the bride's pastor, Rev. A. J. Hobbs, Jr., officiating.

Immediately after the ceremony, Mr. and Mrs. Balls left on an extended tour to Richmond and other points north. They will be at home at Sparrows Point, Md., after February 10.

Mr. and Mrs. W. W. Lewis have returned from an extended visit to relatives at Abbottsburg.

Graham K. Hobbs returned yesterday from a business trip to Plymouth.

Thomas Darst Noe
Born to the Rev. Mr. and Mrs. W. R. Noe, a son, Thomas Darst, in Marion Sprunt annex, James Walker Memorial hospital.

The Right Rev. Thomas C. Darst, bishop of East Carolina, was the weekend guest of his brother, Mr. J. C. Darst, and Mrs. Darst, at Hotel Montrose, Raleigh, on Monday.

Bishop Darst was one of the speakers at the convention of the Woman's Auxiliary of Southern Virginia, held in Newport News last week.—The Virginian-Pilot.

Gorham-Pell
The following invitation which has been received in the city will be of interest to many people throughout the state: "Mr. and Mrs. William Churchill Gorham request the honor of your presence at the marriage of their daughter, Elyn Dorch, to Mr. Allison Hodges Pell, on Wednesday evening, February 7, at the Methodist Episcopal church, Wilson, North Carolina."

Tarleton-Young Cards
Announcement cards reading as follows have been received here: "Mrs. Margaret Leonora Ross announces the marriage of her daughter, Arthur Mae Young, to Mr. Henry Harold Tarleton, on Tuesday, January the twenty-third, nineteen hundred and twenty-three, Charlotte, N. C. At home, Number one Garland Court, Charlotte, N. C."

Hocutt-Smith.
HENDERSON, Jan. 25.—Miss Cora Helen Smith and Mr. Delma Desmond Hocutt were married on Wednesday at 12:30 o'clock at the Methodist Episcopal church, the pastor, Rev. T. G. Vickers, officiating.

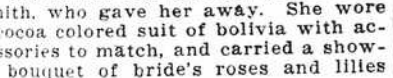

The bride, who is the attractive daughter of Mrs. C. J. Smith, entered the arms of her brother, Mr. Charles Smith, who gave her away. She wore a cocoa colored suit of bolivia with accessories to match, and carried a showy bouquet of bride's roses and lilies of the valley.

The maid of honor, Miss Margaret Smith, wore a gown of turquoise blue canton crepe and a large black picture hat, and carried a bouquet of pink sweet peas and snapdragons. The best

MRS RUTH BRYAN OWEN

Gifted daughter of William Jennings Bryan to lecture in auditorium First Baptist annex next Thursday evening.

Young's great African picture, "The Claw," was welcomed at the Royal yesterday.

"The Claw" was originally a novel by Cynthia Stockley, and it was adapted to the screen by Charles F. Whitaker. As Mary Saurin, the heroine, Miss Young has a most delightful role and one which gives her ample opportunity for the display of the talents which have made her famous.

One of the features of the production is the all-star cast which supports Miss Young. Milton Sills is one of these, and he plays the leading role opposite the star herself. Jack Holt is another, and through his splendid work on the screen he has since become a star in his own right.

Others in the big cast are Marcia Manon, Henry Woodward, E. M. Kimball, Mary Mersch. The picture was directed by Robert Vignola, who has just finished a million dollar production, "When Knighthood Was in Flower."

"UNDER TWO FLAGS"—COMING
"Under Two Flags," the Universal-Jewel film version of Ouida's immortal tale of undying love, which held the stage of the world for many years in a dramatized version of the novel, presents one of the great stories of all times through the superior medium of the screen. It comes to the Grand Monday.

Priscilla Dean, the star, is directed by Tod Browning, the same combination responsible for "The Virgin of Stamboul."

Supporting Miss Dean are such stellar artists as James Kirkwood, John Davidson, Ethel Grey Terry, Stuart Holmes, Fred Cavena, W. H. Bainbridge, Burton Law and Bobby Mack.

In the production of the picture Universal allowed Tod Browning unlimited scope. Even "Foolish Wives" had scarcely better sets and scenic effects. The gamut of Algerian architecture is run, from narrow alleys to barracks and boudoirs of Oriental splendor.

"EXPERIENCE"—ACADEMY
The lure of life, and all its caressing voices; the way of the world, with one who has turned to the left; the hand of Love lifting a broken soul to happiness. That is the keynote of "Experience," the brilliant allegorical play written and produced by George V. Hobart, in 1914, and a sensational stage success ever since.

"Experience" will be given a masterly and finished production at the Academy of Music here by the Pickert Stock company, Monday, Tuesday and Wednesday of next week, and it might be said right here and now that Manager Dodson, of the Pickert Stock company, deserves no small measure of praise for his efforts in producing a play of this calibre with his local company. The royalty, in the first analysis, is something that most any other stock manager would hesitate to pay, and the cost of production, to state it according to the original idea, is perhaps three times as costly as any other production that might be mentioned.

Despite all of this, Manager Kermon guarantees a hundred per cent production and will not under any consideration advance the price of admission.

With all things considered, local devotees of the drama surely have a rare treat in store for them when this play is offered here.

"Experience" is the romance of modern youth, adventuring, its hopes, temptations, passions, failures, love, triumphs. Its scenes are laid in hamlet and city, home and pleasure palace, green fields and underworld dives.

And running through the play is a simple tender story, tugging at the heart of all who are or ever have been young.
