NINE TEAMS READY FOR CHEST DRIVES

Chairman Oliver Announces the Completion of Several Units For Campaign.

David S. Oliver, chairman of the community chest campaign committee, announces that enlistment reports have been received at the campaign office showing that four more teams have secured their complete quota of workers making a total of nine complete teams to date. The four new teams are as follows:

H. W. Wells, captain of Team No. 23, of division "E," of which Mayor James H. Cowan is division leader, reports the following team associates: Messrs. W. A. Fowlie, Robert R. Christie, L. D. Marshburn, J. B. Brinkley, Marvin J. Cowell. Mrs. A. S. Williams, captain of Team No. 3, of division "A," of which Mrs. W. P. Sprunt is division leader, reports the following team associates: Messrs. G. B. Kipper, Walter Storm, Tom Wright, Tom Davis, C. S. Grainier. W. H. Montgomery, captain of Team No. 11, of division "C," of which C. C. Shadburn is division leader, reports the following team associates: Harry R. Gardner, Charles R. Yopp, H. E. Boney, O. Earl DuRant, Carl Williams. Mrs. C. B. Newcomb, captain of Team No. 2, of division "A," reports the following team associates: Miss Alice Wilkins, Messdames W. D. MacMillan, Thomas Darden, R. P. Huffman, and L. W. Davis. The teams which have previously reported their completed enlistment are: Team No. 1, Mrs. John Hall, captain; Team No. 22, C. VanLeuvan, is captain; Team No. 9, Mrs. E. M. Dewey, captain; Team No. 13, Walker Taylor, Jr., captain; Team No. 31, D. W. Gross, captain. Mr. Oliver also issued a statement with regard to the work of the girl scouts. It is significant that though this organization has only been organized about a year in Wilmington, it already has 279 members formed into 13 troops under the leadership of 29 education girls. Mr. Oliver's statement in full is as follows: "The object of the Girl scouts is to bring to all girls the opportunity of group experience, outdoor life, and to learn through work, but more by play, to serve their community. The activities of the Girl scouts may be grouped under five headings corresponding to five phases of woman's life today: The home maker, the producer, the consumer, the citizen, the human being. The policy of the organization is democratic, self-governing and flexible, adjusting itself everywhere and always to local circumstances and the habits and preferences of the different groups. This movement represents, in short, the women's job, cut down to girls' size. It does not pretend to have invented any new material, but cooperate with home, church, and school, and all three of these back it up. The fact that we have reached the girls' heart and understand her psychology is surely proved by our growth since 1912 from the first few patrols formed in Savannah, Ga., to 126,275. Of these, 5,893 are in the southeastern region. "There are 279 Girl scouts in the city of Wilmington, formed in 13 troops, with 13 captains and 16 lieutenants. Scouting is for the purpose of giving girls a larger life and developing good citizenship among them through right use of their leisure time. The scout movement has utilized three important and characteristic principles of modern education. To satisfy the spontaneous desire of the child to accomplish something and actually see the result of its work. 2. That the reward for accomplishment should be symbolic and spiritual and never material; that is, accomplishment should be its own reward. 3. It fosters among girls the spirit of co-operation and team play. We must never forget that the Girl scouts of today are the women of tomorrow."

ONE-MAN HAND TRUCK LOADS AND MOVES BIG PACKAGES. To dispense with the service of a helper and hand truck, described with illustration in the February Popular Mechanics Magazine, has been so designed that it enables one man to handle large packages. Swiveled above the truck and its two small wheels is a platform that can be raised or lowered by double levers and links. On the platform is a sliding frame with its end turned at right angles so that, when lowered, it can be pushed under a package, and when that end is raised and the other end is lowered onto the truck, it is ready for moving.

Coast Line Cagemen To Play Collegians

The Atlantic Coast Line basketball squad will leave this morning on the northbound train for Wilson, where they will play the strong Atlantic Christian college five tonight on the Centre Street warehouse floor. The last meeting between these two squads was literally a run-away for the Wilmington boys, but the collegians have improved much since that night two years ago, and promise much sterner opposition. The Railroaders, who are familiarly known as the A. C. L. Tigers, are taking no chances and have put in some stiff practice the last week. They are when that end is raised and the other end is lowered onto the truck, it is ready for moving.
