Divided Forces Against the Weevil.

Owing to a misunderstanding between President J. Skottowe Wannamaker of the American Cotton association, on the one hand, and Dr. Miller Reese Hutchinson on the other, the latter has been notified by Mr. Wannamaker that the doctor's appointment as managing director of the association's anti-boll weevil campaign has been revoked.

Mr. Wannamaker heads the regular cotton growers' organization and it is unfortunate that differences have arisen at a time when the fight against the weevil should be pushed as never before.

The American Cotton association is putting in operation 1,500 to 2,000 demonstration farms on which cotton will be produced by latest and most scientific cultural and poison methods.

North Carolina would be a good place for the location of a few of those experimental farms. Nothing more effective against the weevil could possibly be more dependable than building up the soil for producing a greater yield of cotton per acre.

Having been unable to secure coal from the Ruhr, Germany is now importing coal from Norfolk.

A dishwasher in a Kansas City hotel got a little financing for himself and got away with $50,000.

Sees Early War in Europe

After having spent almost a year in Europe where he went to present claims against the German government, former United States Senator J. H. Lewis of Illinois, reached New York last Wednesday on the steamship Majestic.

The Turks have rejected the Lausanne peace pact, but they hope some way will be found to have the conference reconvened.

American Negroes for the Ruhr. A New York announcement confirms the request that the French government has contracted for 2,500 to 5,000 American negro miners and laborers for work in the Ruhr territory of Germany.

"I conducted negotiations with Jevaux, French commissioner in charge of labor in the Ruhr," Mr. Dougherty said.

Mr. Dougherty also stated that his brother George S. Dougherty had taken up this labor export question with Ambassador Jusserand at Washington.

Eastern Carolina's busy time will soon be here. The refrigerator trains are being gotten in order for the movement of the biggest strawberry crop shipped out of the Wilmington district during the last 20 years.

WHY FRENCH ARE PESSIMISTIC. An increasing number of reports emanating from French sources are pessimistic in tone as regards the Ruhr occupation.

He therefore wants to know what it is all about. He is sick of the meaningless official communique "all is well on the Ruhr."

CANDIDATES FOR 1924. History is repeating itself in President Harding's uncertain attitude towards renomination.

On the democratic side Senator Underwood is expected to be a presidential candidate.

ESCAPING A BAD APPOINTMENT. After the failure of the senate to confirm the nomination of Mr. James G. McNary of Texas as New Mexico controller of the currency, President Harding offered him a recess appointment to that office.

It is urged in excuse for Mr. McNary that he has a front on banker, and as such had to indulge in practices which would be thought highly irregular in settled communities.
