Brass Helmet of Explorer Magellan, 400 Years Old, Found in Philippines

A N American army officer, Major H. D. Selton, has just purchased from a Moro datu, or chief, the brass helmet worn by the explorer Magellan in 1521 when he was killed in the Philippines after realizing only a part of his ambition to be the first to encircle the globe. The helmet has been handed down from generation to generation in the families of the Moro chieftains, and its authenticity is vouched for by priests in the Illigan and Parang districts.

The old brass headgear is entirely unaffected by more than 400 years of exposure to the moist climate of the Philippines, retaining its original smooth and polished surface. The tooling and ornamentation is still intact, as is even the frail brass hinge used to fasten the helmet under the chin of the doughty old warrior.

Soldier of fortune and adventurous mariner, Magellan was spurred on by the success of Columbus, da Gama and the other heroes of that sturdy age of discovery. A Portuguese, he enlisted under the crimson and gold banner of Spain, and set out in 1519 to reach the Indies by the long voyage around South America.

Coasting to the south of South America he discovered the dark and forbidding Straits which now bear his name. Passing through to the Pacific he sailed northwestward until he reached the Philippines. Here, during a battle with the natives, he was wounded and died. After a voyage far surpassing even the heroic accomplishments of Columbus, the remnant of Magellan's party returned up the Atlantic to Seville, in July, 1522—the first ship to circumnavigate the globe.

This bit of brass, surviving through centuries the onslaught of rust and corrosion which has destroyed all traces of the short lived metals, is a fitting reminder of the qualities of endurance in the age of discovery that made it possible to open up whole continents.

CHARGES TARDINESS IN HANDLING TRUCK SHIPPED FROM HERE

Letuce shipped from this section is not reaching New York on time. Chesley C. Bellamy, prominent trucker, said today. He criticized the Atlantic Coast Line Railroad company for requiring the Wilmington Co-operative Truck Growers association to place a $5,000 bond to indemnify the railroad company against any loss by freight, demurrage, or handling charges.

It is reported that the truckers of this county are somewhat wrought up over the railroad company requiring the farmers to give indemnity bond, indemnifying the railroad against any loss, and it is stated that a meeting will be called for the purpose of adopting resolutions protesting against the railroad's order.

"Although the Atlantic Coast Line requires the farmers to put up an indemnification bond, the railroad company will not guarantee the delivery of the freight," Mr. Bellamy declared, and he stated that the company did not require the association to place the bond last year. Mr. Bellamy stated that a car of lettuce shipped on Monday and due in New York last night, had not arrived at destination this morning.

FLORIDA SENATE TO PASS ON BILL FOR CONVICT CAMP

House Amendment Abolishing Corporal Punishment is Now in Hands of Upper Body.

TALLAHASSEE, Fla., April 20.—Working up the first stage in abolishing the whip in the Florida convict camps, the senate today received from the lower chamber of the Florida general assembly an amendment proposed to the present statute which would do away with whipping as a means of punishment now legally employed.

Over the opposition of 50 negative voters, the bill passed the house late yesterday with less debate and cross fire than had been expected. The main theme of the opposition centered on the ability to control negro convicts, at times, without the use of the lash.

Meanwhile the special joint committee investigating the death of Martin Tabert, of North Dakota, continued to call witnesses. Tabert's death, alleged to have been caused by the whip in a Dixie county lumber camp, where he was under lease, and for whose death Walter Higinbotham, former camp whipping boss, is under indictment for first degree murder, is mainly responsible for various legislative inquiries into alleged brutality, and resultant bills aimed at abolishing the whip and the convict lease system. The committee yesterday heard details of the burial of Tabert, and listened to witnesses for the Putnam Lumber company, in whose camp Tabert died. Two former convicts, the physician who attended the dying youth, and a former guard at the camp, also gave testimony. Mrs. Mayte Mills and Mrs. Ollie Rhodes, of Clara, Fla., told the committee that Tabert had been given a Christian burial, with hymns and preaching by an itinerant minister. An employe of the lumber company refuted previous testimony that Tabert's coffin had cost but $10 and offered a receipt to show that it had cost $30.

BOXING HAERED.

CLEVELAND, O., April 19.—There will be no more boxing in Cleveland during Mayor Fred Kohler's administration, unless he revokes an order issued last night barring amateur bouts. The mayor's ultimatum was the result of a demonstration over a decision staid at an intercity show last night at which he was a ringside spectator. "When fight attendants decline to act like gentlemen and persist in acting like 'bums' its time to close the doors on the game," the mayor said.

COLUMBIA GRAPHOPHONE COMPANY
New York

All Columbia Records are now made by the new process

EVERY Columbia Record made since the Columbia new process was perfected, has been constructed with the super-quiet new surface.

Not only has this added musical charm been given to the rich symphonic selections, but also to the songs of the hour, the latest dance music, and the always dear old-fashioned melodies.

Never since the phonograph was invented have the music-loving public been able to listen to phonographic music so nearly like the original in unmarred melody, so delightfully free from the scratch and scrape of needle noise.

This never-before-known surface quietness results from the Columbia process of constructing records in layers or leaves—a hard centre core overlaid with a material of such exquisite smoothness that the noise of needle friction is never created.

As an example of this great musical accomplishment go to any Columbia Dealer and ask to hear record A-3831. It is "Peggy Dear," one of the latest fox-trots, gloriously played by the Happy Six. It is like listening to the orchestra itself. And as you listen, note the absence of that old, irritating grinding sound of the needle.

All Columbia New Process Records are equally delightful. They can be played on any phonograph.

The Columbia process is patented. Only in Columbia New Process Records can you secure this perfect reproduction of perfect music.
