

BRUNSWICK FARMERS NOW SHIPPING HOGS IN CARLOAD LOTS

Initial Carload Shipped Last Week; Raisers Are Paid $1,300 for First Shipment

What is declared by many to have been the first carload of hogs ever to be shipped from Brunswick county was forwarded by rail last week via the Wilmington, Brunswick and Southern railroad.

The hogs were of a splendid variety and netted the shippers approximately $1,300, according to the Brunswick county farm demonstrator, who in no small way was responsible for the promotion of the hog raising movement inaugurated among the farmers some time ago.

Under the old free range plan hogs were raised in a very poor variety and netted the owners practically nothing; even in meat. However, the farm demonstration agent began the advocacy of blooded hog raising among the farmers many months ago and since that time many splendid hogs have been produced.

The carload shipment made last week was the first made of the better class of hogs that are now being raised. The farm demonstrator found it exceedingly difficult to interest the farmers in the proposition at first, but after long and consistent effort the farmers have been made to realize the great profit to be derived from hog raising in line with the movement.

It is expected that the first movement is going to give great impetus to the idea, and that many that have not yet fallen in line will now do so. Owing to the splendid natural conditions existing in Brunswick county for hog raising, it is believed that great profit will be derived by the citizens of that county from the new scheme.

Local Divine Spoke To Burgaw Students

Rev. Frank Dean Preached Baccalaureate Sermon at Burgaw

BURGAW, April 22.—Rev. Frank Dean of Wilmington, preached the baccalaureate sermon to the graduating class of the Burgaw high school in the school auditorium here this morning at 11 o'clock.

Mr. Dean took as his text the first two verses of the 12th chapter of Hebrews, and with these as a basis for his sermon, delivered an exceedingly interesting and appropriate discourse. He sought to impress the class with the necessity of laying aside the things which hinder and mar the progress of young men and women when they are just launching out into a world fraught with many obstacles.

"The race," as indicated in the text, said he, "must be run with patience, with your faces always turned toward the future, at all times looking unto Jesus the author and finisher of your faith." He reminded the class that no two of them would perhaps attain to the same measure of success, but undertook to instill in them the one dominating desire, that whatever they did in their respective chosen vocations, to at all times do the very best they could under the circumstances. The class paid him strict attention throughout the service.

BANK OFFICIAL IS BELIEVER IN PLAN

Idea of Buying Bonds on Weekly Payment Plan Indorsed by Roache

"Our decision to co-operate in the Ford weekly purchase plan is simply in line with our general policy to extend every possible service to the citizens of this community," Jesse F. Roache, cashier of the Home Savings bank, said yesterday relative to the announcement.

"It is an excellent means of promoting thrift, the thing most essential to financial success and the attainment of ambitions. For several years now, banks generally have been conducting campaigns urging people to open Christmas savings accounts and vacation savings accounts and thousands of persons have done so. In many cases they started with small amounts the first year, but the second year their goal was higher until these savings have mounted into surprising figures.

"The automobile has become a necessity to modern times. It is essential to successful business and it is unequalled as a means of providing pleasure for the family.

"The effect of the plan is most wholesome. It is certain to promote a new feeling toward the automobile and will tend to create a greater regard for automobile ownership.

"So why not save to own an automobile, just as you do for a vacation or for Christmas? They are all pleasure-giving adventures that cost little or no effort."

GIRLS IN BUSINESS WORLD SHOULD BE BETTER EDUCATED

Such is Opinion of Members of Local Business and Professional Women's Club

Fully realizing that many local girls entering the Wilmington business world are poorly prepared for the various lines of work they undertake, members of the local Business and Professional Women's club have gone on record as approving and urging a high school education as a minimum requirement for every girl entering business, and to encourage this are offering two prizes for the two best essays, "Why every girl should complete a high school course," prepared by local school children.

In the movement which has been inaugurated by the local women's organization, Maj. W. A. Graham, county superintendent of public instruction, is giving his full co-operation and endorsement. The essay contest is in the hands of the educational committee of the Business and Professional Women's club, composed of Miss Clair Lathrop, chairman, Miss Leonore H. Watts and Miss Anne M. Barnwell.

The essay contest is open to all girls of the seventh and eighth grades in the city and county schools. All essays must be in the hands of Miss Lathrop not later than May 4th.

The following letter has been sent by Miss Lathrop to the teachers of the seventh and eighth grades in the city and county schools:

"It is a thoroughly recognized fact that many girls entering business are poorly prepared for the business world. Believing that this is often due to the fact that many girls begin work either with no high school education, or with only one or two years in high school, the National Federation of Business and Professional Women has gone on record as approving and urging a high school education as a minimum requirement for every girl entering business.

"As a means of arousing thought in girls of high school age, the local club of business and professional women has decided to offer two prizes of $5.00 and $2.00, respectively, for the best and second best essay—of not more than 500 words—on the topic, "Why Every Girl Should Complete a High School Course."

"These essays are to be written in ink, or typed, and should be in your hands not later than May 4th. You will, in turn, be so kind as to hand them to the undersigned.

"This contest is open to all girls of the 7th and 8th grades in the city and county schools."

MORRISON MAY ACT AGAINST C. F. & Y. V.

Governor and Attorney General Will Carry Matter Into Courts, Announced

That Governor Cameron Morrison and Attorney General Manning are to immediately take action in the courts against the dismemberment by the Atlantic Coast Line and Southern Railroads of the old Cape Fear and Yadkin Valley railroad will come as good news to Wilmingtonians.

Announcement that it is the purpose of the governor and the attorney general to institute a suit against the C. F. & Y. V. dismemberment was made in Raleigh Saturday night, according to news reaching the city from Greensboro. Neither the governor nor attorney general could state just what sort of action will be prosecuted nor where the case would be carried.

The fight against the dismemberment of the line was re-instituted in Wilmington, Fayetteville and Greensboro some months ago and since that time a strong sentiment favoring the placing of the great east and west railroad in the hands of one railroad for operation has been built up. The general assembly investigated the sale of the old railroad by which one end went to the Southern and the other to the Coast Line, and the recent announcement of the governor and the attorney general is the result of the investigating committee's report.

It is believed that the state will first proceed by having the attorney general of the United States to prosecute this action as a violation of the federal law. The late Governor Eckett gave a great amount of study to this dismemberment which he regarded as a rank violation of the law.
