Just Like a Man

"My husband suffered for several years with stomach trouble. He often had colic attacks that put him to bed. But a man can't stand the pains that a woman can. He thought he was going to die and the doctors didn't seem to help him any. Like a drowning man grasping for a straw, he tried Mayr's Wonderful Remedy, which a nurse told us about, and now he is entirely well and eats anything." It is a simple, harmless preparation that removes the catarrhal mucus from the intestinal tract and allays the inflammation which causes practically all stomach, liver and intestinal ailments, including appendicitis. One does well convince or money refunded.—R. R. Bellam & Son and all druggists.

WILD BILL M'FADDEN PACKS AWFUL WALLOP

Bean Eater Who Fights Here the Fourth Shakes a Mean Duke

"Wild Bill" McFadden, formerly of Boston, now of Philadelphia, who meets Bob Fitzsimmons, Jr., at the Victoria theatre July 4th at noon, is one of the hardest hitters in the ring. McFadden was a sensation last year in New York rings, when he stopped three opponents in a row, each bout being of the highly thrilling order. The night he knocked out Frank Johns, in the Pioneer Sporting club, the crowd was on its feet from the first bell until the knockout was scored in the fourth round. Three times in the first round, twice in the second and twice in the third round, McFadden was on the floor from solid right-hand smashes landed by Johns. In the fourth round, McFadden floored Johns five times, the final knock down bringing him a well earned victory. They were signed up to box a return battle in Madison Square Garden. Each man was down for the full count twice. In the first period, then in the second round, McFadden, landing flush in the point of Johns' chin sent him down to stay. The bout was the best of the night. "Wild Bill" won his next start by a knockout in five rounds, rocking Al Roberts to sleep. This time the wild one was also on the floor several times before winning. He had a few big men have this is a stout heart. In his ring career, "Wild Bill" has a varied experience. In the beginning of his career he was labeled "Spike" McFadden, account of his long leanness. Tall and thin, he was little more than a heavy middleweight in poundage, but hit much too hard for the men of his weight and was forced to give away pounds to get opponents. Taking on such ring stars as Bill Brennan, Bob Martin, Jim Flynn, Larry Williams, Porky Flynn, of Boston, Hugh Walaker, of Kansas City, Homer Smith, of Michigan, Floyd Johnson, of California, Joe McCann, of Newark, and others, he invariably acquitted himself with credit.

Four American Tennis Stars Still in Race

WIMBLEDON, June 30.—(By Associated Press.)—The men's singles, William T. Johnston, the favorite for the title, remains in the upper half of the draw, and Francis T. Hunter in the lower. There is therefore a possibility of an all-American final at the end of next week. The same chances exist for the American women, but it is not such a strong one. Mrs. Molla B. Mallory, who remains in the upper half, will have to defeat Mrs. Beamish, one of England's best woman players, and Suzanne Lenglen, four times world champion, to reach the finals. Ruins of a city, believed to be at least 4,000 years old, have been discovered in Mexico by a Scottish mining engineer. Bathing Shoes $1.00 at Peterson & Ruifs.—Adv.
