

DEMPSEY TO TAKE LENGTHY VACATION

Champion Leaves Montana Today With Mother For a Long Period of Rest.

GREAT FALLS, Mont., July 5.—(By The Associated Press.)—Jack Dempsey, who today is resting in a hotel here, has just returned to his home in Great Falls, Mont., after a long and tiring vacation in Montana. He is expected to return to his training camp in Great Falls, Mont., in a few days.

AMUSEMENTS

"SONNY" AT LUMINA
Another screen attraction to close the current week for Friday and Saturday, and to make the week on the Lumina screen the greatest of the season, is "Sonny," declared by every critic to be the greatest screen characterization since his famous "Broken Blossoms," and by far the greatest picture he has yet made for release through Associated First National Pictures. Screen Opinions, the recognized authority on all pictures, gives this picture an "A-C" (superlative) rating, and backs this up by declaring it to be "a splendid human interest production with intelligent presentation of a strongly interesting theme."

"A NOISE IN NEWBORO"
All the beauty, youth and freshness that is Viola Dana has been captured anew for the screen in her latest starring play, "A Noise in Newboro," which comes to the Royal theatre today. According to advance reports, this latest Metro vehicle for the winsome little star is filled with nerve and action, qualities which stress her abilities. And her abilities are many and varied, as this picture will show. She is sad, she is frolicsome; she is depressed and light-hearted, but chiefly she is light hearted and all of these emotions she interprets with an incomparable naturalness. This new play is easily the best Miss Dana has ever had to exhibit her skill and versatility. Likewise she has surpassed herself in meeting its diversified situations.

roles. Miss Terry adds fresh laurels to the high reputation she won by her skillful acting in "The Four Horsemen" and "The Conquering Power." In "Where the Pavement Ends" she plays the part of the daughter of a missionary.

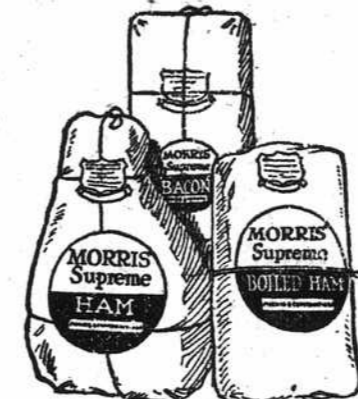

"Old Kentucky Home" Mecca of Thousands

BARDESTOWN, Ky., July 5.—A special train from Louisville and scores of automobiles from points all over the state brought a host of Kentuckians to this place for the formal dedication as a state shrine Federal Hill, the old Rowan home where in 1852 Stephens Collins Foster, a visitor during his honeymoon, wrote "My Old Kentucky Home." The dedication of the state shrine, which marks in tangible form the crystallization of the sentiment of Kentuckians for their native state, falls on the 97th anniversary of Foster's birth. Pennsylvania, Foster's native state, and Pittsburgh, his birth place, were given a prominent place on the program.

MORRIS Supreme Ham and Bacon

Solves your problem "What to serve"

During hot weather, keep Supreme Boiled Ham always on hand. Pressed square, it has just the right proportion of fat and lean; smooth, tender, delicious. It's convenient and highly economical. It is all meat—no waste.
You're always sure of the best when you insist on Supreme Ham, Supreme Boiled Ham, and Supreme Bacon. They're of the finest quality, of course; Government Inspected. Keeping qualities and variety of ways for serving make it economical to buy a whole Supreme ham or piece of bacon. Ask for Supreme; it pays to be particular.

Mysteries of Meat Packing
Corn is the most valuable single output of the farms of the United States—and 90% of it is marketed through the medium of live stock, and it could not be marketed to advantage otherwise. The meat packers' ability to market the live stock is the chief factor in making the corn crop valuable.
