CALDWELL-BRIDGER
Invitations reading as follows have been received:

"Mr. Henry Craven Bridge requests the honor of your presence at the marriage of his daughter
Anabel
to
Mr. Robert David Caldwell
on Wednesday, the twenty-fourth of October at eight o'clock in the evening at the First Baptist Church, Bladenboro, North Carolina."

"Mr. Henry Craven Bridge requests the honor of your company on Tuesday, the twenty-third of October at nine o'clock at his residence Will be at home after the fifteenth of November Lumberton, North Carolina."

On Friday evening, the Thimble club gave a very enjoyable affair at Germania club in honor of Miss Marie Rehder and Mr. Henry Gerdes who will be married October 31st.

Hearts were played, six tables being present. Immediately after the presentation of the prizes, the reading of a book "putting the finishing touches on the booky a corsage bouquet of lemons, the bride-to-be was handed a card with ribbon attached which led her to the dining room.

The dining room was particularly pretty carrying out the color scheme of green and white. At the head of the dining room table was the "Matrimonial Bark" heavily laden with gifts for the bride and groom to be. The place cards were very unique, each containing a conundrum appropriate for the occasion. The favors for the ladies were corsage bouquets for the bride-to-be a shower bouquet and the gentlemen buttonholes. The salad course was followed by an ice cream course, the cream being in the shape of hearts.

Those present were Miss Marie Rehder, Mr. Henry Gerdes, Miss Johanna Rehder, Mr. Chris Gerdes, Miss Louise Fick, Mr. Harry Solomon, Miss Anna Fick, Mr. John Montgomery, Miss Augusta Fuchs, Mr. Fred Aberly, Mr. and Conrod Wessell, Mr. and Mrs. Cend Duls, Mr. and Mrs. Herman Gerdes, Mr. and Mrs. John Funderburg, Mr. and Mrs. Will Berry, Mr. and Mrs. Richard Dunslea, Mr. and Mrs. Carl Fick, Mr. Rehder and Mrs. Gerdes, Mrs. E. Schullen and Mrs. E. F. Banck.

It was one of the most delightful of several fall events and was pleasing in every particular to the many guests present.

Mrs. F. D. Fick left last night for Raleigh to attend the funeral of her uncle, Lieut. Richard Fick who died last Saturday in the federal hospital at Los Angeles, from the effects of being gassed during the war. His sister, Mrs. Thomas H. Hawkins who lives here, left for Raleigh Monday where she and her father, J. D. Garret, lives, and where the body is expected to arrive Monday afternoon. The Gardens lived in Wilmington before the war. The Lieutenant was a reporter on the St. Louis Globe Democrat when his health failed.

J. F. Stack, of Atlanta, was a business visitor here Saturday.

Mr. and Mrs. L. A. Herring, Miss Mary Elizabeth Herring and Mr. Robert and Lewis Herring, all of Wallace are guests at the home of S. F. Highsmith, on Market street.

Master Steven Corbett Briggs, Lakeland, Fla., is visiting Mrs. J. W. Charles, at 108 North 8th street.

Mason-Justice Marriage

Many friends in Wilmington have received the following announcement: "Mr. and Mrs. Charles Allen Mason announce the marriage of their daughter, Ruby, to Mr. Herbert Uriah Justice on Wednesday October the third, nineteen hundred and twenty-three, Beaufort, North Carolina."

The bride is a most attractive young lady of Beaufort, and the groom is a well known young man of Sneed's Ferry. They are now making their home in Beaufort.

Mr. and Mrs. J. D. Sprunt are guests at the Hotel De Soto in Savannah, Ga.

BIRTHDAY PARTY

Little Miss Anna Laura Padrick entertained a number of her little friends Friday 12th the occasion being her third birthday. After enjoying several games little Miss Padrick ushered her guests into the dining room where delicious refreshments were served. The color scheme of pink and white being carried out. There were 18 little friends who joined in helping her pass an enjoyable afternoon. She was the recipient of many pretty gifts. One of the out of town guests was her grandmother, Mrs. A. J. Nimitz of Charleston, S. C.

ENGAGEMENT OF MUCH INTEREST

Friends in the city will be interested to learn of the announcement of the engagement of Miss Louise Baker of Raleigh, to Mr. Lawrence Parsons of Newport News, Va. The wedding will take place the first of December. Miss Baker will be pleasantly remembered here having been a visitor in the city on several occasions.

Mr. and Mrs. D. J. Padrick Jr. have as their guest, Mrs. A. J. Nimitz of Charleston, the latter's mother.

Mrs. L. W. Murphy of Greensboro is visiting her sister Mrs. C. C. Covington at her home on south Third street.

Kenneth Burgwin has returned from Raleigh, where he has been for the past week attending the supreme court.

Mrs. R. F. Hamme has gone to Charlotte to spend sometime with her daughter, Mrs. Raymon Reinhart, Jr.

Mrs. E. Comera Benedict, of Philadelphia is visiting Mrs. Levi MacMillan at her home 102 north Fifth street. A number of lovely courtesies have already been extended. Mrs. Benedict who before her marriage was Miss Elsie Moore will be most pleasantly remembered having visited here on several occasions.

Mr. and Mrs. A. F. Miles are expected to return today from Norfolk, where Mrs. Miles has been visiting her mother for the past month.

D. A. R. Delegates Named.

At an unusually large and enthusiastic meeting Friday evening at the W. L. I. armory of the Stamp and Seal chapter of the Daughters of the American Revolution Miss Pauline Williams, Miss Sallie Bowden and Mrs. Guy A. Cardwell were named as

Scribblers Club

The Scribblers' club, while not so large as some of the organizations connected with New Hanover High school, is surely as vigorous as any. It begins the year with all members thoroughly interested and ready to "scribble" with renewed energy on ideas that will be during vacation. Although not yet a year old, the club, it is felt, has already justified its existence. In this school as in every school, are some students who find genuine joy in self-expression through writing, and others do through the pen and pencil. It was for the pleasure and profit of such students that the Scribblers' club came into existence. Only those who combine originality of ideas with a fair ability to express these ideas in clear English are admitted to membership. While all students are given an opportunity to develop talent in the class rooms, there is something in the atmosphere of a congenial group of scribblers that adds zest to their efforts. Some of the productions do, perhaps, prove to be "stereotyped efforts," as one member so aptly expresses it; yet no program so far has failed to produce verse, story or sketch of unusual merit.

As to subjects and styles, there are as many varieties as members. One member gives charming plantation sketches; the club president delights with most original plots and O. Henry endings to her stories. One of the best writers enjoys writing vividly realistic stories of small boys. (She has brothers, it is understood), and one member complains that everything she writes takes a humorous twist in spite of his efforts to maintain dignity.

Just now the club is quite proud of the fact that it is actually within sight of that goal toward which all scribblers, young and old, eagerly press—publication.

The Gleam, a magazine of verse for young people, will shortly publish a poem by the club secretary, Robbins Fowler. As the Gleam has published verse from some of the largest high schools of the country, from Los Angeles to New York, it is felt that the Scribblers are thus proved equal to the best of high school writers.

Miss Leonora Watg, of the English department, originated the Scribblers' club, and as its adviser has given to the members a sympathetic guidance that has been an inspiration to unusually successful effort.

Miss W. R. Hays was elected chairman of the Better Films committee, a movement recently organized by Mrs. W. R. Reynolds of Winston-Salem for the benefit of children.

At the meeting last evening all monthly reports were submitted satisfactorily and the chapter went on record as opposing the changing of the name of Market street to Main, whether it was a bona fide issue or not.

Miss Marjorie Willard has gone to Fayetteville, for a visit to Miss Addie Huske. Miss Huske also has as her guest, Miss Louise Oates, of New York.

Loflin-Johnson
A wedding of much interest in Virginia and North Carolina took place on Wednesday, Sept. 19, high noon, at St. Andrew's Episcopal church when Lillian Edna Johnson, only daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Edward Johnson, of Kasereville, Va. became the bride of Adrain Lyle Loflin, son of Mr. and Mrs. J. O. Loflin, of Mt. Olive, N. C.

The church was exquisitely decorated in yellow draperies and ferns; the central aisle was festooned with ropes of green and a walk way was formed of burning candles from the door to the altar of ferns and flowers with tall candles. Rev. John Kline performed the ceremony. Preceding the ceremony, Misses Jim and Rachel Kornegay sang, "I Love Thee," accompanied by Miss Willie B. Farrar, who played the wedding march.

The bride was charmingly attired in a beautiful gown of grey satin crepe tulle, with grey lace and a large picture hat. She carried a shower bouquet of bride's roses and lilies of the valley. Miss Mary M. Williams, of Rocky Point, N. C., her maid of honor and only attendant wore a lovely rock of orchid chiffon over pink satin with trimmings of silver, and carried an armful of fringed dahlias.

The groom was attended by Mr. Wm. T. McGee, of Mt. Olive, N. C., as best man. Mr. C. G. Neblett, Jr., was master of ceremonies, and Mr. Robert Garland, of Farmville, Va.; Mr. Robert Smith, of Mt. Olive, N. C., and Mr. Marshall Jones, of Red Springs, N. C., served as ushers.

Immediately after the ceremony a luncheon was given for the bridal party at the home of the bride's parents. The parlor and dining room were decorated in yellow dahlias and ferns and luncheon and refreshment courses were served to about 50 guests, including the bridal party and near relatives of the couple. The bride wore a going away suit of wool suede cloth with fur trimmings of squirrel. After a tour covering New York, Washington and other points north they will make their home in Mount Olive, N. C.

Out-of-town guests attending the ceremony were Mrs. T. N. McGee, Miss Margaret Loflin, Miss Jim Kornegay and Miss Rachel Kornegay, of Mount Olive; Miss Mary Williams, of Rocky Point; Mr. Robert Garland, of Farmville, Va.; Mr. Marshall Jones, Red Springs, N. C.; Mr. Robt. Smith, Mt.

CHANNEL SWIM FAT MAN'S JOB
CLEVELAND, Oct. 13.—Swimming the English channel is a fat man's game, Carbis A. Walker of Cleveland, who swam across Lake Erie this summer but failed to negotiate the channel, said in explanation of his failure.

"I was in the water 3 1/2 hours," he said. "It was so cold it penetrated my muscles. After swimming three miles I became delirious and then unconscious. It's a fat man's job—and only a man with a lot of surplus flesh on his ribs to withstand the cold water can succeed. I failed because I had kept down weight for fast swimming."

SAGHALIEN RICH IN OIL
TOKIO, Oct. 13.—Professor Iki, of Toyo University, has just returned from a year's sojourn in North Saghalien, among the fish-eating natives. He describes the habits of these people, but more interesting is his statement about oil. He says petroleum is oozing out of the ground all over the northern part of the island, and that oil pools of great size are found everywhere.

Men's Supper Postponed.
On account of the Gypsy Smith meetings the supper which was to have been given by the Men's Club of the First Presbyterian church on Tuesday evening, has been postponed until the regular meeting next month.

Leslie R. Hummell has returned from a business trip to Charlotte.

Mrs. B. C. Dickerson has gone to Fayetteville for a visit to her daughter, Mrs. Stiles S. Dixon, at her home, on Haymount.

Attending House Party.
The following item from Friday's issue of the Fayetteville Observer is of interest here: "Miss Mary Lybrook Lasater of Winston-Salem will arrive in the city tomorrow to be the guest of Miss Margaret Huske, on Haymount. Miss Huske also has as her guests, Misses Jane MacRae of Asheville, Jane MacMillan and Emma Bellamy Williamson of Wilmington. The young ladies are in the city to attend the Currie-Lilly wedding on Tuesday."

Miss Huske Hostess.
FAYETTEVILLE, Oct. 13.—Lovely in its every detail was the tea given Thursday afternoon by Miss Margaret Huske at her home on Haymount, complimenting Miss Hester Lilly, whose marriage to Mr. Murphy Currie is the outstanding event of next week. The Huske home was unusually pretty with its decorations of bright hued autumn flowers and greenery. Tea and sandwiches were served.

Among the out-of-town visitors present were Misses Jane MacMillan and Emma Bellamy Williamson of Wilmington, Louise Oates of New York, the latter two guests of Miss Addie Huske; Mrs. Cowles of Fort Bragg, a recent arrival at the garden; and a schoolmate at St. Mary's of the hostess; Miss Virginia Spence of Washington, D. C.; Miss Pegram Williams of Augusta, Ga.

Bridal Reception is Notable Event

(Special to the Star.)
WALLACE, Oct. 13.—At her beautiful new home here Tuesday afternoon, Mrs. Norwood Honey entertained most delightfully from 4 to 6 o'clock in honor of her aunt, Mrs. N. W. Outlaw, of Goldsboro, and Mrs. T. G. Jerome, Wallace's newest bride. The house was most artistically decorated with a profusion of yellow cut flowers, helping to carry out the color scheme of yellow. At the front door the guests were welcomed by Mrs. Geo. R. Ward, and introduced to the receiving line, composed of the hostess, Mrs. Honey, Mrs. Jerome, Mrs. Robert Dall, of Kenansville; Mrs. Outlaw, of Goldsboro; and Mrs. Ebert Sutherland, of Kenansville.

Mrs. H. B. Dunn and Mrs. J. W. Carroll received at the doors of the dining-room and ushered the guests from the reception hall into the dining-room, a bower of yellow flowers, lighted yellow candles in cutglass and silver candelabra. Mrs. C. B. Adams and Mrs. Roy Baines poured tea, at opposite ends of the table, and were assisted in serving a course of sandwiches, wafers and tea, followed with yellow mints, by Misses Margaret Colwell and Nina McIntire. In the sandwiches, wafers, mints and table decorations, the color scheme was minutely carried out.

The guests were shown into the living room by Miss Jessie Rose, and here Mrs. Roy Page was at the Edison, giving the visitors music from the best musicians. Mrs. R. A. Parker had charge of the guest-book, where more than fifty names were entered as having spent a delightful hour. Mrs. J. D. Carr was at the side door to say and receive the adieux. Little Miss Eleanor Byrd and Emily Carr charmingly assisted those in charge of the dining room.

Where Quality Counts

There are some little necessary things in life which—to be in good taste—must be done in a manner that betokens a personal touch, if not, then the purpose is defeated. Take for instance the sending of Christmas Cards—

Who is it that reads the forms of expressing good will shown thereon and how this applies to the recipient of the card?

Or, what does your friend think when he or she receives from you a cheaply printed "color scheme" with a jumble of stilted phrases on it? Either that you picked up the first bargain counter thing that you could find or that you really did not mind very much what you were sending. If more attention were given to the matter of buying Christmas Cards it certainly would give your friends more pleasure to receive them.

We have seen Christmas Cards that had been kept for years, simply because they were artistic gems coupled with delicately expressed wishes for happiness.

No house in this country has given greater attention to the production of these cards than the J. P. Stevens Engraving Co., of Atlanta, Ga., and the samples which they exhibit this year show a wonderful variety of designs and great superiority in harmony of color as well as mechanical excellence. Now is the time to order them before the rush comes on.
