A Shoefly Drawing Contest. Illustrations of children drawing and a shoefly.

OCTOBER 8th to 20th Fifteen Grand Pizes. School days will soon be here again. Every school child that reads this advertisement under 15 years of age can enter this contest and compete for one of these. 1st Prize—$5.00 in Gold. 2nd Prize—$2.50 in Gold. 3rd Prize—1 pair of Shoes to Fit. 4th to 15th Prize—1 Scooter each. There are no set rules to follow. Just draw "Shoefly" and write a verse. You can dress him as a school teacher, as a farmer, or as any character you wish. Study the pictures in this ad, and in our other ads, to see "Shoefly" in different poses. It will help you to draw a better picture and write a better verse. All entries must be drawn in black or colored pencil or ink on one side of white paper, with your name, address, and age plainly printed in one corner. SEND US EVERY PICTURE YOU DRAW AND VERSE YOU WRITE, NO MATTER HOW SIMPLE IT IS. Even though you know that some school mates can draw better than you, you might win a prize, for originality, cleverness, comedy and uniqueness will count as much as prettiness. The judges will be two school teachers of this city. Cleverness, comedy, uniqueness and age will all count. Additional "Shoefly" verses and drawings on display in our window to assist you. When I was going barefoot Gee, how my feet did grow. They make my old shoes feel quite tight. Because they've spread out so. But these new shoes that I just got— Oh, my, how good they feel! There's lots of room for toes to spread And support for arch and heel. There was a sweet lady Who lived in a shoe. She had a lot of children— But she knew what to do. She didn't whip them. Or put them to bed; She made them all happy— With new shoes instead.
