Friends of Dr. B. R. Graham will be interested to learn that he is greatly improved after a recent operation and will return home Tuesday. He will be accompanied by Mrs. Graham.

A delightful banquet was served to the fathers and sons of St. Paul's and St. Matthew's Lutheran churches, in the upper hall of the Luther Memorial building, Friday night at 6:30 o'clock. All the men and their sons were invited to attend, and sons were provided for those not fortunate enough to have sons of their own. An interesting program was arranged, with Mr. W. W. Kook acting as toastmaster. The toast, "The Business of Being a Dad," was responded to by Henry Bremer, and "Dad and I," by Alfred Bremer. Mr. Odis Hinant, to whom the "boy" is ever interesting, was the main speaker and was followed by Mr. Conrad Seegers in a reading entitled "The Man To Be."

A two course supper was served by a committee of ladies. A series of "mousetrap songs" were sung, and during the evening, partners were supposed to put away all dull care and become boys again with their sons. At the conclusion all were invited to attend the lecture at the First Baptist church.

Mrs. W. H. Pemberton, who has been in New York for some time with Dr. and Mrs. E. R. Graham, is now in Richmond, Va. Mrs. Pemberton will join Dr. and Mrs. Graham in Richmond and will return to Wilmington Tuesday.

Miss Anna Bulluck left last week for Chicago, where she will visit her sister, Mrs. Carrie Rogers, and Mrs. R. C. Koch, who formerly lived in Wilmington. She will be away until about January 1.

All the women of Trinity Methodist church are asked to attend a meeting of the local work department at 4 p. m. Monday. The penny barrels will be opened and every woman who has a barrel is asked to present and bring the barrel.

Circle No. 1, Fifth Avenue Methodist church, will meet with Mrs. J. E. Evans, of 7 Wrightsville avenue, Tuesday at 3:30 p. m.

Mrs. B. T. Hopkins will teach the Philathea class at the First Baptist church on Sunday morning, November 18th.

Miss Margaret M. Price has returned from Richmond, Va., where she attended the district convention of the Pacific Mutual Life insurance company. While away Miss Price visited friends in Richmond and Rocky Mount.

Miss Presson Weds Mr. Wood in At. Mr. and Mrs. D. J. Watson announce the marriage of their daughter, Miss Elizabeth Rye Presson, to Mr. Charles M. Wood, of Raleigh, on November 17th.

The ceremony, at which Reverend Redwine, of the Jackson Hill Baptist church, officiated, was witnessed by the members of the immediate family only. The bride wore a gown of silver grey crepe cloth with silver fox trimmings. Her hat was a smart close model of Grey pan velvet. A corsage of Ophelia roses completed the costume.

Miss Presson has a wide circle of friends throughout North Carolina who will learn with interest of her recent marriage.

Daughters of the Confederacy to Meet The regular monthly meeting of the Cape Fear chapter of the Daughters of the Confederacy will be held at the Wilmington Light Infantry armory, Monday afternoon at 4 o'clock. All members are urged to attend.

The members of the Rebekah degree are planning a Thanksgiving social for Thursday evening, November 22, and are sending out the enclosed card with little sacks attached to receive the offering. The public is invited, whether they receive a sack or not. An enjoyable program has been arranged, and a pleasant evening promised all who attend.

Mrs. George Peck has as her charming guest Mrs. George P. James, of Washington.

Mrs. Hardin Jewett and little son, Tommy, left Saturday for Wilson to visit her parents, Mr. and Mrs. E. D. Rawlings. They will be away for about two weeks. Mr. Jewett is in Jacksonville on a two week's business trip.

Henry B. Harbers is spending a few days in Charleston, S. C.

Mr. Fred Schiller leaves tonight for New York to attend the fiftieth anniversary of Mr. Schiller's parents, while in New York Mrs. Schiller will open her shop with the latest millinery.

Miss Baker is a most beautiful young woman of char man popularity, and Mr. Parsons a prominent business man of Newport News, Va.

Charles Grainger left the city Saturday for Baltimore, where he will spend the week-end.

Circle No. 3, of the Fifth Avenue Methodist church, will meet Tuesday at 3:30 p. m. at the home of Mrs. T. J. Landen, 513 South Fifth avenue.

Rev. W. A. Stanbury, pastor of Grace Methodist church, is attending the annual conference of the Methodist church, in Elizabeth City. The Rev.

Parson-Baker Invitations
Invitations received yesterday and which will be of much social interest throughout the state were the following: "Mr. and Mrs. Everard Hall Baker request the honor of your presence at the marriage of their daughter, Emily Louise, to Mr. Lawrence Parsons, on Monday evening, the third of December, at nine o'clock, Christ church, Raleigh, North Carolina."

Birthday Party
In honor of his sixth birthday, Master George Lynch was host to a large number of his friends on Thursday afternoon at 4 o'clock. The house was beautifully decorated in pink and white crepe paper, and delicious refreshments were served. During the afternoon many delightful games were played. The most attractive feature of the afternoon was the "Jack Horner Pie." Just before leaving the pie was placed in the center of the room and each little guest was given a ribbon, the end of which was an attractive favor.

The guests were: Jim Robertson, Lilly Robertson, Sarah Little, Whit Benton, Charles Lynch, Mary Lynch, Francis Southland, Charles Borden Lynch, Billy Broadfoot, Winston Broadfoot, Ann Emple Boatwright, Mary Nella Boatwright, Rody Kidder, David Murchison, Wallace Murchison, Florence Moore, Peggy Moore, Therba Dickinson, Harry Smallbones, Rowena Sidbury, Mary P. Christmas Bazaar
The guild of St. Paul's Episcopal church, on Sixteenth and Market streets, will hold a Christmas bazaar in the parish house on Tuesday and Wednesday, December 4 and 5, from 3 in the afternoon until 10 at night. Household linens, fancy work, Japanese articles, cake and candy will be on sale. Tea and sandwiches will be served in the Japanese tea room. The public is cordially invited to attend.

Writing Articles
Friends of Mrs. Elizabeth Fishplate Buck, who have not been aware that her versatility included talents of a literary nature, will be surprised to learn that she is now engaged in the writing of a history of the San Domingo, where she formerly resided. The article is to appear in a magazine at an early date. Several years ago Mrs. Buck contributed an article to The Star, dealing with the quaint customs of the West Indian island, which was widely read. The descriptions of the country in this article, particularly that part dealing with Henriquilla and Anacayona, two of the most romantic cities in Domingan history, recently brought two Asheville visitors to call on Mrs. Buck, they being interested in the description.

Fourth Bridge Party
Another of the delightful Saturday afternoon card parties at the Country club was held yesterday. Miss Margaret Bellamy was the charming hostess for the occasion. She was assisted by Miss Jane MacMillan and Miss Montie MacRae. Bridge and Mah Jong were played at six tables. Mrs. Walter Williamson, having high bridge score, was the recipient of a lovely prize.

Mrs. Walter Clark delighted a number of her friends with a theatre party Saturday evening, complimentary to Mrs. J. E. W. Cook, Mrs. Henry Day and Mrs. Charles Taylor, all of whom are leaving the city the first of December to live in other parts of the state.

Miss Dreher Honored
Miss Katherine Haar delightfully entertained at her home on Wrightsville Beach Saturday afternoon in honor of Miss Martha Dreher, charming daughter of Dr. and Mrs. J. H. Dreher, whose marriage will take place in the near future.

Mrs. Winder Hughes is in Greensboro, her former home, visiting her mother, Mrs. Walsh.

Southside Baptist church celebrated father and son's wee kin great shape. More than 125 fathers and sons sit down to the tables together. From the time that the whistle was blown for them to march in until the last song was sung, the group was in an uproar. It seemed as if the fathers had changed again and became boys. The following was the program that was carried out:

Songs—"There Are Feeds That Make Men Happy," J. F. Warren.
Invocation.
Eats—(Music while eating).
Toastmaster—Joe C. Sharp.
Toasts—"To Son, E. L. Avery."
Response—"To Father, Harry Avery."
Piano Solo—"J. J. Curtis."
Jokes.
Duet.
"What Does a Father Expect of His Son," J. H. Curtis.
"What Does a Son Expect of His Father," William Simon.
Quartette.
"Father and Son in the Church," J. F. Warren.
Song—"Bless Be the Tie That Binds."

Christmas Bazaar
The guilds of St. James' church will have a joint bazaar on December 6, from 3:30 in the afternoon until 10 o'clock at night. The committee of arrangements are at work on very interesting plans for this bazaar and the public is cordially asked to remember the date.

Ministering Circle Sale
The Ministering circle of King's Daughters will have their annual Christmas sale of fancy articles, cakes, and candy on Thursday afternoon, December 6, beginning at 3:30 o'clock at the home of Mrs. Swift M. Boatwright, 29 South Third street. The public is cordially invited to attend. Wilmington's feminine public looks forward each year with a great deal of interest to this sale, as the members of the Ministering Circle are noted for their exquisite fancy work, which makes such acceptable Christmas gifts.

BUSINESS WOMEN PLAN FOR MEETING
The mid year meeting of the executive board of the North Carolina Federation of Business and Professional Women's Clubs will be held in Raleigh, Saturday, November 24, at the Yarrowford hotel. With this board the state council, composed of a councillor from each local club, will sit. There are 14 active clubs in North Carolina—Asheville, Burlington, Charlotte, Durham, Fayetteville, Goldsboro, Greensboro, Henderson, Hickory, Raleigh, Statesville, Wilmington, Wilson, and Winston-Salem—and Miss Riddick, the president, is receiving very encouraging response from these clubs as to having a representative to attend.

Much active work is being carried on by these clubs, both in the way of promoting the interests of women in the business and professional world, encouraging co-operation among women, and also co-operation with all civic organizations.

The educational program of having every girl finish the high school course before taking a business course is being carried out throughout the state, a loan fund having been established by each club, and this fund is being used by girls who are anxious for promotion in the various vocations and professions. This year the plan of adopting a rural school has been added to the program—the club to advise with and benefit the girl who comes to the city from the rural school, and vice versa.

The question of personal research work will be taken up at the board meeting, and it is hoped that plans may be laid for accomplishing something along this line during the year. Also the plans for organization will be quite an important feature, as every effort is being made to have a club in every town in order that the business women may co-operate in every way.

The Raleigh Business and Professional Women's Club will serve as hostesses to the visitors.

Whiteville

Cards have been received announcing the marriage of Miss Ruth Carr, whose home is near Wallace, to Mr. Eugene Davis, formerly of Burgaw, but now living in Whiteville, in charge of the Standard Oil station here. Mr. and Mrs. Davis arrived in town Wednesday night, and Thursday night were given a kitchen supper at the home of Mr. and Mrs. R. C. Carson, by the Senior Christian Endeavor society of Westminster church, of which Mr. Davis is president. After the guests had been presented to the bride, little Misses Marguerite

Dovey and Kathleen Hardie, dressed as Old Dutch Cleanser maidens, brought in a large laundry basket piled high with not only useful but very ornamental kitchen accessories after which the hostess served an ice cream course. There were nearly 60 guests present to enjoy the occasion.

A mass meeting, called for the purpose of organizing a law and order league in this county, is set for next Sunday afternoon at 3 o'clock, in the court house. Several men of prominence in the state have been invited to come and speak on that occasion. Both women and men are expected to attend. Rev. Joseph Benjamen, of Columbia, S. C., who is well known to Wilmington people, will speak in Westminster church, both morning and evening of next Sunday.

It is interesting to know that a number of the colored people of Columbus county won fine prizes at the negro state fair in Raleigh last week. The colored farm demonstrator and the home demonstrator are doing good work in this county.

Mrs. W. P. Perkins has been named county chairman for the annual Red Cross roll call in Columbus county. It is hoped that the county will respond with a generous contribution to this great cause.

Armistice day was not observed here in any special way. The O. Henry Literary society of our public school had a splendid Armistice day program at their meeting held just two days before the 11th, consisting of the following numbers: "America," by text and society; recitation, "In Flanders Fields," Eunice Jordan; reading, "How the World War Came to the United States," Lizzie Fisher; reading, "How We Helped the Government," Catherine Davis; reading, "Our Dead Overseas," Rachel Cook; reading, "Our Dead in the World War," Frances Nichols.

A large number of ladies attended the district convention of the Methodist church, held in Wilmington on last Friday. They were: Mesdames George R. McNeill, W. C. Merritt, W. R. McCracken, J. E. Holcomb, H. L. Lyon, L. V. Grady, Floyd Johnson, Elmo Powell, J. F. Barkley, C. C. Moore, F. R. Davis and Miss Julia Merritt.

Rev. and Mrs. W. C. Merritt are away this week attending conferences in Elizabeth City. A number of the Junior C. E.'s of Westminster church, with their superintendent, Mrs. B. C. Casson, went to Raeford this morning to attend the district C. E. convention, which is being held there. A most elaborately staged and impressive event occurred on Saturday evening last at 6:30 o'clock, when Miss Virginia Belle High was married to Mr. Charles Edward Turnbull, at the home of her parents, Mr. and Mrs. Oscar High, on Pinkney street. The large colonial style house was decorated in green and white, especially in the room where the wedding ceremony was performed, one side of which was banked with palms and other green plants; the attractiveness of the decoration being enhanced by the light of many candles. Just before the ceremony, Mrs. E. K. Proctor sang "God Make Thee Mine." This was followed by "To a Wild Rose," rendered by Miss Lucy Schulken, who also played the wedding march, and soft airs during the ceremony.

As the strains of the wedding march commenced, the damsels of honor and sister of the bride, Mrs. Joe Schulken, came down the stairway, attired in blue broadcote gorette. She was followed by the ring bearer, little three-year old Robert Powell, Jr., dressed in black velvet, and carrying the precious rose with the greatest dignity. Then followed the bride on the arm of the groom. She was dressed in chiffon velvet, with a small hat to match, and looked even more handsome than usual. The bride's pastor, Rev. D. M. McGeachy, met the couple at the improvised altar, and with fitting ceremony joined them man and wife.

At the conclusion of the ceremony, an informal reception was held, during which the hostess served an ice course with the following little ladies as waiters: Misses Dixie Lyon, Amanda Tucker, Etta Nance, Betsy and Margaret McDaniel and Louise High. Mr. and Mrs. Turnbull left immediately, without announcing their destination, but it was thought they would visit Pinehurst and other points before returning home. They will live for the present in Wilmington with Mr. and Mrs. Robert Turnbull, parents of the groom.

Among the out-of-town guests were Mr. and Mrs. Robert Turnbull, and Miss Helen Turnbull of Wilmington, Mr. and Mrs. Stapleton of Alabama, Mrs. E. H. Williamson and Miss Frances Williamson of Fayetteville.

There was large assortment of gifts showing the popularity of the young couple.

A number of Whiteville ladies spent Friday in Wilmington, attending the district missionary meeting of the Methodist church. They were Mesdames George McNeill, W. C. Merritt, W. R. McCracken, J. E. Holcomb, H. L. Lyon, L. V. Grady, Floyd Johnson, Elmo Powell, J. F. Barkley, C. C. Moore, F. R. Davis and Miss Julia Merritt.

Mrs. W. M. Boice arrive in town this morning with her two children to join Mr. Boice, who has made his headquarters here for several weeks. They will board at the New Columbus until after Christmas. Mr. Boice has recently formed a partnership with Mr. W. E. McDaniel in the insurance business.

Mrs. S. C. Porter arrived on Saturday morning to visit her parents, Mr. and Mrs. W. C. Rushing. Mrs. Porter, who was Miss Alma Rushing, was married a year ago, and has been living in California, and other parts of the far west ever since.
