

CONGRESS OKEHS HATCH MEASURE

Bill To Curb Political Activity By Federal Workers Sent To Roosevelt

WASHINGTON, July 11.—(AP)—The Hatch bill, curbing political activity by an army of state and local government employees, was finally passed by congress today.

The measure was sent to the White House after the senate agreed to changes the house approved yesterday.

The legislation is a companion piece to the original Hatch Act, applying to federal employees. The new measure applies to officials and employees working on programs financed in whole or in part by the federal government.

These employees would be forbidden to use their position to influence the result of elections, to coerce other employees or to engage actively in political campaigns. Various elective officials would be exempt from the last restriction.

In addition, the bill would limit individual campaign contributions to $5,000 in any one year and would restrict the expenditures of any political committee to $3,000,000 a year.

MadFox Takes To Warpath Near Kelly And Meets Just Deserts

KELLY, July 11.—Those mad foxes are running again. Yes sir, they came out of hiding a few days ago when one of the species descended on the little town of Rowan, creating as much excitement as the James boys riding into Tombstone.

Miss Alva Moore, who was visiting at the home of Mr. and Mrs. C. R. Brinkley, saw Reynard loping up the slope into the yard and, observing at once that the visitor's actions were distinctly anti-social, she ran to inform Mrs. Brinkley of the marauder.

Locking the small children in the house, the two women, with the aid of brick-bats, sticks and brooms, staged as courageous a battle as any pioneer woman holding off a band of redskins with a musket. For over an hour they kept Brother Fox at bay, until that infuriated gentleman decided that it wasn't good ethics to battle ladies and galloped away.

In a short time, however, the rabid fox turned up at the home of Archie Barnhill, some distance away. Archie spied Reynard making an off-tackle lunge toward his house and quickly unloosed a heavy load of lead in his general direction. But there was fight in the old boy yet and the fox, now quite mad, dashed at Mr. Barnhill again. With his back to the wall, Archie emptied his gun in the oncoming fox's face—the animal falling dead.

However, the second blast from the shotgun went through the fox and took effect in the motor of Barnhill's car, parked nearby, damaging the machine considerably.

Men Enrolled At Special Military Camp Will Get Thorough Arms Training

ATLANTA, July 11.—(AP)—Southern professional and business men enrolled in Fort McPherson's special military training camp will get thorough schooling in the use of Uncle Sam's most modern war weapons.

The weapons will be used for stripping and assembling, demonstration and actual firing later by the trainees during the 30-day camp, which now is in its first week.

War Department Favors Compulsory Training

WASHINGTON, July 11.—(AP)—The War department went on record as favoring compulsory military training today, when Gen. George C. Marshall, army chief of staff, expressed the view that the armed forces could not be built up to "essential" strength by voluntary enlistments.

Marshall is scheduled to testify tomorrow before a senate committee on the Burke-Wadsworth training bill, and he indicated in talking to reporters that the War department would endorse it with "minor" amendments.

It was understood that the army chief favored an army of 500,000 men or more. The army now is working toward a goal of 280,000 enlisted men by Aug. 30.

TO START TRAINING

WASHINGTON, July 11.—(AP)—The navy's training of 5,000 men as reserve officers will be launched July 16 when the first 600 candidates depart on a four-week cruise aboard the former battleship Wyoming.
