Trinity Methodist Church Is Scene Of Lovely Wedding Last Evening

Trinity Methodist church was the scene of the wedding of Miss Nancy Ann Campbell, when she became the bride of Alva Kilpatrick Cooper, Jr., of Wilmington, last evening at 6:30 o'clock. The church was beautifully decorated for the occasion with the chancel being banked with palms and ferns throughout the chancel were rows of floor candelabra holding burning tapers and floor standards holding Easter lilies.

The ceremony was performed by the Rev. R. L. Jerome, pastor of the church. While the guests assembled and during the ceremony a beautiful program of nuptial music was given by William G. Robertson, organist, and Miss Alce Cooper, of Prattville, Ala., sister of the bridegroom, gave the following violin selections: "Meditation" by Massenet, "Greeting" by Pfferkorn, and Wagner's "Evening Star" from Tannhauser. The traditional bridal chorus from Lohengrin by Wagner and Mendelssohn's wedding march were used for the professional and recessional.

The bride chose as her maid of honor, Miss Christine Thompson, of Chapel Hill, and Mrs. Robert C. Cantwell, III, of Wilmington, was dame of honor. Bridesmaids were Mrs. Sherwood D. Dudley and Miss Louise Worth Washburn, both of Wilmington.

The bridegroom had as his best man, his father, A. K. Cooper of Prattville, Ala. Groomsman were Post Loiselle and Rhett Taber, both of Wilmington, Clark Duncan, of Buena Vista, Ga., and Edwin Dalrymple, of Sanford.

The attendants wore lovely gowns of champagne net made with long sleeves and high necklines. The dresses were trimmed with tiny bands of gold material and they wore natural arrangements of champagne carnations in their hair. They carried beautiful bouquets of champagne carnations tied with matching ribbon.

The bride entered the church with her father, by whom she was given in marriage, wearing a lovely gown of ivory satin, fashioned with a very long waistline, high neckline and long sleeves, which were shirred to the wristline. The tiny collar was made of lace. Her veil of ivory illusion was held in place by a small cap of old family lace with veil falling gracefully the entire length of the long court train. She carried a colonial bouquet of ivory roses and lilies of the valley edged with lace and tied with ivory satin ribbon.

Mrs. Campbell, mother of the bride, wore a lovely gown of ivory lace and a corsage of orchids. Mrs. Cooper was becomingly (Continued on Page Fifteen; Col. 2)
