

PERIOD EXTENDED ON COTTON LOANS

Pledges on 1938-39-40 Crops Allowed 60-Day Period for Redemption

WASHINGTON, July 31.—(AP)—The Agriculture department announced today that it would allow farmers until October 1 to repay out-standing loans and redeem cotton pledged under 1938, 1939 and 1940 loan programs.

The loans were dated to expire tomorrow. Loans outstanding on July 26 involved 491,876 bales, of which 109, 214 bales were from the 1940 crop, 2,631 bales from 1939 and 380,031 from 1938.

Because of recent sharp price advances, many growers already have redeemed and sold their cotton for more than enough to repay their loans.

The department said that cotton not redeemed by October 1 would be placed in pools and sold after next March 1. The net proceeds of such pools, if any, after deduction of all loans and accrued costs, including storage, insurance, and handling charges, would be distributed among producers whose cotton had been placed in the pool, in proportion to their interest.

Masonic Lodge Deeds Building To Southport

SOUTHPORT, July 31.—The Masonic building, long known as the Army and Navy club, has been deeded to the City of Southport, the Masons retaining the meeting hall upstairs. The basketball court, dining room and other downstairs rooms are all in the transfer. No consideration entered into the deal further than that the property will revert to the Masons if and when the planned uses are abandoned.

It is understood that rather extensive improvements are planned with the building to be used for public purposes. Included in the plans are the building nearby of paved tennis courts, construction and tending of a baseball park.

During the many years of occupancy of Fort Caswell, thousands and thousands of soldiers used the Army and Navy Club for recreation purposes; a purpose to which it will again be put with more extensive and more modern facilities. While the details have not been announced, it is understood fairly definitely that the first Naval Recreation Center on the Carolina coast will be located here.

USO Representative Praises Wilmington Center for Soldiers

Gordon W. Avison, representing the United Service Organizations, yesterday told members of the Wilmington Lions club that they had every right to be proud of the Woodrow Wilson recreational hut for soldiers, located at Fourth and Princess streets. Mr. Avison was a guest at the weekly meeting of the club, held in the Friendly Restaurant.

Mr. Avison said the hut is the only one of its type which has been completed in the United States.

Reports on the recent convention of Lions International, held in New Orleans, were made by President Eugene Bullard, L. T. Landen, A. L. King and R. B. Roebuck.

The club voted to lend its assistance to the Lions auxiliary in staging a picnic for soldiers at the hut in the near future. The exact date was not fixed.

There will be a club directors' meeting at 12:45 o'clock next Thursday afternoon, prior to the regular meeting.

According to estimates, each American family used approximately 2295 pounds of finished steel in 1939.

Soldiers' Feet Grow
Quite a number of Uncle Sam's new soldiers have found the comfortable shoes they wore in civilian life are now a size too small. And some of the men who joked about the large shoes issued them in reception centers have filled them out and then some.

According to a report from the War department bureau of public relations, this increase in the size of feet was to be expected, especially among the trainees who generally kept off their feet during civilian work, but now do much marching.

Record Firing Begins
After satisfactorily completing preliminary firing on the small arms range, men of the 93rd C. A. have started "record" rifle firing, in which their scores will be tabulated. Marksmanship medals will be awarded soldiers with high scores in record fire. Approximately 2,200 soldiers and 100 officers of the 93rd are firing.

Unusual Situation
Members of Battery C, 94th C.A., can't make the old complaint that "there weren't enough girls to go around." At a dance held recently for the battery in the Hut at Wilmington, the girls outnumbered the soldiers two to one.

All horses and mules in the army that are expected to participate in the coming maneuvers in the South and Southwest have been vaccinated against both the eastern and western variety of sleeping sickness. Two types of the disease, eastern and western, separated by the Appalachian range, have been recognized for some time. The east variety is the more virulent.

Grit
Pvt. Willard V. Bennett of Headquarters Battery, 2nd Battalion, 94th C. A., is entitled to a generous helping of credit. For he made the hike to and from Sears Landing last week just after getting out of the hospital, where he had been quartered for a month.

Financial Straits
From the correspondent of Battery D, 94th C. A., comes the following plaintive note: "Battery D has a Vanderbilt and a Rockefeller... and no money."

Lengthy Correspondence
Johnny Olson of Battery F, 94th, has good reason to be proud of his girl friend and am-

MUSIC, PLEASE!

NEWARK, N. J., July 31.—(AP)—Ballads of the briny deep and popular tunes help to speed production of blouses for Uncle Sam's navy at a Newark clothing manufacturing concern.

Joseph Spiotin, the proprietor, said the playing of the recorded tunes for the 120 girl workers "is a very nice thing for the girls and for us. It makes them happy, helps them to forget how long the days are and certainly speeds up production."

IMPROVEMENTS OKEYED

RALEIGH, July 31.—(AP)—President Roosevelt has approved a WPA project costing $41,941 for improvements to state buildings and grounds. Governor Broughton was advised today.

First Aid Class Given Certificates for Work

The first group of young women studying first aid in connection with the proposed motor corps has completed the course and has received certificates from the American Red Cross through the office of Mrs. Ida Speiden, local secretary.

Those completing the course under the direction of Miss Bessie Mallard are Miss Alice Moore, Miss Peggy Moore, Mrs. Frances Adams, Mrs. Eleanor Beane, Mrs. Helen Burns, Miss Henrietta MacDowell and Miss Helen MacMillan.

The group is now studying motor mechanics under H. R. Schmidlapp, service manager of the MacMillan and Cameron company. Upon completion of the course and as soon as the second first aid class is completed, the motor corps will be organized here.

Near the end of the World War, Great Britain had more than 3,000,000 persons engaged in munitions work.
