Miss MacMillan And Mr. Fenley To Wed At Home

Ceremony Will Be Solemnized
Saturday Afternoon at Bradley Creek Home

Of much interest to society in the city will be the plans for the wedding of Miss Margaret Anderson MacMillan, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. W. D. MacMillan, to William Michael Fenley, also of Wilmington, which is to take place Saturday afternoon at the home of the bride's parents, "Edge Hill," on Bradley's Creek.

The ceremony will be performed in the garden of the home at 5 o'clock. The Rev. Walter E. Freed, pastor of St. Paul's Lutheran church, will officiate at the wedding. Miss MacMillan will have as her maid of honor and only attendant, her niece, Miss Katherine Rhett. The bride will be given in marriage by her father, Mr. Fenley will have as his best man, Dugal MacMillan of Chapel Hill, brother of the bride. Immediately following the ceremony a small reception will be held in the garden.

Miss MacMillan has been extended a number of lovely events during the week. She was honored yesterday at a party by Miss Helen Farmer and Miss Lucy Hall. Mrs. Bailey entertained Thursday at the Governor Dudley. A dinner party was given last evening at the Ocean Terrace hotel at Wrightsville Beach by Mrs. Eaton of Wilmington, Ky., honoring Miss MacMillan and Mr. Fenley and this evening Misses Nellie and Joannah MacMillan will entertain at a buffet supper at their home at Sloop Point.

MIND YOUR MANNERS

Test your knowledge of correct social usage by answering the following questions then checking against the authoritative answers below:

1. Is it a good idea for a week-end hostess to have copies of current magazines and of new books out in plain sight where guests may pick them up during dull moments?
2. Would it be better for a hostess to say to a guest, "What time would you like to be called in the morning?" or "Would you rather get up and have breakfast with the family at 7 or sleep until you waken and have a tray in your room?"
3. Should a hostess have cigarettes in a guest room?
4. Would it be thoughtful for a weekend hostess to provide a Sunday morning newspaper for each of her guests, so that if they are in the habit of reading the Sunday morning paper in bed they can do so?
5. If your hostess suggests an after-lunch nap, should you fall in with the plan if all you do is retire to your bedroom to read or give yourself a manicure?
6. What would you do if—
You are used to playing bridge for money, but you see that your host and hostess evidently are not—
(a) Don't say anything about the fact that you are used to playing for money?
(b) Say, "Let's play for something a point just to make the game interesting?"

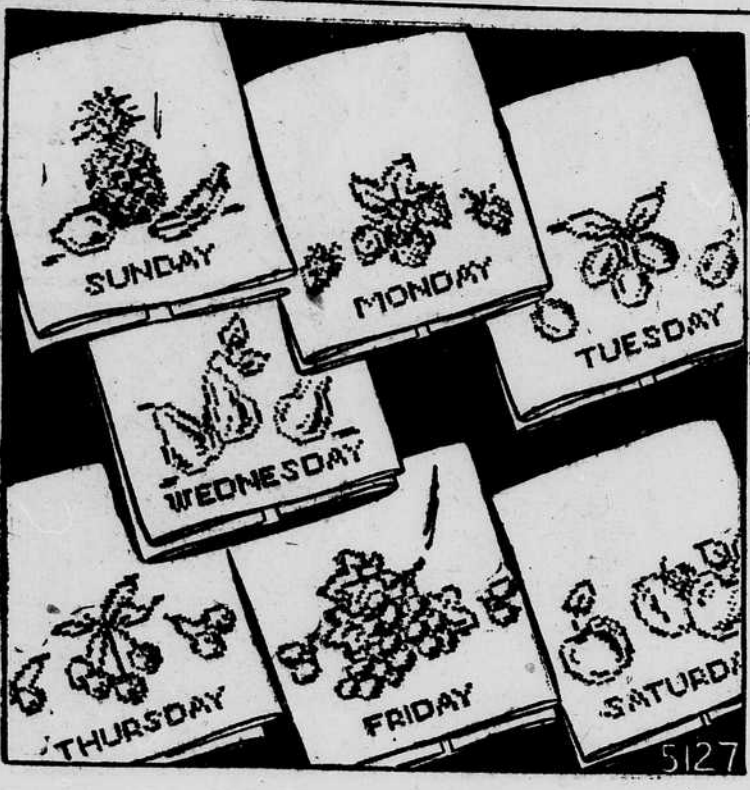

Answers

1. Yes.
2. The latter. Otherwise the guest will try to hit on a time he thinks is convenient for the hostess, and probably it won't be convenient for either of them.
3. Yes.
4. Yes, very thoughtful.
5. Yes. Don't say brightly, "Oh I never sleep in the afternoon." Best "What Would You Do?" solution—(a).

Cross Stitch Fruit For Towels

By MRS. ANNE CABOT
These lovely fruit designs will make you want to get out the preserving kettle as well as your needle and embroidery threads! They're luscious looking—the golden pears and red strawberries, purple plums, yellow pears, ripe-ripe cherries and a tasty-looking bunch of grapes.

Stamp the designs on your kitchen towels and do a bit of quick embroidery and nobody in your kitchen can say he isn't "fruit conscious." This handsome set will make a de-luxe contribution to a church bazaar or to a girl who is just setting up housekeeping. Makes the kind of kitchen towel set you wish someone would give you! So better start right in and make the cross stitch Fruit towels for yourself then make the next set to give away!

Transfer patterns and color chart for the 7 brightly colored fruit designs (Pattern No. 5127), are obtained by sending 10 cents in COIN. YOUR NAME AND ADDRESS and the PATTERN NUMBER to Anne Cabot, Wilmington Morning Star, 106 Seventh avenue, New York city.

DAVIS OFFICERS Will Be Feted At Reception

General and Mrs. Crawford
Will Receive at Lumina
at 9:30 o'Clock

A dance and reception will be held this evening at Lumina, popular pavilion at Wrightsville Beach, at 9 o'clock. This dance is being held for all officers of Camp Davis. At this dance the Commanding General will be pleased to greet all officers and their wives who did not have an opportunity to be present at the previous reception. The receiving line will form at 9:30 o'clock and will be headed by General James B. Crawford and Mrs. Crawford, group and regimental commanders and ladies.

Men Can't 'Go Home To Mamma' --But They've Found The Answer To Their Wives' Longtime Threat

By RUTH MILLETT
There's one way in which wives have always held a whip hand over their husbands.

If things went wrong a wife could always threaten, and if necessary carry out the old challenge, "I don't have to put up with your nasty disposition; I can go home to mother."

Occasionally a husband would also go back to the parental roof when the marital going got tough, but it was too sissy a retreat to appeal to most men.

So the men, having no place to go, had to be content with announcing, "I'm going for a walk," or "I'm going to the club," and slamming the front door behind them.

WORM AS TURNED
Well, the worm has turned. At least the Washington worm has turned. The men there have decided that they will have some place to go—a nice masculine place which, when used as a threat will scare their wives and, when the threat has to be made good, will give them a pleasant retreat with agreeable male companions thrown in.

In short, a group of men in Washington, and their ranks are swelling fast—has formed a club called "The Run Out Husband's Club."

HOLDING HIS CLUB OVER WIFE'S HEAD
Any members who "run out" on their wives can count on other members for sympathy and companionship and help in finding a temporary substitute home.

There isn't a clubhouse yet, but that's in the plans for the future, and when they have that, they'll be even with their wives who have mothers waiting to take them in. It looks like the kind of idea that might catch on fast. So ladies, if you would rather not see a "Run Out Husband's Club" in your own town, there are just two things to do.

Don't ever again threaten going home to another. And treat the man of the house in such a way he won't want to run out. Don't say you weren't warned if you ignore this advice and your husband joins a new club—a club you can just bet he'll hold over your head.

MRS. O. A. REEVES ENTERTAINS GROUP FETING MISS HOLMES

FAIRMONT, July 31.—Mrs. O. A. Reeves of Greensboro and Fairmont, entertained at a lovely dessert bridge at the Fairmont hotel, Tuesday afternoon with guests sufficient for nine tables, honoring Miss Peggy Holmes, bride-elect of August 23.

A dessert course was served followed by four progressions. Prizes went to Mrs. T. R. Butterworth and Mrs. P. R. Floyd, Jr. Miss Holmes and Mrs. David Britt, recent bride, were presented gifts.

MISS MALLARD BRIDE OF JOHN H. McINNIS
GOLDSBORO, July 31.—Miss Eula Mae Mallard of Goldsboro, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Robert Whitfield Mallard of Pollockville, and John H. McInnis of Wilmington, son of Mrs. Gladys McInnis of Wilmington, were married July 18 at the home of the bride's parents in Pollockville.

The ceremony was performed at 5 o'clock in the afternoon with the Rev. R. N. Hinnant officiating. The couple stood in front of an improvised altar formed by baskets of white gladioli and candelabra. The bride wore a dusty pink chiffon made redingote style. Her accessories were brown and white and her flowers were orchids.

Mrs. McInnis is a graduate of the James Walker Memorial School of Nursing and did post graduate work in public health nursing at the Richmond branch of William and Mary college. She is now a public health nurse with the Wayne county health department.

Mr. McInnis is with the postoffice in Wilmington. Immediately after the ceremony the couple left for a trip through the western part of this state and from there went to Washington, D. C.

94th Regiment Feted At Dance By Local Group

Members of the 94th C. A. regiment and about 70 Wilmington girls were honored last evening at a regimental dance given at the Service club at Camp Davis. The club was attractively decorated in patriotic colors and music for dancing was furnished by the regimental band. The local girls, dressed in pretty summer frocks, met at the Woodrow Wilson Hut in Wilmington where an Army convoy took them to the camp.

This affair was staged under the sponsorship of the Wilmington Committee on Defense Recreation. Members of the committee and chaperones attending were: Mrs. Julian Morton, Mrs. Rinaldo B. Page, Mrs. E. L. White, Mrs. Herbert Cave, Mrs. R. D. Cronly, Mrs. Herbert Brand, Mrs. James B. Crawford, Mrs. George Lynch, Mrs. Thomas J. Kidd, Jr., Mrs. Marsden Bellamy, Jr., and Miss Betty Divine.

Don't say you weren't warned if you ignore this advice and your husband joins a new club—a club you can just bet he'll hold over your head.
