NO POST SEASON GAMES PLAYED

Graduation Of Seniors In December And Heavy Schedule Ends Hopes

ANNAPOLIS, Md., Nov. 13. (P) — Rear-Admiral Russell Willson, Naval academy superintendent, said today that due to the academy's stepped-up schedule, it "will not consider any post season football game" for its once-beaten, once-tied eleven.

Recently, Navy turned down an invitation to participate in a post-season contest with a west coast service team. Then Senator Connally (D-Tex.) suggested that a Cotton Bowl game at Dallas, Tex., be arranged between Navy and Texas and the University of Texas or Texas A. and M.

Admiral Willson said today: "Due to the graduation of the first (senior) class in December, and the heavy schedule of the other midshipmen involved in the three year course, the Naval academy will not consider any postseason football game."

PRO GOLFERS GET PRIZE INCREASE

CHICAGO, Nov. 13. (P) — The Professional Golfers association today increased the prize money in its annual championship from $5,000 to $14,200, making it the world's richest event—both for match and medal play.

First play money was boosted from $1,100 to $5,000.

Second place finishers will collect $2,000 instead of $600. Semi-final losers will get $1,000 each, quarter final losers $500 each, second round losers $200 each and first round losers $100 each. In the past, all contestants received mileage. In the future only those qualifying for match will be paid mileage.

The delegates also cut the qualifying list from 64 to 32 places. In addition, all match play will be 36 holes instead of 18 and 36, two rounds of 18 holes the first two days will be the qualifying setup.

Navy Takes Over 10,000 Acres For Atlantic Base

SAN JUAN, Puerto Rico, Nov. 13. (P) — The Navy took possession today of 10,000 acres of land to be used as short facilities for a fleet anchorage at Vieques, a United States-owned island just east of Puerto Rico, which is reported to be intended as the largest defense development in the Caribbean and the South Atlantic.

A declaration of taking was filed in Federal District court with a check for $403,000 in payment.

JOSIE'S PAL WINS ROCKINGHAM RACE

SALEM, N. H., Nov. 13. (P) — C. J. Amendola's Josie's Pal became the winner of the featured race of an all-claiming card at Rockingham Park today through the disqualification of Eddie Haughton's Holl Image, which crossed the wire first.

A foul was claimed by Jockey Teddy Atkinson who charged French Trap which he was riding, was cut off by Holl Image as the field drove into the stretch.

The revised finish gave French trap second and Mrs. Willie Robinson's County Cork third. The time for the mile and a sixteenth was 1:47 with Josie's Pal paying $6.80 for $2 to win in the mutuels.

Kiwanis Wives Feted At Annual Fun-Fest

With Maj.-Gen. Frederic H. Smith, commanding general at Camp Davis, as honored guest, Kiwanis of Wilmington and their wives forgot the turmoil of the world and enjoyed an evening of fun as the Kiwanis club held its annual Ladies night Thursday.

Following two hours of fun, from magic to singing, General Smith spoke briefly, saying that although the emergency had been disruptive to many communities, it had done him a great favor by bringing him to Wilmington.

He refused to speak on any serious matter and his speech followed the general trend of the evening—fun.

With Toastmaster W. R. Doaher keeping everything running smoothly, Maj. Bob Cowan pulling

Jacobs Surprises Cronies With Charity Enthusiasm

By GAYLE TALBOT

NEW YORK, Nov. 13. (P) — Close associates of Mike Jacobs, the fight promoter, never thought they would see the day when Mike would become enthusiastic about charity, but they were shaking their heads today and admitting that the old ticket broker had it bad.

As Mike bounced happily about his office and discussed the record-breaking possibilities of the heavyweight title fight he is putting on between Joe Louis and Buddy Baer here Jan. 9 for the benefit of navy relief, the wonderment grew for Mike was shattering one of the cardinal rules of his organization.

Not once did he even mention the fact that he has Gus Lesnevich and Tami Muriello meeting for the 175-pound crown tomorrow night in the Garden. It figures to be quite a scrap, too. And yet Mike has been known to border on hysteria if one of his employees thoughtlessly mentioned a contest other than the next one on the Jacobs' calendar.

"I've got to get together with the admiral to work out things and then I'll tell him how much the navy figures to make."

(The reference was to Rear Adm. Adolphus Andrews, U.S.N., president of the Navy Relief Society and nominal promoter of the affair.)

"I'm not taking a cent, y'understand, except maybe for a little extra clerical help we might have to put on. I'm donating the services of myself and my organization."

"And what do you think of that Louis? He's really giving something, and he and his managers are happy as birds about it. All he'll take is training exercise. Baer's going to take a little, but it ain't much. Their other fight down at Washington draw $98,000 at only $16.50 tops, so you can figure what this one's going to do when we get through with those tickets."

250,000 Now Employed In American Shipyards

NEW YORK, Nov. 13. (P) — Private American shipyards now are employing 250,000 workers as compared with 65,000 at the start of the defense program, the National Council of American Shipbuilders reported today.

A survey by the Council, which represents 80 per cent of the privately owned plants in the country, also showed that 48 more yards had begun building ships to bring the total to 85.

Some of the animals that lived at the time of the Neanderthal man were mammoths, rhinoceros, bison and bear.

Deacs Imitate Blalock In Realistic Drills For Clemson Fray

WAKE FOREST, Nov. 13. (P) — Football practice became realistic today in the Wake Forest camp.

He came up with Russ Perry, who played the part of Blalock in a long dummy scrimmage against the Tiger air offensive.

WOODS AND WATER

SOUTHPORT, Nov. 13. — The eyes of all wild animals, and also many of the domestic, reflect from automobile headlights and other glaring lights. In this part of the state the motorist cannot drive even a few miles along the highways at night without seeing the reflection from the eyes of some small animal. Frequently the reflection is that from the eyes of a fox, opossum or coon. Twice more often it comes from a predatory cat that is prowling around in search of birds and vermin for food. These prowling cats that are seen by the side of the road are the greatest enemies that quail and other small game birds have.

The fox, the coon and the mink get very few quail, the prowling cat gets more than all three combined. At the risk of bringing the wrath of woman readers down on our head, we still would like to advise the sportsman to shoot every cat that he finds prowling in the woods.

Come to think of it, a lot of men and women who class themselves as sportsmen or sportswomen are guilty, along with the rank and file of mankind, in the matter of contributing to the destruction of game birds. The family has a pet tabby and in due time tabby presents the family with a large litter of kittens that nobody wants. It is considered cruel to drown or otherwise dispose of the offspring of the house cat. The most merciful (?) way of getting rid of the unwanted is to place them in a sack, drive out to the country and leave them by the side of the road to starve or die.

As the case may be. Most of the kittens thus disposed of do starve, those that survive do so at the cost of the life of many an innocent song or game bird. We think it much more merciful all around to drown or kill the unwanted kittens in some way. At the same time, since its death may save the life of hundreds of birds, we are inclined to applaud whenever we hear of a sportsman drawing down on a cat that he found prowling in the woods.

A couple of years ago we wrote something to the papers along the above lines, and about 40 women promptly lit into us, calling us by all the names that would define us as having cruel and inhuman feelings. They used a great deal of postage, in fact they absolutely wasted their postage. Our views regarding the predatory cat remained the same and they still do. Shoot him or her when you find them prowling in the woods and you will be the benefactor of game and song birds.

And if you run over one with your car, as the feline prowls along the road at night, don't stop to feel sorry for it. Your wheels will have done a good turn.

We are being promised something interesting the latter part of this month in the way of fox hunting. Fox hunters from Johnson City, Tenn., Taylorsville, Concord and other points are expected to come in with their great pack of hounds for the usual two weeks or ten days of running the swamp grays. The sport has its attractions to people of all ages. We recall one instance last winter when a Wilmington girl, in the beginning of the 'teen age, slipped down here with her father before daylight and walked around for hours in the frosty air of morning, listening to the music of the hounds. 1

N. Y. Police Probe Death Of Ex-N. C. Social Worker

NEW YORK, Nov. 13. (P) — Police investigated the death today of Miss Raeford Iris Hatcher, 35-year-old social worker, formerly of Hampton, N. C., whose body was found at noon on the floor of her hotel room.

An autopsy was performed by a city medical examiner to determine the cause of death, after police said they learned Miss Hatcher had consulted a doctor yesterday in a depressed condition.

A sealed note, addressed to the medical examiner, was found on a table in her room.

New Canadian Arrivals Land At British Port

A BRITISH PORT, Nov. 13. (P) — Hundreds of additional Canadian flyers and soldiers arrived in Britain tonight.

Officials described the group as the largest sent from Canada under the Commonwealth air training program. In addition to Canadians, it included Australians, New Zealanders and Britons trained in Canada.

The transport was a former passenger-liner which has made dozens of previous trips with troops for the United Kingdom.

RUGGED GRIDIRON HEROES PAMPERED ON ROAD JOURNEYS

Two-Fisted He-Men Given Care Of An Infant When Game Is In Offing

MINNEAPOLIS, Nov. 13. — (The Special News Service) — Out there on the football field defending national and Big Ten titles, those big two-fisted, he-man Minnesota players fight their own battles and take care of themselves generally in a rugged, give-and-take sport. But off the field, particularly on a trip, do they ever get pampered? You would think they were mere infants.

Well, to begin with trainers, equipment men and even dieticians, if you please, undertake preparations two weeks before the takeoff. The trainers have to fix up a railway baggage car as a training room, with diathermy machines, heat lamps, rubdown tables and bandaging facilities.

The idea is that Whizzer Whosit must get the same prompt attention when he gets bumped or bruised on the road as he does when he is at home. The equipment man—in the case of Minnesota, a virtual celebrity since he is Oscar Munson who started the Little Brown Jug trophy feud by retrieving the Minnesota water bottle from the Michigan dressing room a quarter century ago—must have plenty of room and plenty of help.

Each of the 36 players must have three pairs of shoes, two pairs of pants, two jerseys and other pigskin finery. One pair of grid shoes must have short cleats for fast fields or dry turf and another must have long cleats for soft ground. Then there must be a pair of tennis shoes for indoor drill.

The business of eating is more complicated. Dr. George Hauser, line coach and team physician, is in charge of the diet.

No mother ever arranged her child's menu with greater care. Before and after the game all food must be broiled but there is where some real poundage comes in—usually no limit on the size of the steaks and no limit on the number a player may eat, within reason.

And there are other details of arrangement like getting several boxes of apples aboard for the boys to munch as well as oranges for half-time consumption, and loaf sugar to be eaten at the same time to restore energy.

Also, the team takes along 4 gallons of water from home so the boys get the kind they're used to drinking.

Yes, mother's little boy, big as he may be in a football suit, is a carefully coddled chap away from home.

Defense Effort Seen As Race Against Time

MIAMI, Fla., Nov. 13. (P) — William H. Harrison, director of production for the OPM, today described the United States defense effort as a "race against time."

Addressing the National Rivers and Harbors Congress, Harrison asserted that while naval and merchant marine production is developing satisfactory, "anti-aircraft, anti-tank guns, field artillery and TNT, are not up to needs."

Harrison listed some other armament as ahead of schedule, but warned Americans to "make the most of days that are so precious."

Gamecocks Seek Clinch Of South Carolina Grid Championship

COLUMBIA, S. C., Nov. 13. — The University of South Carolina football team will seek to clinch the Palmetto state title, and also preserve its undefeated Southern conference record, when it plays a rejuvenated Furman eleven at homecoming here Saturday at 2 o'clock.

The Gamecocks have lost this season only to Georgia of the Southeastern conference, and Kansas State college of the Big Six, while a tie has occurred with Wake Forest.

Carolina will be without the services of its star fullback, Ken Roskie, who fractured an arm on a punt return against Kansas State last week, but Harvey Blouin, a great halfback, has checked off the ailing list and will bolster the squad.

HOYAS EXPECTED TO TAKE WOLVES

Member Of Georgetown's Super 1940 Squad Gives Edge To Former Mates

Although Georgetown doesn't have another bowl prospect, it probably carries enough punch to give North Carolina State an awful hangover this Sunday.

Of course, that opinion may be prejudiced, for it comes from Wilfred Willetts, a back on last year's super-colossal Georgetown squad, and now a member of the 96th Coast Artillery regiment here. (Willets was a basketball and a baseball star to boot; the Giants and Cards were dicker for him while he was still in high school.) Willy says the Hoyas' hot and cold 1941 season is due to a bad case of overconfidence.
