WAR BOND DRIVE STARTS MONDAY

Monday morning, Mrs. Wayne Spencer, chairman of the campaign, said Saturday.

Its goal will be a voluntary pledge by every citizen here to devote a set amount of his earnings to the purchase of war savings bonds.

A quota of $185,700 in war bond purchases for the month of May has been set for the county by Secretary of the Treasury Henry Morgenthau, Jr.

The May quota is an increase of $50,000 over the average monthly sale of bonds here from last July through January.

Rabbi M. M. Thurman will introduce the campaign with an address over Radio Station WMFD at 10:30 o'clock this morning.

Mrs. Spencer said that the city had been divided into 18 zones with one organization responsible for the canvass of each zone. Headquarters for the drive have been set up at 7 North Front street.

"The women of Wilmington have a big job to do and, being accustomed to big jobs, they will put this one over successfully," Mrs. Spencer declared at a meeting of canvassers held in the Sorosis building Friday.

"A war cannot be waged without money and it is up to each canvasser to see that every citizen has an opportunity to do his part."

In outlining the duties of the canvassers, Richard Rogers explained the importance of a thorough drive to give the Treasury department an accurate estimate of the amount of funds that can be expected from bond sales during the remainder of the year.

Mrs. Spencer made public the following telegram, received from the secretary of the treasury by C. H. Robertson, state administrator of the war savings staff:

"The whole country will be watching our quota drive in May. It is the first big chance for the war savings committee, with a tangible objective, to show their mettle. Fulfillment of our May quota, will not only stiffen the morale of the workers engaged in our own important task but will give courage to all other phases of the war effort. Please convey this message to your key city and county chairmen and after consultation with them, write me direct if we can count on your state for this accomplishment in May."

Henry Morgenthau, Jr.

The 18 zones for the drive and the organization in charge of each are as follows:

Zone 1, Cornelius Harnett school; Zone 2, Daughters of American Revolution; Zone 3, Hemenway school; Zone 4, Lions auxiliary; Zone 5, Catholic daughters; Zone 6, United Daughters of the Confederacy; Zone 7, Eastern Star; Zone 8, Isaac Bear school; Zone 9, Tilston school; Zone 10, William Hooper school; Zone 11, Sunset Park school; Zone 12, Sorosis; Zone 13, American Legion auxiliary; Zone 14, Washington Cattet; Zone 15, Forest Hills school; Zone 16, Hadassah; Zone 17, High school; Zone 18, Oleander.

Workers in the drive are: Mrs. Julian Morton, Mrs. James B. Hines, Mrs. J. Holmes Davis, Jr., Mrs. Oliver Huttof, Mrs. L. P. Campbell, Mrs. J. O. Broughton, Mrs. Bruce Yandle, Mrs. G. L. Richardson, Mrs. A. K. Hutto, Mrs. W. A. McGirt, Mrs. T. J. Potts, Mrs. James L. Duffy, Miss Hazel Knight, Miss Emma Woodward, Mrs. R. P. McClammy, Mrs. James H. Smith, Mrs. F. M. Griffith, Mrs. R.
