CAP Anticipates Start Of Target Towing Soon

For the first time in the history of the armed forces, aerial targets have been towed by civilian planes and fired upon by army gunners.

The first target towing flights were handled by the Illinois Wing of the Civil Air Patrol, but according to local CAP officials, it is possible that this practice may be started here in the future. This function of the CAP is vital to national defense, since it releases army and navy plane for military duty of other types.

Under conditions of mock warfare, the CAP airplanes not only will perform patrol, scouting and escorting duty with the ground troops, but during the course of the maneuvers will carry out simulated dives and straffing operations so as to give the troops practice maneuvers in deploying.

The local wing of the CAP is vitally interested in securing new members for the organization and interested parties are requested to contact Warren Pennington, executive officer. 4

NEWS IN THE WORLD OF RELIGION

BY W. W. REID

"Our nation not only needs armed forces and defense workers, but it must also have trained Christian leaders capable of restoring order in a wrecked world," says Dr. John O. Gross of the Board of Education of the Methodist church, in a plea that youth be made to understand that preparing themselves for leadership in the future nation is a patriotic duty. "It would be unfortunate for the nation and church if youth with high aptitudes for scholarship and spiritual leadership cannot complete plans to attend college. It is these years of college that lay the foundation for the later achievements in the arts, the humanities, and the sciences."

PEACE STUDIES
At Princeton seminary, at Western seminary in Pittsburgh, at the Presbyterian seminary in Chicago, and within the synods of Ohio, Illinois and Michigan, the Presbyterian church in the U.S.A. is holding a series of studies on the Christian bases for a peace that will be effective and for postwar reconstruction. The studies will be conducted under the auspices of the denomination's department of Social Education and Action of which the Rev. Cameron P. Hall is chairman. It is planned later to take such studies to the campuses of Presbyterian colleges and universities throughout the country.

FELLOWSHIPS FORMED
According to the Rev. William Paton, of London, Eng., secretary of the World Council of Churches and of the British Council of Churches, now on a visit to the United States, a group of "Christian fellowships" have been formed in London between British European countries now residing in England. These include the British-Russian Christian Fellowship, and Anglo-Scandinavian, Anglo-Norwegian, Anglo-French, Anglo-Netherlands, and Anglo-German church leaders and refugees from Christian Fellowships; and then there is a joint fellowship including representatives of all the above groups. Dr. Paton says these fellowships are contributing much to international Christian understanding and will have considerable influence on post-war peace and post-war church activities.

'Indirect' Control Of Wages, Prices Forecast

ATLANTA, May 2.—(AP)—Dr. C. T. Murchison, president of the Cotton Textile Institute, predicted today that government control of wages and agricultural prices would be accomplished "indirectly" through existing agencies, rather than by Congressional action.

Addressing the closing session of the American Cotton Manufacturers' association, Dr. Murchison said he believed only "spectacular developments" could bring definite statutory action, but added:

"The same results will be obtained by indirect methods—through the Commodity Credit corporation, for example, the War Production board, and the Office of Price Administration."
